REFLECT & RESPOND

First Reading

The prophet Isaiah reflects on his obedience to God's call regardless of personal suffering that he endured. Isaiah found strength in his faith and fidelity to God. How does your faith help frame your suffering?

Second Reading

Paul speaks of Jesus' humility as central to his divine identity. What does this teach us about God's nature?

Gospel Reading

We hear today Mark's account of the Passion of our Lord. What parts of the passion narrative are you drawn to?

LIVE THE LITURGY

What an ironic twist of events! Jesus is hailed with palm branches as he comes down a street one minute and faces agonizing suffering and death on a cross the next. Does any of this make any sense? They shouted, "hosanna to our King," out of one side of their mouths and, "crucify him," out of the other. At first glance it seems like such hypocrisy. Yet, when we step back there may be more truth to the story than we care to admit. We struggle with Jesus. We hail him in our churches but struggle to figure out what to do with him on our streets. We are fine when we hear pious renderings of his messages and preaching but wince when it gets to the part about changing the way we conduct business and becoming more sensitive to the disadvantaged, poor and marginalized. We invoke God's name when we want victory and keep silence when it comes to global solidarity. We talk out of both sides of our mouths too, looking only to what works or suits us at the time and leaving the rest. There exists in each one of us a person who hails our King with hosannas and a person who is all too willing to choose Jesus over Barabbas for the cross. Something to think about this Holy Week!

CATHOLIC Q & A

Question: I've heard people make reference to "keeping the Holy Silence," what is that?

Answer: There is a time and a place for everything—to eat, play, work, rest, socialize, have fun and pray. The way we behave at home isn't the same as when we visit someone else's home, we respect the rules of the house. Pilgrims to holy sites around the world are expected to behave a certain way when they visit—to be quiet and pray, not to take pictures during the Liturgy, take off their hats, etc. They comply with these rules of etiquette and show the proper reverence in those places because they recognize them as holy.

Our parish churches are holy houses of God, just like the Vatican and religious sites in the Holy Land, where people gather to pray and worship God. Being quiet and respectful of others desire to pray in church is "keeping the Holy Silence."

The holy silence is a time to converse with God. Taking this time before Mass begins to quiet our minds so we can focus on God, by praying and reading the Scriptures that will be read at Mass, helps us to fully enter into the celebration. After Mass, it is an opportunity to thank the Lord and prepare yourself to take Christ out into the world with you.

A better place to have conversations with family and friends is well outside the church itself. Certainly those conversations are important, they allow us to catch up on things, support each other when discussing challenges or sharing good news but the better place is outside the church proper, especially when we notice that others are still in prayer.
