First Reading: As for you, my sheep, says the Lord GOD, I will judge between one sheep and another, between rams and goats.

(Ez 34:17)

Psalms: The Lord is my shepherd; there is nothing I shall want. (Ps 23)

Second Reading: When everything is subjected to him, then the Son himself will also be subjected to the one who subjected everything to him, so that God may be all in all. (1 Cor 15:28)

Gospel: "When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, he will sit upon his glorious throne, and all the nations will be assembled before him. And he will separate them one from another, as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats." (Mt 25:31-32)

GOSPEL MEDITATION

In May 2023, for the first time in almost three quarters of a century, a monarch was crowned in England. A few days later a friend of mine scoffed, "What a waste of time and energy! What is the point of a king?"

I'm a proud American who wants neither theocracy nor monarchical restoration. I like our democratic republic. But the coronation of King Charles reminded me of something needed in every person and community: confidence in the future. The king's most basic role is to symbolize the unity of the nation. In England, the parliament members handle many of the practical duties of governance. But the king or queen can do what they cannot: embody in a single person the reality and future of a whole nation. To say, "this is our king" is to say, "we exist as a community, and we have a future." Kingship isn't primarily about the power of one person or family. It's about the enduring identity and unity of the whole.

To say Christ is our King is to say we exist as a people. We are one in him. We are, and we will be as long as he is. And since he will be our risen king forever, together we have a future filled with hope. Even the best countries will finally fall. But Christ and his Church will endure forever. What good news! It's not a waste of time to crown a king. We do it all the time. Let's be sure to crown the right one — the one whose kingdom never ends.

— Father John Muir

Bishop McKnight's November Prayer Intention for our Local Church: "For our family, friends, and benefactors of our community who have passed from this world to the next, may they attain a share in eternal happiness through our Lord Jesus Christ risen from the dead."

The Pope's November Prayer Intention for the Synod:

"We pray for the Holy Father; as he fulfills his mission, may he continue to accompany the flock entrusted to him, with the help of the Holy Spirit."

SPIRITUAL HOMEWORK: QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

First Reading: Ezekiel offers a beautiful vision to the Israelites held captive in Babylon of God as a shepherd tending carefully to the sheep in his flock who are lost, injured, or sick. Who do you know needs to hear this message of hope?

Second Reading: Paul teaches the Corinthians how believers are destined to share in resurrected life with our Lord Jesus Christ. What do you imagine resurrected life with Christ will look like?

Gospel: The final Gospel reading of the Liturgical Year focuses on Judgement Day. All will be measured by how we treated those on the margins of society. What could you do this week to help the poor or the stranger or those in prison?

They are so valuable in connecting us with God and neighbor. There are books on saints, sacraments, the Bible and people in the Bible, popes, and how to share our faith. There is a check-out notebook. Returns go next to that notebook.

WHY DO WE DO THAT? CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

Patron Saints

Question: Why are some saints known as "patron saints?"

Answer:

Each person is unique and each of us has different gifts, interests, talents, and, yes, even struggles and areas where we need to grow. This is no less true of those holy women, men, and children who have been canonized or beatified.

Because we believe that the saints and blessed are both models of faith and intercessors, Christians have looked to certain holy people as role models and heavenly protectors for occupations, spiritual charisms, and even places. Although the Church sometimes names a person as a patron saint (e.g. Saint Philip Neri as the patron of Rome,

Saint Clare of Assisi as the patroness of television, or Saint Aloysius Gonzaga as the patron of youth and young adults), more often it is popular devotion that inspires lay Christians to turn to a particular saint or blessed for heavenly help and support.

This is how, for example, Saint Cecilia came to be honored as the patroness of musicians, Saint Toribio Romo as patron of migrants coming into the United States, and Saint Gertrude of Nivelles as patroness of cat lovers.

Although there are official and unofficial lists of patron saints, we should always feel free to ask any and all the saints to give us their patronage and protection in whatever it is that we need.

"How can I be less hypocritical? I know what Jesus says and what I believe but I often go against these beliefs." — Michelle P., 15

So does almost everyone in the world. Saints Peter and Paul and every saint in history, except Jesus and Mary, struggled with this very problem. Here are some practical tips that will help you in the struggle:

- (1) Knowledge is power. If you know your Faith, you'll know more about how to fight against the devil and sin.

- (2) Read the lives of the saints. They've been where you are now and will inspire you.
- (3) Live a sacramental life. Go to Mass more than just on Sunday, pray the rosary and go to Confession frequently, especially if you have sinned seriously.

- (4) Ask Jesus for guidance. He will give you the wisdom to know when you are being too hard or easy on yourself.

"My Perfect Wife, Her Perfect Son," a reading by Joe Benevento, will be held Saturday, December 9, 3 p.m., Flanagan Hall, Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church, Columbia.

Author Joe Benevento will read from his novel about the Holy Family from the viewpoint of St. Joseph (as reported on in the Catholic Missourian). The novel is sometimes gently comic, but always a reverently Catholic recreation of the Biblical Christmas narrative and beyond. Books will be available for sale after the reading, with 100 percent of all royalties being donated in perpetuity to Catholic Charities of Central and North Missouri. Light refreshments will be served.
