Dear Friends,

It's always something, isn't it? Recently I found myself shopping at Walmart (you know, where America shops), looking for a simple toaster oven, just enough to heat something up so not to use the big oven. I found what I was looking for and headed to the cashier to check out. A woman in line behind me spoke and said to me, "Say, Father, is that toaster oven for the rectory?" "Yes" I replied. "Well, I would like to buy that for you." "Oh, you don't have to do that". "Oh, really," said the woman. "You see, my husband died last year and I never did anything to memorialize him, so I'd like to donate the money to buy your toaster oven." I thought to myself, "Wow: $19.99 for this simple toaster oven: it shows what she thought of her late husband."

Later I thought: maybe it was her late "ex-husband".

It's always something, isn't it?

Father Jim

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages.

God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made.

For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven, and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures.

He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father.

He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen
