For several weeks, I have been writing about rediscovering the sacred. The topic that probably caught most of your attention was a possible renovation of the church. During this time, I have been meeting with small groups from the parish to get their feedback on a proposed design. I did that because I wanted to get some perspective and questions from parishioners. Some of the questions that I have received are:

- Why should we do this?
- What's wrong with the current design of our church?
- Knowing the struggles the parish has faced with finances, is now the best time?
- Wouldn't it be better to spend this money on the poor?
- How does this affect the desire to build a new school?
- Do we really want to go into debt again?
- Is the Archbishop forcing us to do this?
- Are we going back to pre-Vatican II times?

It has been fruitful to hear these questions because it allows me to address all these issues when I present the proposed design to all of you. Below are three dates where you will have an opportunity to hear more about this. These meetings will take place in Mother Seton Hall.

- Tuesday, May 10, at 6:30 p.m.
- Wednesday, May 11, after morning Mass at 8:40 a.m.
- Saturday, May 21, at 9:00 a.m.

As we gather, it is my hope that we would be respectful of all opinions. We can disagree and remain kind and courteous in our discussions. I have heard that some have already made up their mind even before hearing any details. This is still a proposal. Together, let us pray that the Holy Spirit will guide any decisions to be made.

mission of bringing the Good News of Jesus and the Resurrection to the Gentiles (which includes anyone who isn't Jewish, regardless of nationality). It's early in his post-conversion life, in fact it's his first preaching assignment. The disciples have accepted him as one of their own, and it seems the Holy Spirit has destined him to travel with Barnabas to a small Roman town with a significant Jewish population, Antioch of Pisidia. Once in town, they immediately head to where folks gather: the Synagogue. Here, the law and prophets are read, and the synagogue officials, noting the presence of the very intelligent and well-respected Pharisee named Saul, ask him "for a word of exhortation."

Oh boy. Saul-now-Paul gives them an exhortation they are not expecting: An Old-Testament-laden sermon about how Jesus fulfills the prophecies of a Messiah! Yikes! We skip over this sermon in today's reading, and fall headlong into the drama. Immediately after this service, the leading Jews tell Paul and Barnabas to "remain faithful to the grace of God." As in, stop this nonsense about Jesus. But word gets around. People talk. You can imagine the whispered conversations, yes?

The following Sabbath, everyone, almost the entire city, gathers to hear Paul and Barnabas speak about Jesus. And the Jewish rabbis are not happy, not happy at all. They speak with the "violent abuse" of jealousy and rage against our heroes. But the Gentiles are delighted, for they felt like they finally belonged to a community where everyone is treated as equals. Which infuriate the rabbis further (hierarchy, anyone?), so they recruit the leading Jewish women and secular men of the community to have Paul and Barnabas expelled from town, for they've upended the social order. The last-shall-be-first and love-thy-neighbor-as-thyself. Speak gently and judge not. Defend dignity and morality. Sins-forgiven not sacrifice-for-sin.

Whew. But that's what following Jesus means. To be "filled with joy and the Holy Spirit," when persecuted for talking about Jesus or upending the social order. #belikePaul

Beginning the week of May 9, road work will take place on 15th Street between General

Sieben Drive and the dirt road just past the new rectory. This will affect both SEAS parking lot entrances on 15th Street. The church entrance off General Sieben Drive will not be affected.

Crews will remove and replace manholes, catch basins, curbs, gutters, ramps and sidewalk ramps.

Please be mindful of the construction workers and exercise caution by driving slowly. The project should be substantially complete by mid June. The City of Hastings appreciates your patience during this season of construction.

Have you heard? SEAS has a Faith Formation program for preschoolers. Bring your little ones to an open house and see how it works!

SEE A DEMONSTRATION AFTER BOTH SUNDAY MASSES ON MAY 22.

Come and see what our SEAS Preschool Faith Formation program is all about! We will give a demonstration during two upcoming open house sessions on Sunday, May 22, so please bring your little ones!

Preschool Faith Formation takes place in the Atrium, a quiet place of prayer and contemplation. We use a child-centered method of formation which involves hands-on activity and work to discover the mystery of God.

Everything we do and learn in the Atrium points to Jesus, prayer and the Liturgy. Sessions begin in the fall. Contact Jill Skaife with questions at 651-437-4254 x225 or email jskaife@seasparish.org. We hope to see you on May 22 at 9 a.m. or 11 a.m.
