23RD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

And people brought to him a deaf man who had a speech impediment and begged him to lay his hand on him. He took him off by himself away from the crowd. He put his finger into the man's ears and, spitting, touched his tongue; then he looked up to heaven and groaned, and said to him, "Ephphathal" —that is, "Be opened!" - Mk 7:32-34

Le llevaron entonces a un hombre sordo y tartamudo, y le suplicaban que le impusiera las manos. El lo apartó a un lado de la gente, le metió los dedos en los oídos y le tocó la lengua con saliva. Después, mirando al cielo, suspiró y le dijo: "¡Effetá!" (que quiere decir "¡Abrete!"). - Mc 7, 32-34

STORIES OF FR. KAPAUN

Historias del Padre Kapaun

Deacon Emil continued his use of his family's native tongue in the delivery of his first sermon as a deacon, this at midnight Mass back home in Pilsen. And then, Emil Kapaun became a priest unto the order of Melchizedek on June 9, 1940 at a little chapel on the campus of Sacred Heart College in Wichita. Eleven days later, twelve hundred people kneeled in and around St. John Nepomucene as the first priest ever ordained from tiny Pilsen, Kansas brought his blessings back home to the people he loved most in this heartbroken world. War coming, and not one thing to be done about it. His first assignment his hometown, Father Kapaun set about his endless care for the spiritual, social, and material needs of his neighbors and friends – and best of all, in the company of his old pastor, Father Skelnar. Father Emil spent as much of his time as his duties allowed with the young people. He played baseball with the school kids on their noon recess, but always wearing his Roman collar and the sleeveless, backless vest called a rabat. Per Father Skelnar's directions. Still wearing his priestly clothing, Father Kapaun made himself janitor, handyman, and landscape architect of the parish campus: church, school, rectory, and convent. Welcoming and humble, he spoke of God to his people, and they loved him for it. With the nation's declaration of war on Japan on December 8, 1941, he wrote in his diary of the Church year, "Such a way to honor the Patroness of our country." Two years later, Father Kapaun entered the war himself with his appointment as auxiliary chaplain for the army air base at Herington, Kansas, sixteen miles north. With his usual vigor, he managed to engage the soldiers as much as his Pilsen parishioners. He walked among patients in the hospital and the inmates in the jail on every visit. He celebrated Mass at the base twice a week. He prayed his Breviary among the miles of a country road. And he wrote letters, faithfully, to the boys of Pilsen gone to that infernal conflict. He spent long hours in the confessional both at St. John's and at the base. He attended the endless meetings. He blessed the sick and the aged, holding their hands in accordance with the Works of Mercy. All this amid a rarefied life of private prayer and penance, wherein he sought to bring wayward souls back to the practice of their faith. He carried out every wish of his dear friend and pastor. And in Marion County, Kansas in those years there began the slow definition of a saint.

El diácono Emil continuó usando su lengua Nativa de su familia al pronunciar su primer sermón como diácono, en la misa de medianoche en su casa en Pilsen. Y luego, Emil Kapaun se convirtió en sacerdote de la orden de Melquisedec el 9 de junio de 1940 en una pequeña capilla en el campo del Sacred Heart College en Wichita. Once días después, mil doscientas personas se arrodillaron en St. John Nepomucene y sus alrededores cuando el primer sacerdote ordenado en la pequeña Pilsen, Kansas, trajo sus bendiciones de regreso a casa a las personas que más amaba en este mundo con el corazón roto. Se acerca la guerra y no hay nada que hacer al respecto. Su primera asignación en su ciudad natal, el Padre Kapaun, se dedicó a su interminable cuidado por las necesidades espirituales, sociales y materiales de sus vecinos y amigos, y lo mejor de todo, en compañía de su antiguo pastor, el Padre Skelnar. El Padre Emil pasaba tanto tiempo como se lo permitían sus deberes con los jóvenes. Jugaba béisbol con los niños de la escuela en su recreo del mediodía, pero siempre llevaba su cuello romano y el chaleco sin mangas y sin espalda llamado rabat. Según las instrucciones del Padre Skelnar. Todavía vistiendo su ropa sacerdotal, el Padre Kapaun se convirtió en conserje, arquitecto y paisajista del campo parroquial: iglesia, escuela, rectoría y convento. Acogedor y humilde, habló de Dios a su pueblo, y ellos lo amaron por eso. Con la declaración de guerra de la nación a Japón el 8 de diciembre de 1941, escribió en su diario del año eclesiástico: "Una forma de honrar a la Patrona de nuestro país". Dos años más tarde, el Padre Kapaun entró en la guerra él mismo con su nombramiento como capellán auxiliar de la base aérea del ejército en Herington, Kansas, dieciséis millas al norte. Con su vigor habitual, logró atraer a los soldados tanto como a sus feligreses de Pilsen.

Continuando...

Continuando... Caminaba entre los pacientes en el hospital y los presos en la cárcel en cada visita. Celebraba la misa en la base dos veces por semana. Rezó su Breviario entre los kilómetros de un camino rural. Y escribió cartas, fielmente, a los muchachos de Pilsen acudidos a ese infernal conflicto. Pasaba largas horas en el confesionario tanto en St. John's como en la base. Asistió a las reuniones interminables. Bendijo a los enfermos y a los ancianos, tomándolos de la mano de acuerdo con las Obras de Misericordia. Todo esto en medio de una vida enredecida de oración privada y penitencia, en la que trató de devolver a las almas descarriadas a la práctica de su fe. Cumplió todos los deseos de su querido amigo y pastor. Y en el condado de Marion, Kansas, en esos años, comenzó la lenta definición de un santo.
