Peter testified to a dangerous and unpopular truth — that Christ was the Messiah. That courage, that trust in God, is the cornerstone of all we believe. Like Peter, we must always bear witness to the truth

First Reading: "Now I know for certain that the Lord sent his angel and rescued me from the hand of Herod and from all that the Jewish people had been expecting." (Acts 12:11)

Psalm: The angel of the Lord will rescue those who fear him. (Ps 34)

Second Reading: The Lord will rescue me from every evil threat and will bring me safe to his heavenly Kingdom. (2 Tm 4:18)

Gospel: I will give you the keys to the Kingdom of heaven. Whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." (Mt 16:19)

GOSPEL MEDITATION

What do you call brothers who are born on the same day? Twins, of course. That is what we celebrate today in the inestimable saints, Peter and Paul. Wait: twins? Yes. The early Church believed that Peter and Paul were martyred in Rome on the same day. Since the day of martyrdom is celebrated as a saints' birth into eternal life, the result is striking: Peter and Paul are twins in God's family, the Church.

Who should care about this? Well, anyone who longs to live in a world marked by love and peace. Remember, the Romans believed that twins, Romulus and Remus, founded their city through an act of fratricide, the former murdering the latter. Sadly, the structures of this fallen world emerge through violence between those who should love each other. But in the Church, a new city has been founded upon this new set of twins, embodying the non-violent power of Jesus' cross and resurrection.

That's why traditional icons represent Peter and Paul in a fraternal and warm embrace.

Contrasted with the violence of Rome's founders, it challenges us with a bold claim: do we believe that structures of merciful love are more powerful and lasting than those based on power, violence, and domination? Am I willing to see others in my life as my "twin," with whom I am called to give my life for Christ, or as my rival? Am I committed to living what is embodied in Romulus and Remus, or in Peter and Paul?

"You are Peter, and upon this rock I will build my Church, and the gates of the netherworld shall not prevail against it."

(Matthew 16:18)

Sometimes God speaks to us clearly, while other times it can be challenging to understand His calling. If your child feels like Peter—being called to something greater—now is a great opportunity to talk to your priest about how to better hear God's voice and discern His purpose in their life. Invite them to reach out to your priest, religious coordinator, or diocesan vocation director

SPIRITUAL HOMEWORK: QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

First Reading: In his miraculous escape from prison, Peter was convinced of God's saving work in his life. Where do you see God at work in your life?

Second Reading: As Paul was nearing the end of his life, he realized that God had rescued him from many dangers and threats. As you reflect on your life, can you see times when God's saving hand was present for you?

Gospel: Jesus commissioned Peter to be the foundation ("rock") of his Church. Are there any roles or responsibilities you feel called to do in your parish?

Dear Parishioners,
It is with heartfelt sadness and gratitude that I wish you farewell: sadness because I had wished that I could be with all of you for a longer period of time, and gratitude for the many kindnesses so many of you extended to me to during my time as your pastor. As I said in the pulpit one weekend after it was announced that I would be moving, many of you are the reason that I did not want to move. Thank you for being so supportive of me, with all of my ups and downs, and so supportive of priesthood in general. Please know that you will be in my thoughts and prayers regularly.

My new assignment takes me quite a way from Cooper County but I hope that I can bump into some of you regularly in spite of the more than two-hour drive. Since the current expectation for my priestly work includes a weekly trip to Jefferson City for work as part of the diocesan Tribunal, maybe I will get to see some of you if you happen to be there for work or recreation or prayer (like at one of the diocesan liturgies held normally at the Cathedral).

For anyone interested in reaching me, my new address will be: Holy Cross Catholic Church, 415 W School Ave, Cuba, MO 65453.

The parish phone number is: (573) 885-3520.

My diocesan email address is: msmith@diojeffcity.org (the one I used for most things related to Pilot Grove).

Again, know of my heart-felt gratitude and prayer and I wish all of you an ever deepening relationship with God.

May God bless you abundantly,
Fr. Mark S. Smith

Dear SSPP: Thank you so much for the annual canned food collection on Holy Thursday. NHN Food Pantry sincerely appreciates the 66 pounds of food donated this year. Our family members at distribution are up 20% compared to this time last year. SSPP has always assisted in taking care of the community. Sincerely, Jeanne Pascal

Catholic Life Explained:
ST. PAUL CONVERSION

Question: January 25 is the feast of the Conversion of St. Paul and the end of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity. What does one have to do with the other?

Answer: The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity consists of eight days beginning January 18 (at that time the feast of the Chair of Peter), and ending on January 25, the feast of the Conversion of St. Paul. The Franciscan Friars of the Atonement, founded in the early twentieth century in Graymoor, NY, sought to promote unity among Anglicans and Roman Catholics. Paul James Wattson, a former Episcopalian priest, founded the community, which was formally accepted into the Catholic communion. The idea for Christian unity soon began to catch on, and by the 1930s, more and more Christians welcomed such a focus. Suggestions for prayer and education are distributed each year, emphasizing a jointly chosen theme. The 1964 Vatican II document on ecumenism, Unitatis Redintegratio, gave a great boost to the octave, so that today many Christians worldwide promote and participate in the octave time of prayer. The emphasis on both Peter and Paul aptly fits into the rationale of the octave. Peter is seen as the source of unity within the Christian tradition. Paul is highlighted due to his vision of bringing all to Christ. The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity is an ideal opportunity to pray for and promote respect, understanding, and, hopefully, eventual unity among Christians. To learn more, visit geii.org.

Welcome Father Greg Oligschlaeger, newly appointed pastor to SSPP and St. Joseph, Pilot Grove! Father Greg comes to us from Holy Rosary Church, Monroe City, and St. Stephen, Indian Creek. He was ordained May 8, 1993.

Welcome Monsignor Marion Makarewicz to SSPP and St. Joseph, Pilot Grove! Msgr. Makarewicz comes to us from St. Stephen, Indian Creek, where he was the priest in residence. He was ordained September 5, 1987 in Sedalia. He is the son of Leonard and Mary Makarewicz. He will be living at the rectory in Pilot Grove as the priest in residence and assisting Father Greg as he is able.

Q: "Why can't humans become angels, or can we?" — Shannon L., 17

A: Contrary to popular myth, we don't become angels when we die. Human beings and angels are completely different species of beings. Comparing them is like comparing a human to a cat or a dog, only the difference is much greater.

Angels are pure spirits. Human beings, on the other hand, are beings of body and spirit. Although our bodies and spirits separate at death, this is an unnatural condition for humans. We will be complete persons again only in the Resurrection of the Body; angels, however, are completely themselves right now as pure spirits without bodies.
