The Twenty Fourth Sunday In Ordinary Time September 13, 2020

Good People of Good Counsel,

At the end of August, we wished farewell our Choir Director, Brian Dykstra, as he and Samantha relocated out of state. In recent years, our parish music has been supported by two part time positions: a choir director and an organist.

As our parish continues to see growth, and after a good deal of reflection, I have decided that moving forward it will be best for our parish to have a full-time Director of Sacred Music who is also our principal organist.

This is very exciting news as the full-time position will not only be able to develop music at our Masses but will also be able to dedicate more time during the week to teaching. In particular, I am interested in being able to provide for the youth of our parish the opportunity to grow up in an environment where they are able to learn and appreciate sacred music.

I have spoken about this new position with our current organist, Mackenzie Reed, and I am hopeful that she will be among those who will apply for the position of Director of Sacred Music. Mackenzie is an extremely talented organist and has been a joy to work with in recent years.

We will post a link to the job description on our website and Facebook page: please share it with anyone that you believe might be a qualified candidate. We will also be advertising the position in several places like the American Choral Directors Association, Church Music Association of America, the American Guild of Organists, and with a few select universities known for their sacred music programs. Please pray that we are able to find someone who will serve our parish well while offering glory to God through the gift of beautiful music.

On Monday of this week, at 6:00pm, Fr. Mattingly will be offering a special Mass in the Extraordinary Form. After that Mass, we will begin a new round of RCIA classes. Be sure to invite anyone you think might want to attend.

On the 3rd Thursday's of each week, we also host a gathering at the parish for any young men who are discerning the priesthood. Please reach out to me if you would like to attend, or if you know someone who might benefit from attending a discernment small group.

On Friday and Saturday (September 17th and 18th) we will be hosting recollections in the parish church. The recollection on Friday night is for men, and Saturday morning after the 9am Mass the recollection is for women. Everyone is welcome to attend one of these.

In Christ and Mary,
Fr. Johnson
