All Public Masses in Maine Temporarily Suspended; Ways to Participate in Mass from Home Provided

PORTLAND---With attention to the guidance from the Center for Disease Control & Prevention (CDC) and upon consideration of the size of the usual congregations, Bishop Robert P. Deeley is temporarily suspending all public daily and Sunday Masses and religious services throughout the Diocese of Portland (covering the entire state of Maine), effective immediately. The bishop is also issuing a dispensation from the obligation to attend Mass for Maine Catholics during this time.

In anticipation of questions which might arise, baptisms, funerals, and weddings, including with Mass, may continue but only with immediate family present for the Mass. The Mass is our prayer of thanksgiving and praise to God for his many blessings. It is also our graced opportunity to strengthen one another in faith and hope. To aid us in preserving those bonds in a time of crisis, we will gather online and by way of social media. Starting this Sunday, March 22, Bishop Deeley will celebrate a Mass from the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Portland each Sunday at 10 a.m. Although not open to the public, the Mass will be live-streamed at both www.portlanddiocese.org and www.facebook.com/PortlandDiocese. Additional options and resources to participate in Masses from home are listed below.

“These are unprecedented circumstances,” said Bishop Deeley, “I join with many bishops across the country in making this decision in response to the continuing threat of COVID-19. In this diocese, our parishes are places of welcome where all can encounter Jesus, but they must also be communities that look after the most vulnerable among us. Temporarily suspending Masses will help to ensure the safety of our older parishioners and our priests, particularly those who are also among the most vulnerable.”

Although we are unable to attend Mass in person, it is important that we continue to support our parishes as best we can, so that they can continue to serve the faithful throughout this crisis and long after it’s over. “Please remember that your parish communities depend on the offerings and collections and will need your support going forward to carry on the mission of the Church,” said Bishop Deeley.

Parishioners can continue to support their local parish through the WeShare online giving option. Parishioners can find a direct link to their parish account at www.portlanddiocese.org/OnlineGiving.

“I want to assure all of you that we, your priests, are spiritually united to you as each of us offers Mass each day,” said Bishop Deeley. “Please remember that in a time that can instill fear and anxiety, we, as Catholics are guided by our faith in the peace that comes from the love that God shows us in Jesus, who comes to be with us, to strengthen us from whatever weakness we may be experiencing or whatever illness may be afflicting us.”

In addition to Bishop Deeley’s celebration of Mass, there are many other ways to participate in Masses on several platforms. To see a list (which will be continually updated), visit www.portlanddiocese.org/content/response-coronavirus.

We pray for all those affected by the novel coronavirus, those in the service of providing health care, and the common good,” said Bishop Deeley. “May we find strength in the community the Lord gives us. May it remind us of His presence in our lives. And may we always know that trusting in the Lord Jesus will help us bring God’s mercy and love into the world through our care for one another.” A public announcement will be made when the temporary suspension of Masses concludes.

As more information develops with regard to COVID-19, all Maine parishes continue to work to ensure the health and safety of all Maine Catholics and the wider community.

Cancellations are unfortunate but necessary as we offer compassion and support to those in high-risk groups by carefully monitoring our current situation and proceeding with caution. As we cooperate with government and medical officials, especially by remaining calm and responding with reason.

We will try and keep parishioners informed via the bulletin and websites.

As of now, the offices open, so feel free to call or email with any questions or concerns.

Opportunity for Spiritual Communion Adoration: The Blessed Sacrament will be in reposition in the tabernacle that will be placed in the window of the narthex of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in Windham. In essence, we are temporarily turning our outdoor courtyard into a weekend-only Blessed Sacrament Chapel. The tabernacle will be in full view from any position in the outdoor courtyard of the church. Parishioners are invited to make a brief visit before the Blessed Sacrament Saturday 3:00-7:00 pm, or Sunday 8:00 am - 7:00 pm

Visitors are asked to stagger their visitation times and to avoid all contact with others and to maintain a reasonable and safe distance from other non-family-related visitors (at least 10 feet apart), and to limit their visit to 10 or 15 minutes when other people are present. Limited, widely-scattered seating without armrests will be available throughout the courtyard. Outdoor votive candles will also be made available. The church doors will remain locked during this period of adoration for security and public health reasons. The Blessed Sacrament will be removed from the narthex tabernacle and placed back in the church tabernacle outside of the times listed above.

We will continue this weekend adoration practice until Masses are restored.

All Masses, Confessions, Word and Communions Services in the Sebago Lake Region Parishes are canceled until further notice.
Dear Friends,

So many times in the past, I have heard the question, especially from young people: “Why do I need the Church to connect with God? I can be spiritual without being religious.” The answer, of course, is that we each need the faith witness, prayers and support of one another. Yes, we most certainly can and do pray to God privately as individuals, but when we add our presence and prayers to the collective faith of the worshipping community, we more fully experience the Kingdom of God among us.

What the events of the last two weeks has taught us is the importance of our Catholic faith parish community. Not being able to experience that first-hand, live and in person, may be difficult and disconcerting, but it also should make us all the more grateful and appreciative of the gift of community once we are able to gather together again. Indeed, we need one another. Alone, we eventually become egocentric, distorted and lost. We need the collective wisdom of the community. We need the collective support and prayers of our fellow companions on the journey of faith. There is more than the sum total of people at Mass when all of us call out together, “Lord, have mercy on us,” and then search the ancient scriptures for meaning and direction together before sharing (not simply receiving, but sharing) the Eucharist.

We are a Church. We are Church. We listen together, pray together, cry together. We are strengthened and comforted by each other. There is no other way to travel. Currently we find ourselves separated and stranded at a rest stop along the way, but we also know that the journey will continue in God’s own good time.

So, it’s OK to be feeling somewhat disconnected and perhaps empty these days because we miss the physical companionship of fellow parishioners and disciples of Christ. Take heart: It will make the days ahead that much more meaningful and fulfilling. Until then, let’s lift up each other in prayer. We all have plenty of extra time these days to do that. Let’s use the phone, texting opportunities, and e-mail as holy “sacramentals” of God’s presence in reaching out to family, friends, neighbors and fellow parishioners. Or even like St. Paul, perhaps write an old-fashioned love letter of support to your own “Timothy” or “Philemon” while taking the proper health precautions in mailing it (something St. Paul didn’t have to worry about).

Over 350 years ago, Martin Rinkart served as a Protestant minister in the little town of Eilenburg, Germany. The son of a poor copper-smith, he somehow managed to get an education that lead to his ordination, although it took many years overcoming many disappointments. In 1617, he was finally offered a post as archdeacon in his hometown parish. A year later, what has come to be known as the Thirty-Years-War broke out—and his town was caught right in the middle of the fighting and violence. In 1637, the massive plague that swept across Europe hit the town of Eilenburg—people died at the rate of 50 a day, and Martin ended up being the one to bury most of them. In all, over 8,000 townspeople died, including Martin’s own wife. His ministry spanned 32 years, all but the first and last years overwhelmed by the great conflict that engulfed his town. It would appear that Martin Rinkert had little to be grateful for, yet he wrote the words to one of the most familiar and best-loved hymns to this very day:

“Now thank we all our God With heart and hands and voices; Who wondrous things has done, in whom this world rejoices.”

No matter what happens in our world, the world is not a booby-trapped battleground. The world is a sacrament of God’s presence, and so are we.

Wishing you all God’s blessings, Fr. Lou
