Ascension to Glory

In many dioceses, today is celebrated as the Solemnity of the Ascension of the Lord. This solemnity celebrates the last appearance of Jesus to the disciples after the Resurrection. All of the Synoptic Gospels (Matthew, Mark, and Luke) recount that Jesus summoned the disciples before his Ascension. From there he commissioned them to go out into the world to preach, to teach, to spread the Gospel, and to baptize. Luke's Gospel, which we hear today, includes a reference to the coming Spirit who will assist them in this mission.

In a way, the Ascension of Jesus to the right hand of the Father is only part of what we honor and commemorate today. The other part of this day is found in the great commission of Christ to his disciples. In their commission, we find ours as well. As the Church, the Body of Christ here on earth, we too are sent by the risen, ascended King! We too are to go out and to lead others to Christ. In this great Christian mission we find our inheritance, as the Opening Prayer for today's liturgy reminds us: In following Christ we are led into the new creation that will be fully established when he returns in glory at the end of time. At that time, as his followers, we too will be glorified with him. Eleven weeks ago, on the Second Sunday of Lent, we heard the account of the Transfiguration of the Lord-in which we see our future transformation promised to those who follow Christ. Today, in the Ascension we see a similar promised future as those who have baptized into the death and Resurrection of Christ: to sit with him at the end of time in the great kingdom of God. For this, as we pray today, is our glory and our hope.-

A Blare of Trumpets

Today is The Ascension of the Lord, and we sing for the responsorial psalm, Psalm 47:

*God mounts his throne to shouts of joy:
a blare of trumpets for the Lord*

My grandfather and great-uncle were veterans of World War II, my father served in the Army, and my uncle and father-in-law are veterans of the Vietnam War. I am proud to be related to these brave men who served our country during some of the darkest times in our country's history. But as I ponder their commitment and service, I am reminded of my junior year in high school and my Western Civilization class. I can easily put myself back in my assigned seat and recall lesson after lesson about the growth of western civilization and its influence on the human race and culture, particularly in religion, the arts, expansion, and war. Looking back, there were many presentations and discussions about war. It seems to me that the world has always been in conflict, and when I apply my Catholic worldview, it seems clear we have been in turmoil since The Fall. That statement may be sobering and even depressing, but then my mind immediately recalls the first time I heard the University of Notre Dame Trumpets Under the Dome. This gameday tradition gathers spectators – some even from the opposing team – under the Dome to hear the trumpets play the Fighting Irish Fight Song before every game. Looking upwards, the trumpets blare, and the sound and spectacle is truly marvelous! We march out to the stadium confident our team will be victorious! And that is what today's psalm declares: God has already won, and Jesus mounted his throne to shouts of joy: a blare of trumpets for the Lord! So, in the words of Fr. John Riccardo, "Do not be afraid. God is with you, and you were born for this." And to our veterans, thank you for your service to our nation. May God bless you.

— God Laughs —

A group of managers were given the assignment to measure the height of a flagpole. So they go out to the flagpole with ladders and tape measures, and they're falling off the ladders, dropping the tape measures—the whole thing is just a mess. An engineer comes along and sees what they're trying to do, walks over, pulls the flagpole out of the ground, lays it flat, measures it from end to end, gives the measurement to one of the managers and walks away. After the engineer has gone, one manager turns to another and laughs. "Isn't that just like an engineer, we're looking for the height and he gives us the length."
