Welcome home! We are so glad you are a part of the Our Lady of Good Counsel Community!

Hello my Friends,

My name is Mark Famuliner, I am a seminarian in third Theology studying to be a priest for our diocese. I am really excited to be sharing life with all of you this summer at Our Lady of Good Counsel. I was raised on a family farm outside of Carrollton, MO. As much as I enjoyed working on the farm, it never felt like what I was called to do in life. I went to the University of Missouri – Columbia (M-I-Z!) and graduated with degrees in Agribusiness Management (think “business with cowboy boots”) and Plant Sciences. I had internships with various agriculture companies and was offered a management position for a firm in 2015. It was during that time I felt the Lord inviting me to pursue priesthood. I turned down the job offer, entered formation for the Diocese, and was sent to Conception Seminary for philosophy studies.

After about one and a half years at Conception I walked away from seminary formation. The call to priesthood never left, but Jesus had healing work to do in my life and was inviting me on an adventure of discipleship. Having left Conception Abby, I then did a variety of ministries, most notably working as a volunteer jail/prison chaplain in Mobile, AL. I worked weekdays at a county jail of 1100 incarcerated individuals and on weekends would work on death row at the state prison. It was during my time in prison (working, not living) I felt God was calling me towards spiritual fatherhood, Catholic priesthood, and to return to the KCSJ Diocese. I returned in the fall of 2018 and have been studying at the Athenaeum located in Cincinnati, Ohio.

In my free time I enjoy drinking coffee, exercising, playing guitar, listening to and playing classic country music, and having an occasional cigar in the evening. As we journey together this summer, I look forward to meeting you all and being part of your parish family.

In Gratitude,
Mark Famuliner
