A Song was Heard at Christmas

-by Timothy Dudley-Smith

A song was heard at Christmas,
To wake the midnight sky;
A savior's birth, and peace on earth,
And praise to God on high.

The angels sang at Christmas
With all the hosts above.
And still we sing the newborn King
His glory and His love.

Mask Mandate Reinstated

In the light of spiking numbers of new COVID cases and the likely increase in those numbers in the upcoming holiday season, Cardinal Seán is mandating that throughout the Archdiocese of Boston all people attending public Masses, including weddings and funerals, wear masks.

Additionally, the City of Lowell also put into effect their own local Mask Mandate which is in effect until February 2nd. This local mandate would effect anyone attending Masses and ALL events at St. Margaret of Scotland.

- Mass celebrants, deacons, readers, servers, choir members, and instrumentalists, should all wear masks except when they are speaking.
- Children under the age of five are not required to wear masks.
- Children under the age of two should not wear masks.
- We will continue to provide a designated area in which social distancing is respected for those who want to use it (refer to below).
- We will have masks available for people inasmuch as possible, as some people attending especially on Christmas may not be expecting to need masks.

Each winter, Boy Scout Troop 70 provides a Christmas tree collection service in the town of Chelmsford. For a donation of $10, they will pick up and recycle your tree. To make a reservation for the Boy Scouts to pick up your tree, please register via the link that can be found at www.theholyrood.org/christmas-tree-pick-up-2022 or click on the QR code to your left.

You will receive an e-mail confirming that your request has been received and scheduled. It is important to leave your $10 donation in an envelope taped to your front door after 8 am on the day of your scheduled pickup. Thank you for supporting Chelmsford Boy Scout Troop 70.

Saint Vincent de Paul St. Mary's Conference

Each year, during the Christmas season, we ask parishioners to consider making a charitable donation to the Saint Vincent de Paul Society. Your past generosity has helped our dedicated members provide financial assistance to our needy neighbors in the parish community. Our financial report published annually in the bulletin shows the extent of our work in the parish and how your donations are spent.

This past year has been especially challenging for many families. The combined impact of the continued pandemic as well as higher inflation (especially at grocery stores and filling stations) has significantly weakened the safety net for many families. As a result, we have seen the number of assistance requests increase significantly, especially over the past few months. To meet this need, we have provided an increased number of both local supermarket and gasoline gift cards. We expect this service request increase to continue well into 2022.

We have been providing food vouchers and gift cards to struggling individuals and families to enable them to buy both food and presents during the recent Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

When our society cannot handle individual requests, we provide information about food pantries, food programs, the St. Vincent de Paul Thrift Store, fuel and rent assistance, and social services. We also offer and suggest prayer to ask God for the strength to cope with their crises.

Your contributions help us make a difference in people's lives, so we ask for your continued support.

1. You may mail or drop off a check—payable to St. Mary's SVdP—to the parish offices at:

2. You can place an envelope—marked St. Mary's SVdP—into the weekly collection basket.

facilities update

St. Mary Parish

The lift installation began this past week, and based on what we have been told, should take about 30-45 days to complete.

We have received the final design of the new handicap ramp. The new design includes heated concrete and 'base' lighting to illuminate the ramp at night. The engineer and contractor are working on getting the permit, while we also work with the Historical Society to stay within the requirements of the historic commission.

This year marks the 129th Anniversary of St.

the family connection

strengthening families dealing with addiction

The Family Connection is a parish-based ministry that has been in existence since 2017. It provides support for families dealing with alcohol and/or drug abuse of a child, spouse, grandchild or friend. Our aim is to provide families/friends with a better understanding of the disease of addiction through educational reading materials, videos, and discussions. We also have speakers who share their stories of recovery and how they are now living healthy, happy lives.

This confidential meeting provides a compassionate and supportive environment that encourages those in attendance to share their questions, feelings and concerns in order to learn from each other and gain hope during a very difficult time.

Please contact nancyk@theholyrood.org for further information or if you would like to join us.

Support our Parishes

with an IRA Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD) before December 31, 2021

People who are 72 or older and have traditional IRAs may use them to make charitable gifts in 2021. Both convenient and tax-advantaged, a qualified charitable distribution (QCD) from an IRA allows a donor to direct pre-tax assets to charitable organizations, like St. Mary's, St. John's or St. Margaret's, without incurring any tax. The QCD is not recognized as income, so donors receive a tax benefit and could possibly decrease the amount of your taxable social security benefits. Gifts of any amount, up to a maximum of $100,000 per IRA plan owner per calendar year, may be made this way.

As we need to keep the finances separate, when making a gift, please be sure to indicate to which parish—St. Mary, St. Margaret of Scotland or St. John the Evangelist—you would like your gift processed.

Your generosity will help our parishes to continue building the programs and ministries for the present and future growth of our faith communities. Please feel free to contact your financial advisor for additional information about using your IRA to make a gift to your parish.

From the Pastor

This weekend we celebrate both Christmas and the feast of the Holy Family, and as I was reflecting on the meaning of these feast days I thought about my own childhood. In so many ways, I believe my family was typical of most large families. My parents were loving and caring towards each other and towards my brothers, my sisters and myself. We always had a roof over our heads, food on the table, and clothes on our backs, and we were a close-knit family. Every night we gathered at the table for dinner by 6 PM, and afterwards would spend time together discussing how our day went or arguing about world events. We played a lot of cards and other games on the weekends and just generally hung out together as a family.

My brothers and sisters and I did a lot together—particularly fighting. Our fights could be both physical and verbal and—as you can imagine—mostly took place when Mom and Dad were not home. I would say that we were the typical dysfunctional American family—definitely not the Brady bunch. Of course I am not sure I have ever met a family that was not dysfunctional in some way. It probably stems from the fact that we can choose our friends but not our family. But, I still consider the members of my family to be the most important people in my life, and I feel truly blessed by the people God put in my life.

As I reflect on my own family life and that of the Holy Family, I wonder what similarities there might be. Is it possible that the Holy Family is the only truly functional family? I believe we are all called to be a holy family, but how is that possible in the midst of our brokenness? I think Jesus, Mary and Joseph became a Holy Family because of the way they dealt with issues that arose in their lives. They did not have all things perfect. First of all, King Herod was trying to kill their child, and so they had to flee their country as refugees. They had to live in a different country with people of a different culture until King Herod died. They were poor and marginalized, and yet, through it all they never lost faith in God. Being a holy family is not about having all things perfect; rather, it is about how we choose to address the issues that arise in our family. Mary and Joseph taught Christ to remain centered in God and that is where we see their holiness. Christ was always ready to accept the will of God because Mary and Joseph led the way. Their example became the example that Christ lived by.

For Mary and Joseph, life was never about what was best for themselves. It was about ministering to the needs of the other. It was about being Christ to the other. Love was not about how they felt; rather, it was about how they treated each other. They were instruments of God's love, seen through the love that was acted out in their relationship. They were living examples of true love, which is total self-giving. It was their willingness to put aside their personal needs for the good of the other.

Through witnessing the love Mary and Joseph had for each other, Jesus learned about the unconditional love that He was destined to live out. He came to discover through their marriage what it means to be the Christ. Their dying to self that they expressed each day of their lives was an example and foreshadowing of the cross. Jesus discovered his vocation through the lived vocations of Mary and Joseph. Jesus more easily recognized the way of salvation by observing how his parents modeled it.

We learn from our parents who we are called to be, and the ways we are called to discover that truth. Mary and Joseph played that role in a powerful way in the life of Christ. As we contemplate the meaning of this day in our own family's life, we are reminded that being holy is not about being perfect, but rather, it is about being open to God's grace. It is allowing God to be the center of our family's life and allowing our faith to be the source of how we will live as a family. Because of our brokenness, at times we may be better at it than at other times. But the wonderful thing about being a family is that it is not about getting it right all the time, but being able to mess up and grow together as a family, always searching for God's help and guidance.

May we look to Mary and Joseph then, not to see how we have failed as a family, but rather, what is possible when God is truly at the center of our family.

If you have any questions about anything, please do not hesitate to ask me directly, or send your questions to me at fr.brian@theholyrood.org.

Please keep me in your prayers.

From our Faith Formation Associate

Shaun Bradley

Christmas traditions are beautiful things. For some people, they pour all their effort into getting thoughtful gifts for their loved ones. For others, it's all about the tree and getting the ornaments hung, to bring joy and beauty to the house. For others still, it might be the long baking sessions as a family, and then enjoying the fruits of your labor. For me, the one tradition that means the most is my family's Nativity set.

For years now, setting up the Nativity has been my biggest priority, and the first thing I want to do in Advent. I don't remember when it became my priority—probably the first year I had to set it up on my own without my brother's help. Now though, it's the one thing during Advent I long for the most. I want to hang the angel. I want to place the manger in the middle, with Mary and Joseph kneeling on either side. I can't wait to group the shepherds together on one side and the kings on the other, and I even love arranging the animals all about in the fake hay. Most importantly, I look forward to hiding the Baby Jesus until Christmas morning. And this joy, this expectation, extends to Christmas morning when I rush downstairs to place the Baby Jesus in His proper place, laying in a feeding trough.

You do know that's what the word manger means—right? The manger is not the structure/stable/cave: it's the feeding trough, for animals. That's where Jesus was laid after His birth, in a long narrow channel where animals would go to eat. If you're surprised by this, then you are a lot like me, who for a long time thought the word manger meant the structure. However, like many things in our faith, this isn't about semantics. When God set the plan in motion for His Incarnation, He knew exactly what He was doing and all the little details that would go into it. Think about it. While it may sound strange to say Jesus was laid in a feeding trough, it certainly isn't weird for us to associate Jesus with food. This is exactly what we do each Sunday when we receive Jesus in the Eucharist. In a sense, the Mass is our much more, sanitary feeding trough. Just moments after His birth, the Lord was already preparing us for the Eucharist.

This Christmas, remember the manger. Whenever you place a figure in your Nativity or any time you see a Nativity, think of the “source and summit” of our faith. Even during the celebration of His birth, we already see the sacrifice that He will make for us, the sacrifice we remember in the Eucharist. When I place the Baby Jesus this Christmas morning, I will think of the Eucharist, the food of eternal life, and I pray that you will too.

From our Senior Priest in Residence

Fr. Ray Benoit

At Christmas, we celebrate God coming into our world as a needy, helpless infant. The rejoicing of this season is the arrival of Jesus... God's gift of a new beginning for humankind that will make everything different and everything possible. The story of Jesus' birth places this new beginning in the midst of a world of oppression and injustice, cruelty and poverty, homelessness and insecurity.

More than 2,000 years ago, the angel told the shepherds to look for God in the ordinary, everyday experience of seeing an infant wrapped in swaddling clothes, the common clothing of poor babies. The message of the Incarnation is that God is willing to meet us wherever we are, whatever our circumstances may be. We must take the time and make the effort to recognize God in the Christmas miracle and appreciate that Jesus comes to bring God's gifts of peace, hope, and love.

For many people, Christmas is just a holiday, and a stressful one at that. It's a time for buying gifts that didn't need to be bought, out of a budget that couldn't afford them. It's a time for squeezing parties and extra events into a schedule that was already too full. It's a time in which many feel overcommitted when what they need to do is slow down and be humbly grateful for God's precious gifts.

Christmas should be a time of peace, not fear and unrest. We fear we may overlook someone on our gift list, or maybe they won't like what we bought them, or maybe they will think our gift is too cheap. For some, Christmas brings the added tension of bringing together fractured families. And so, instead of peace, they dread the inevitable conflicts.

Christmas should be a time of hope, not doubt and cynicism. Christmas is poised at the crossroads of the past and the future. A previous year with its blessings and its trials is slipping away gone. A new year looms ahead, full of uncertainty. Yet, here is Christmas, the celebration of a sacred birth more than 2,000 years ago, a perennial shining light in our hearts because God has blessed us with hope.

Christmas should be a time of love, not resentment and animosity. Christmas is centered around the greatest love story ever, that God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, God's greatest gift given to meet our greatest need - to be loved!

A tiny baby came into a dark world, shining light across the barren landscape, a light that some 2,000 years later still invites us to come into the warmth and comfort of God's grace to share precious gifts of peace, hope, and love. May these be the gifts that we open your hearts to receive, not only this Christmas Season, but each and every day.
