24TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

He summoned the crowd with his disciples and said to them, "Whoever wishes to come after me must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me. For whoever wishes to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake and that of the gospel will save it." - Mk 8:34-35

Después llamó a la multitud y a sus discípulos, y les dijo: "El que quiera venir conmigo, que renuncie a sí mismo, que cargue con su cruz y que me siga. Pues el que quiera salvar su vida, la perderá; pero el que pierda su vida por mí y por el Evangelio, la salvará". - Mc 8, 34-35

STORIES OF FR. KAPAUN

Historias del Padre Kapaun

In November of 1943, Father Skelnar retired. In a single day, Father Kapaun lost the immediate support, the help hour to hour that his mentor and friend had given him for so many years. Suddenly, he became pastor at St. John's, charged with the salvation of souls belonging to people he had known and loved since boyhood. His first big emphasis as pastor revolved, expectedly, around the children of Pilsen. For Christmas, 1943, he gave every single one of them a copy of the New Testament. From his earliest days as pastor, however, Father Kapaun worried that his lifelong friends might not feel comfortable confiding in him their deepest, most personal spiritual needs. His strict and certain conscience told him that he had become, as he explained to Bishop Winkleman, "a moral obstacle" for some of his parishioners, the Bohemian-speaking elderly in particular. In mid-July, 1944, the bishop relieved him of his pastoral duties at both Pilsen and the army base in Herington. That same week, Father Kapaun enrolled in Chaplain's School at Fort Devens, Massachusetts. Upon completion of his training -- little different from the rigors of regular Army boot camp with long hours of marching and vigorous fitness regimens and drills involving live machine-gun fire -- he served briefly at Camp Wheeler, Georgia before beginning active service "somewhere in Burma." Chaplain Kapaun reported to Bishop Winkleman in March, 1945, that while he couldn't be quite sure of his exact location at present, he did most assuredly recognize the holy city of Bethlehem on his flight overseas. "Imagine the thrill," he wrote, "to be up in the clouds where the angels of the Nativity had sung." His work in Burma called for flying over and driving a Jeep through a jungled route of two thousand miles a month, Father Kapaun bringing the sacraments to far-flung Allied encampments and the brave men waiting there for the comforts of their faith. The war was winding down in those days, the Japanese abandoning their would-be empire, but dying to the last starving man in their refusal to surrender. Chaplain Kapaun followed his beloved soldiers into India and then, blessed peace come round at last, on home. Now a civilian, he moved about Kansas with brief weeks of service in Strong City and Spearville and Hutchinson, all the while awaiting accommodations for his soon-to-be studies at Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. In but a few months, his continuing education supported by the G.I. Bill, he began pursuit of a master's degree in education with the intent of coming back to Kansas to teach in diocesan high schools. A diligent student, an ardent priest, Father Kapaun completed requirements for his degree in early 1948, his master's thesis entitled, "A Study of the Accrediting of Religion in the High Schools of the United States." But in the time before his graduation, he had nonetheless been writing home to Bishop Mark Carroll, the new head of the Wichita diocese. In every letter, Father Kapaun talked of his "priestly calling" to return to active military duty, once more a chaplain. No matter. Bishop Carroll assigned him to be pastor of Holy Trinity, the large Bohemian parish in Timken, in Rush County, in central Kansas. And Emil Kapaun, reverent and obedient to his vows, moved again among small-town people, as if in wonder of their goodness.

En noviembre de 1943, el Padre Skelnar se retiró. En un solo día, el Padre Kapaun perdió el apoyo inmediato, la ayuda de hora a hora que su mentor y amigo le había brindado durante tantos años. De repente se convirtió en pastor en San José, encargado de la salvación de las almas pertenecientes a personas que había conocido y amado desde la infancia. Su primer gran énfasis como pastor giró, como era de esperar, en torno a los niños de Pilsen. Para la Navidad de 1943, les dio a cada uno de ellos una copia del Nuevo Testamento. Sin embargo, desde sus primeros días como pastor, al Padre Kapaun le preocupaba que sus amigos de toda la vida no se sintieran cómodos confiando en él sus necesidades espirituales más profundas y personales. Su conciencia estricta y segura le decía que se había convertido, como le explicó al Obispo Winkleman, en "un obstáculo moral" para algunos de sus feligreses, en particular los ancianos de habla Bohemia. A mediados de Julio de 1944, el Obispo lo relevó de sus deberes pastorales tanto en Pilsen como en la base militar de Herington.

Continuando...

Esa misma semana, el padre Kapaun se inscribió en la escuela de Capellanes en Fort Devens, Massachusetts. Al finalizar su entrenamiento -- poco diferente de los rigores del campo de entrenamiento del ejército, con largas horas de marcha y vigorosos regímenes de acondicionamiento físico y simulacros que involucran fuego de ametralladora en vivo -- sirvió brevemente en Camp Wheeler, Georgia antes de comenzar el servicio activo en "algún lugar de Birmania." El capellán Kapaun informó al obispo Winkleman en Marzo de 1945 que, si bien no podía estar muy seguro de su ubicación exacta en la actualidad, sin duda reconoció la ciudad santa de Belén en su vuelo al extranjero. "Imagínense la emoción," escribió, "de estar en las nubes donde habían cantado los ángeles de la Natividad." Su trabajo y Birmania requería sobrevolar y conducir un jeep a través de una sequía en la jungla de dos mil millas al mes, el padre Kapaun llevando los sacramentos a campamentos aliados lejanos y los valientes hombres esperando allí las comodidades de su fe. La guerra estaba llegando a su fin en esos días, los Japoneses abandonaron su futuro imperio, pero muriendo hasta el último hombre hambriento se negó a rendirse. El capellán Kapaun siguió a sus amados soldados a la India y luego, por fin, la bendita paz regresó a casa. Ahora un civil, se mudó por Kansas con breves semanas de servicio en Strong City y Spearville y Hutchinson, mientras esperaba alojamiento para sus futuros estudios en la Universidad Católica de América en Washington, D.C. En unos pocos meses su educación continua con el apoyo de el Gl. Bill, comenzó a buscar una maestría en educación con la intención de regresar a Kansas para enseñar en las escuelas secundarias diocesanas. Un estudiante diligente, un sacerdote ardiente, el padre Kapaun completó los requisitos para su título a principios de 1948, su tesis de maestría tituló "Un Estudio de la Acreditación de la Religión en las Escuelas Secundarias de los Estados Unidos." Pero en el tiempo antes de su graduación, no obstante, había estado escribiendo a su hogar al obispo Mark Carroll, el nuevo director de la diócesis de Wichita. En cada carta el padre Kapaun hablaba de su "vocación sacerdotal" para volver al servicio militar activo, una vez más como capellán. No importa. El obispo Carroll lo asignó para ser pastor de Holy Trinity, la gran parroquia de Bohemia en Timken, en el condado de Rush, en el centro de Kansas. Y Emil Kapaun, reverente y obediente a sus votos, se movió de nuevo entre gente de la pequeña ciudad, como maravillado por su bondad.
