FR. KRIS' KORNER

You've heard the humorous line, "I'm not a real doctor; I just play one on TV." Can you honestly say, "I'm a real disciple of Jesus Christ?" In today's Gospel, Jesus told his followers "I give you a new commandment: love one another." The command to "love your neighbor as yourself" already appeared in the Book of Leviticus for over 1400 years, so what was so new about Jesus' commandment? Jesus added something more to it and this is what made it completely new... He said "Love one another, as I have loved you." He gave us a model to follow; the example of his own life: a life of faith, joy and holiness, of humility and gentleness, of obedience, courage, sacrifice, charity, of kindness, patience and tolerance, of honesty and integrity, of forgiveness, mercy and compassion, of fervent prayer, and above all - a life of unconditional love. Jesus finished by saying "This is how all will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another." Sadly, some people, rather than appreciating those who are genuinely good, enjoy exposing hypocrites; they get a thrill when they discover a 'goodie-two-shoes' behaving badly and then ruthlessly expose their dark, sinful, hidden side. Over the course of my priesthood I have met countless 'good people' who are holy and loving to the core; there is no duality or hypocrisy in them. Do others see EVIDENCE that you are a real disciple of Christ? Look again at each of the qualities of Jesus listed above and which ones do you feel are strongly evident in your life, which ones are mediocre, and which ones could use some work? Are you willing to work at improving your Christ-like qualities? Do you have a genuine, rich Christ-like love for others or are you just playing the part?
