PRAYER & WORSHIP

Weekly Word from the Rock:

Respecting God's Judgment

In the April 2007 edition of the St. Anthony Messenger on page 54, Father Pat McCloskey takes on the following question:

Question: In Matthew 26:24, Jesus says, "The Son of Man indeed goes, as it is written of him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed. It would be better for that man if he had never been born." In John 13:27 we read, "After he [Judas Iscariot] took the morsel, Satan entered him. So Jesus said to him, 'What you are going to do, do quickly.'" From preachers and others, I have heard different views as to whether Judas is definitely in hell or perhaps was forgiven. Is there biblical justification for one opinion or the other?

Answer: In some ways, this might seem the easiest judgment of all to make. Judas betrayed Jesus, our savior, leading to his passion, death and resurrection. Judas obviously made a terrible decision.

Although we need to be clear about the objective content of any decision (for example, the unlawful taking of innocent human life is murder), it is another thing to say that we know all the factors relevant to that decision and can, therefore, pass God's judgment as accurately as God can.

God's judgment must always remain God's judgment. We try to grow toward seeing things as God sees them, but if we cannot be sure that we see our own actions as completely as God does (and we cannot be 100-percent sure of that), then we cannot be absolutely certain that we see someone else's actions as clearly and accurately as God sees them.

Shouldn't it tell us something that after careful examination the Catholic Church is quite willing to say that a certain individual is definitely in heaven, yet refuses to say that someone else is certainly in hell? I am not aware that any Christian group has drawn up a formal list of individuals who are certainly in hell. Dante's Inferno makes for interesting reading, but it does not necessarily reflect God's judgment. Anyone's list could be mistaken.

Although it is quite clear that some actions are very sinful, "grave matter" is one of three conditions for identifying a mortal sin. The other two are "full knowledge" and "full consent." Only God can judge with absolute certainty the presence or absence of those two conditions.

Two things must be kept in mind: If I deny that eternal separation from God is a possibility, I would be guilty of heresy. If I claim to know absolutely that a particular individual is in hell, I would be guilty of blasphemy, of claiming as mine a knowledge that belongs to God alone. Human judgments do not give God a day off.

There is ample biblical justification for saying that what Judas did was gravely wrong. The same Bible, however, cautions us to leave God's judgment of individuals to God.

For the good of society, we must make prudential judgments about how to handle people who murder, individuals who steal and so on. But those are human judgments and should not be assumed to reflect God's definitive judgments.

The Catechism of the Catholic Church reminds us that the Church prays that no person be lost. It also reminds us "that God 'desires all men [sic] to be saved' (1 Timothy 2:4), and that for him 'all things are possible' (Matthew 19:26)" (#1058).

The story of Judas's betrayal of Jesus is important for Christians to know, but they can keep growing as disciples without knowing if Judas is, in fact, in hell. We can hope that he repented even if we are not sure that he did.

Electric Motors

Do you have any electric motors that are lying around, and you would like to be rid of? Even with the passing of my father, I would be happy to take any electric motors. You can leave them by the rectory garage in Slayton, or I can pick them up at any of the parishes. Thanks!

Peace be to you!

Father Peter Schuster

DIOCESE OF WINONA-ROCHESTER PRAYER FOR VOCATIONS

Loving Father, source of all that is good, we beg you to look upon us with mercy and love. As your beloved sons and daughters, redeemed in the blood of Jesus Christ, we seek to do your will in every action of our lives.

We beg you now to pour out Your Holy Spirit upon the Diocese of Winona-Rochester and help each member of this diocese to live out the call to holiness given to them in baptism. Please grant us many priests and consecrated persons to serve Your Church, strong and holy marriages that serve as a sign of Your self-giving love, and single men and women who are intent on living out Your plan for their lives.

Let each of us be more deeply conformed to Your Son, Jesus Christ. Help us to live in holiness and love, keep us on the path You have marked out for us, which leads to eternal life with You. May Your grace be abundant as we rejoice in hope and confidently trust in Your Divine Providence each day. With grateful hearts, we ask this prayer through the intercession of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, in the name of Jesus Christ, who is Lord, forever and ever. Amen.
