JOIN US FOR THE FILM "SOUFRA" - SEPT. 28

In collaboration with the International Catholic Migration Commission, the film Soufra will be hosted by the Paulist Center's Immigration Advocacy Group on Saturday, September 28th at 6:30pm, in the 3rd Floor Library. Soufra's executive producer is Susan Sarandon and the film follows the unlikely and wildly inspirational story of intrepid social entrepreneur, Mariam Shaar – a generational refugee who has spent her entire life in the Burj El Barajneh refugee camp, just south of Beirut. Mariam sets out against all odds to launch a successful catering company, "Soufra," and expands it into a food truck business with a diverse team of fellow refugee women who now see this camp as their home. They heal the wounds of war through the unifying power of food while taking their future into their own hands through an unrelenting belief in Mariam, and in each other. In the process, Mariam breaks barriers, pulls together Syrian, Iraqi, Palestinian and Lebanese women to work side by side and forms beautiful friendships while running this thriving business. Soufra plays to rave reviews, but the film is not shown commercially. This may be your best chance to see it! RSVP at 617-742-4460 to ensure a spot.

DIRECTOR'S REFLECTION

Dear Companions on the Journey,

On September 1st, Pope Francis issued this message to mark the World Day of Prayer for the Care of Creation:

“And God saw that it was good” (Gen 1:25). God’s gaze, at the beginning of the bible, rests lovingly on his creation. From habitable land to life-giving waters, from fruit-bearing trees to animals that share our common home, everything is dear in the eyes of God, who offers creation to men and women as a precious gift to be preserved.

Tragically, the human response to this gift has been marked by sin, selfishness and a greedy desire to possess and exploit. Egoism and self-interest have turned creation, a place of encounter and sharing, into an arena of competition and conflict. In this way, the environment itself is endangered: something good in God’s eyes has become something to be exploited in human hands. Deterioration has increased in recent decades: constant pollution, the continued use of fossil fuels, intensive agricultural exploitation and deforestation are causing global temperatures to rise above safe levels. The increase in the intensity and frequency of extreme weather phenomena and the desertification of the soil are causing immense hardship for the most vulnerable among us. Melting of glaciers, scarcity of water, neglect of water basins and the considerable presence of plastic and microplastics in the oceans are equally troubling, and testify to the urgent need for interventions that can no longer be postponed. We have caused a climate emergency that gravely threatens nature and life itself, including our own.

In effect, we have forgotten who we are: creatures made in the image of God (cf. Gen 1:27) and called to dwell as brothers and sisters in a common home. We were created not to be tyrants, but to be at the heart of a network of life made up of millions of species lovingly joined together for us by our Creator. Now is the time to rediscover our vocation as children of God, brothers and sisters, and stewards of creation. Now is the time to repent, to be converted and to return to our roots. We are beloved creatures of God, who in his goodness calls us to love life and live it in communion with the rest of creation.

Each Christian man and woman, every member of the human family, can act as a thin yet unique and indispensable thread in weaving a network of life that embraces everyone. May we feel challenged to assume, with prayer and commitment, our responsibility for the care of creation. May God, “the lover of life” (Wis 11:26), grant us the courage to do good without waiting for someone else to begin, or until it is too late.

What do you think?

And let us pray for/with one another.

Michael
