Hi everyone!

Mark Sappington here. I have the opportunity to write the column this week! What could I possibly say that would be of spiritual value or benefit? Just two things came to my heart. Friendship and Courage.

New Faces: As more and more people come to Our Lady of Good Counsel for the first, second, or third time, I'm reminded of the need for us to look out for those who seem new and to welcome them. The liturgical differences here can present an opportunity for to extend a little welcome. Here's a little quip that I've come up with over the past couple of years. I bet I say some derivative of the statement below a couple times every week. Feel free to use it, make it your own, whatever works for you!

"Hi! Welcome to Good Counsel. Have you been here before? No? NICE! Okay, you might notice a couple of different things, we have some chant, some of the Mass is in Latin, there's a lot of incense, there's a small army of altar boys and the priest faces the altar. Hymn numbers are on the board and there's a little Latin Mass Chant trifold in your pew. We also pray a little devotion called, "The Chaplet of Divine Mercy" after Mass. It takes about 6-7 minutes. You're welcome to stay for that if you like! Anyhow, let me know if you have any questions! Good to have you!"

Super simple, and it helps to knock down barriers for someone who feels like a fish out of water walking in here. (If you're new and reading the bulletin, good to have you!)

Don't be shy! Be courageous! People are grateful to be seen and welcomed. A handshake and a smile are worth a million dollars when you're new to a city and trying to find your way.

I want to encourage everyone out there to be light in the midst of the darkness! There's a ton to be hopeful for—I see it every Sunday with you, your children, families. I'm privileged to work here at OLGK. I want to be a saint and I hope every one of you do too!! I see others helping each other grow in holiness and it fires me up.

Please keep me in your prayers and if I can do anything for you, your family, or you have any questions, ESPECIALLY about evangelization or apostolic stuff, give me a shout! sappington@olgckc.org or 816-876-8229

In Christ,
Mark Sappington

PS—Fr. Johnson is not feeling well and will likely not be celebrating masses publicly this weekend. Please keep him in your prayers. Fr. Mattingly will continue to take care of sacramental needs this week. Thank you also to Fr. Carlito who has been filling in for many masses lately.

As a reminder, we have acquired some additional parking! Please feel free to utilize the lot on the corner of 40th and Washington (behind the new building, next to the condos). We have created an opening in the fence to allow easy access between the lots.
