PASTORAL REFLECTION

There are three assemblies that listen to the Word of God today.

The first assembly was 2,480 years ago. Ezra in our first reading reads from the scroll of the Law, the Torah, and expounds on its application to the people of Israel who have returned to Jerusalem from exile in Babylon. He called them to be faithful to the law of God.

The second assembly was about 2,000 years ago. Another crowd of Israelites listened to a young rabbi who had come back home and who was not reading from the Torah but from the scroll of the prophet Isaiah. Luke tells us that it was the custom of Jesus to participate in the synagogue services on the Sabbath. This is what he was doing in our Gospel reading for the Third Sunday in Ordinary Time.

The passage that he chose to read from Isaiah speaks of the Servant of the Lord who is chosen to bring strength and encouragement to his people in their difficulties. The servant is described as filled with the Spirit of the Lord and as "anointed." In Jewish tradition, kings and priests were anointed with oil when they entered into their offices.

For years the people were waiting for the coming of the great King, "the Anointed One" or Messiah. In the Greek, this person was called "the Christ."

The people saw the Messiah as the great warrior king who would overthrow their oppressors, the Romans, established independence for Israel, and begin an unending earthly kingdom blessed by God. But Isaiah in the passage Jesus read has a much more radical/spiritual image of the Anointed One. This servant of the Lord is anointed by the Spirit to preach good news to the poor, liberty to captives, sight to the blind, freedom to the oppressed. In other words, the Anointed One is to be a servant of those in bondage.

So this assembly in the synagogue that Sabbath was anxious to hear how this young rabbi would explain this passage. His homily was short, a lot shorter than my homilies are. He just said, "Today this Scripture passage is fulfilled in your hearing." In other words, he told them he was the Anointed One, the Messiah, they had been waiting for. He applied the passage reading to his own life and ministry.

In doing that, Jesus gave us a powerful insight into his own understanding of his mission as the Christ, the Anointed One. All that Jesus did from this time on until his Ascension was simply living out the words of his first homily. It was the practical application of his vocation as the Anointed One, the Messiah, the Christ.

Welcome to all those who celebrate with us, whether life long parishioners, new arrivals in the area, or visitors! If you have not registered, or if you have moved, please complete this form and drop it in the collection basket or bring it to the parish office.

PASTORAL MESSAGE

Next weekend we begin Catholic Schools Week. We give thanks to everyone who supports the work of St Mary's Catholic School. We thank our principal, teachers, school staff, and administrative staff for their dedication to our school. Hopefully you will join us for our celebrations planned for January 30th and February 5th.

The Knights of Columbus Council 2000 has been a part of our Area Faith Community parishes for many, many years. We have 148 members in our local KC Council: 60 of our members are honorary life members. (Members who have attained the actual age of 70 years and who have been members of the Order for 25 consecutive years, and those who have been members of the Order for 50 consecutive years, regardless of age, are designated as honorary life members.) Please pray for our local KC Council 2000 as we give thanks to the many years of service and dedication these Knights of Columbus members have contributed to the good of our churches. To all of our KC members, I ask that you prayerfully consider taking on a leadership position within our council. Currently we do not have anyone who has stepped up to fill our leadership positions. If you are willing to help, please contact me to discuss how you can help.

Fr Joseph Steibeisser

Today we hear the same words and seek to apply them to our lives. The ministry of Jesus, the work he was sent to do from the Father, is a ministry of serving; and we, as followers of Jesus, are called to serve people in Jesus' name.

Of course, it would be easy for us to sit back and say this is the work for the Church; let the Church do it. But St. Paul in our second reading today reminds us that we are part of the Body of Christ, the Church. And all of us have different roles, different gifts, different functions as members of the Body of Christ.

Does Jesus have eyes today to see the homeless, the hungry, the marginalized in our midst? Yes, our eyes. Does Jesus have feet today to visit the health care residents, the sick, the home bound in our midst? Yes, our feet. Does Jesus have hands today to help the disabled, the unemployed, the immigrant in our midst? Yes, our hands. Does Jesus have ears today to listen to the lonely, the child, the troubled person in our midst? Yes, our ears. Does Jesus have a voice today to defend the poor, the unborn child, the stranger in our midst? Yes, our voice.

Our words and deeds are to be Jesus' spirit and life for all in need today. This is how his mission is fulfilled today in our world. This is how a year acceptable to the Lord becomes a hopeful today in our lives and in the lives we touch.

On Saturday, January 22, we observed the 49th anniversary of the Supreme Court Decision Roe v. Wade that allowed abortion for any reason to be the law in our land. A law that goes against the guiding principles of our country found in the Declaration of Independence. A document that states that "we hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men (read all people) are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness." Let us pray that one day the unborn child's right to life will be protected in our country.

Have a good week.

Fr. George Schmit
