Dear Parishioners,

I went up to NH with three priest friends from seminary for a few days of skiing. Last Saturday afternoon, three of us went down with Covid symptoms. By Sunday, all three of us had tested positive for Covid-19. The fourth priest had no symptoms and didn't get tested. After a short debate, the three of us voted the fourth as "patient zero" and are undecided if he gets invited to the next trip. I guess there are 3 kinds of friends: there's friends, there's good friends, and there's friends who are still friends after they share a global pandemic with you.

The first couple of days weren't pretty and seemed to get worse. I got in touch with my doctor on Monday and he gave me a few prescriptions—an antibiotic, a steroid, and cough syrup. Once the medicine kicked in, I turned the corner and am on the upswing. I have a hacking cough that's been lingering toward the end of the week, so I thought it best to get priests to cover this weekend as well. I'm not trying to add myself to anyone's third group of friends.

Thank you to all the parishioners who have called to check in on me, dropped off soup and food, and kept me in your prayers. I'm deeply grateful to Fr. Smith, Fr. O'Hara, Msgr. Theroux, and Fr. Ricci for making the time to offer all the Masses at St. Joe's the past week.

I've fallen a bit behind in office work but will use the Monday holiday to get a good start to the week. I apologize if I am behind in returning calls. I hope to catch up over the next few days.

Have a great week!

God Bless,
*Father Stowe
