To set the downtrodden free;
and to proclaim the Lord's favor in our lives.*
(Luke 4:18)

Palm Sunday

Today Jesus enters Jerusalem amidst shouts of joy, and then those shouts of joy turn to shouts of "Crucify him."

During the Triduum - Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Holy Saturday – we really experience the "Paschal Mystery" as we journey through the "Last Supper," the "Crucifixion" and the "Resurrection."

The Gaze of Jesus

“...and the Lord turned and looked at Peter.”

Today we take part in proclaiming the Passion of our Lord from St. Luke’s point of view. Each of the Gospel writers’ account of Jesus’ suffering and death offers different nuances to the same story that shed light on the truth of Jesus’ love for us. Luke’s version is my favorite for one subtle, but poignant line that is so brief it is easy to miss. After Peter denies his Lord three times, just as Jesus had predicted some hours before, Luke tells us that Jesus “turned and looked at Peter”. This is the only Gospel to record the gaze of Christ that led Peter to “weep bitterly” over his denial of his Master and Teacher.

It could be easy to imagine that Jesus’ look towards Peter during the disciple’s moment of fear and weakness would be one that expressed the sentiment, “I told you so.” Yet, the words that Jesus spoke to Peter at the Last Supper right before He predicted his apostle’s denial may give us more insight on Jesus’ glance: “Simon, Simon, behold Satan has demanded to sift all of you like wheat, but I have prayed that your own faith may not fail; and once you have turned back, you must strengthen your brothers.”

When Christ looked at Peter in the midst of his failure, He did not just see Peter’s sin. Instead, He saw Peter’s true and total self. He saw in Peter his freedom to repent and turn back to God. He viewed Peter’s future as “the rock” of the Church who, after repentance and reconciliation, would pastor His flock. He “turned” to Peter so that Peter would turn back to Him!

Jesus’ gaze is not one of condemnation, but of total love and understanding. It reveals God’s mercy, as well as His confidence and hope for us. This is the look that Jesus gives you and me, not only at our moments of weakness, but at all times. Jesus’ gaze of love penetrates our very being and sees who we truly are in every way, past our sins and towards our bright future of sharing more fully in Christ’s Easter glory.

How comforting it is to note that Jesus’ look of love can reach us no matter how far off we feel from God. The Gospel tells us that Peter was following Jesus at a distance. Jesus’ gaze traveled through that separation to where Peter was, trying to blend in with the crowd. We, too, might find ourselves following Jesus at a distance, fearful of the cost of discipleship and of sharing in Jesus’ suffering. This Holy Week, the most sacred time of the entire Church year, Jesus is turning to us so that we may turn to Him more completely, no matter where we presently are in our relationship with Him. Through the liturgies of Palm Sunday and the Holy Triduum, let us allow the penetrating gaze of Jesus to reveal to us His merciful love and show us exactly who He is calling us to be.

Peace in Christ,

Dominic Margaglione

Pastoral Associate

ST MICHAEL SCHOOL PALM SUNDAY

Palm Sunday is the start of Passion Week. As a Catholic school community, we will learn what happened on each day of Holy Week! Please join us in prayer for this very precious week as we reflect on the greatness of God's love!

Dear God, Thank you for sending your Son and paving the way for our lives to be set free through Jesus' death on the cross. Thank you for what this day stands for, the beginning of Holy Week, the start of the journey towards the power of the cross, the victory of the Resurrection, and the rich truth that Jesus truly is our King of Kings. Hosanna! Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord. Amen
