First Reading: Thus far shall you come but no farther, and here shall your proud waves be stilled! (Jb 38:11)

Psalm: Give thanks to the Lord, his love is everlasting. (Ps 107) Or: Alleluia.

Second Reading: So whoever is in Christ is a new creation: the old things have passed away; behold, new things have come. (2 Cor 5:17)

Gospel: They were filled with great awe and said to one another, "Who then is this whom even wind and sea obey?" (Mk 4:41)

GOSPEL MEDITATION

Right now, you and I are only worried about one of only two things: wind or water. Bear with me. This week we hear the account of the terrified disciples waking Jesus in a sea-storm. He chastises them for their lack of faith, and then, "rebuking the wind, he said to the sea, 'Quiet, be still!'" He rebukes the wind and stills the water. In the Bible wind and water represent the two most fundamental poles of our experience of creation. Wind means heaven, spirit, that which gives identity, unity, order, light. Water stands for earth, variation, potential, that which can be drawn into identity, darkness, chaos.

Too much "wind" is when things get way too rigid, abstract and ideological — when we face oppressive leaders and tyrants, when we get addicted to our own way of doing things, when our attention is too narrowly focused on one thing. Too much "water" is excessive novelty, passivity, indifference, and chaos — when our attention is too broadly diffused on many things, when things seem to be crumbling without direction into the dark abyss. We know both terrifying experiences all too well.

The point of the miracle is that God in Christ is the One who brings final cosmic harmony between these two vital but threatening forces. He ultimately does so from the wood of the cross, when he breathes forth the wind of his spirit and pours forth the water from his side to establish a new creation, filled with harmonious peace. When the wind and water are out of control, trust him.

— Father John Muir

Eucharistic Revival Prayer

Heavenly Father, Thank you for the gift of Your Son Jesus Christ,
who is truly present in the Eucharist.

In our day, many Catholics either do not know or do not believe that the bread and wine become Your Son Jesus, truly present to us in His Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity.

We pray that there may be a reawakening to Christ's presence in the Eucharist, as He dwells, truly present, in all the tabernacles throughout the world.

We ask these prayers through Christ Our Lord. Amen.

Q: "Why did God make marriage one of the seven sacraments?" Joel O., 13

A: Christ gave us the Sacraments as ordinary means of receiving His grace. He used commonplace things like water (for Baptism), oil (for Confirmation and Anointing of the Sick) or bread and wine (the Holy Eucharist) so the Sacraments would be readily available to us and, more importantly, as special ways of making holy these ordinary, earthly things. Marriage is one of those ordinary things that Christ elevated to the supernatural level and made a means of grace.

Why marriage is important should be obvious. It provides a place for children to come into being the irreplaceable love only two parents, committed to one another as well as their children, can give.

WHY DO WE DO THAT? CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

Home Schooling

Question: We are considering homeschooling our children. Does this present a problem when it is time for them to receive the sacraments? What must we do?

Answer:

Homeschooling is legal in all 50 states and like other types of education, has its advantages and its drawbacks. There are many factors to consider, and each family has to decide what the best way to educate its children is. With religious education, many dioceses have a formal policy that outlines procedures and expectations, some of which include more than just academic information. Call the religious education office to find out what they are for your area.

In general, though, an appointment with your parish priest to discuss your situation is the best first step. An opportunity to discuss what is available, what the expectations are for each sacrament, and how you can best prepare your child helps make your time of preparation more effective. The priest can direct you to good catechetical materials, parent information classes, and other choices and possibilities for your child. All parents need to be part of their child's religious education, taking a lead in instilling the values and beliefs of their faith. Communication and information helps us all to teach and preach the Gospel as Jesus did.
