PASTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Parishioners and Friends of Holy Family Parish,

This weekend, we are celebrating the World Day of Consecrated life. Recently, I came across a quote that summarizes our appreciation for those presently in and others who are discerning a vocation to consecrated life. "Consecrated men and women are a special treasure in the Church who allow the love of Jesus to become tangible. By dedicating their entire lives to following Christ, consecrated persons are particularly able to reach out to those on the peripheries of our society and bring the message of the Gospel to all those in need," said Bishop James Checchio of Metuchen, chairman of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops' Committee on Clergy, Consecrated Life, and Vocations.

The Catechism of the Catholic Church gives us a glimpse into its different forms. Here is a brief summary of the forms of consecrated life.

Eremitic Life - Without always professing the three evangelical counsels publicly, hermits "devote their life to the praise of God and salvation of the world through a stricter separation from the world, the silence of solitude and assiduous prayer and penance."

Consecrated Virgins - From apostolic times Christian virgins, called by the Lord to cling only to him with greater freedom of heart, body, and spirit, have decided with the Church's approval to live in the respective states of virginity "for the sake of the Kingdom of heaven."

Religious Life - Religious life was born in the East during the first centuries of Christianity. Lived within institutes canonically erected by the Church, it is distinguished from other forms of consecrated life by its liturgical character, public profession of the evangelical counsels, fraternal life led in common, and witness given to the union of Christ with the Church.

Secular Institutes - A secular institute is an institute of consecrated life in which the Christian faithful living in the world strive for the perfection of charity and work for the sanctification of the world especially from within."

Societies of Apostolic Life - Alongside the different forms of consecrated life are "societies of apostolic life whose members without religious vows pursue the particular apostolic purpose of their society, and lead a life as brothers or sisters in common according to a particular manner of life.

We lift up our hearts in joyful prayer for all those called to Consecrated life.

With my prayers,

Fr. Ryan

MENSAJE DEL PASTOR

Estimados feligreses y amigos de la parroquia de la Sagrada Familia,

Este fin de semana celebramos la Jornada Mundial de la Vida Consagrada. Recientemente me encontré con una cita que resume nuestro agradecimiento por aquellos que actualmente están en y otros que están discerniendo una vocación a la vida consagrada.

"Los hombres y mujeres consagrados son un tesoro especial en la Iglesia que permiten que el amor de Jesús se manifieste. Al dedicar toda su vida a seguir a Cristo, las personas consagradas son particularmente capaces de llegar a las periferias de nuestra sociedad y llevar el mensaje del Evangelio a todos los necesitados", dijo el obispo James Checchio de Metuchen, Presidente del del Comité de la Conferencia de Obispos Católicos sobre el Clero, la Vida Consagrada y las Vocaciones.

El Catecismo de la Iglesia Católica nos da una idea de sus diferentes formas. He aquí un breve resumen de las formas de vida consagrada.

Vida eremítica - Sin siempre profesar públicamente los tres consejos evangélicos, los ermitaños "dedican su vida a la alabanza de Dios y la salvación del mundo a través de una separación más estricta del mundo, el silencio de la soledad y la oración y la penitencia".

Virgenes consagradas - Desde los tiempos apostólicos las vírgenes cristianas, llamadas por el Señor a aferrarse sólo a él con mayor libertad de corazón, cuerpo y espíritu, han decidido con la aprobación de la Iglesia vivir en los respectivos estados de virginidad "por el bien del Reino del cielo."

Vida religiosa: la vida religiosa nació en Oriente durante los primeros siglos del cristianismo. Vivido en institutos canónicamente erigidos por la Iglesia, se distingue de otras formas de vida consagrada por su carácter litúrgico, la profesión pública de los consejos evangélicos, la vida fraterna en común y el testimonio de la unión de Cristo con la Iglesia.

Institutos seculares - "Un instituto secular es un instituto de vida consagrada en el que los fieles cristianos que viven en el mundo luchan por la perfección de la caridad y trabajan por la santificación del mundo, especialmente desde dentro".

Sociedades de vida apostólica - Junto a las diferentes formas de vida consagrada hay "sociedades de vida apostólica cuyos miembros sin votos religiosos persiguen el propósito apostólico particular de su sociedad, y llevan una vida como hermanos o hermanas en común según una forma particular de vida.

Elevamos nuestro corazón en gozosa oración por todos los llamados a la vida consagrada.

Con mis oraciones,

Padre Ryan

The Apostle Paul says, “I have become all things to all [people], to save at least some.” 1Cor 9:22b

Everyone should live in the Lord as they have been called to the Lord (1Cor 7), we heard last week from Saint Paul, and now become all things to all people.

Our lives are a gift from God, but yet to some it seems a burden. When we accept the reality of this God-given gift, we can start our journey towards paradise. Yes, it is not all paved with roses, but knowing this is the true wisdom. Only wisdom that comes from the Spirit of God can make sense of knowledge that we acquire along the way (Prv 4:7). Now, knowledge without wisdom is of little use, for the knowledge is squandered by the very thought that brought about its inception. When we fill our lives with God’s Commandments and His instructions to be a source of solace for others, which is our duty (Prv 4:13), then our burdens are lifted and our sacrifices are made bearable. If we fill our lives with useless endeavors, foolish activities and evil deeds or with a thirst for material wealth and power, we replace God’s love and compassion for the world with the death and nothingness to which all things become in the natural world. It is easier to accept God’s will and to preach the Gospel that is our duty anyway (1Cor 9:16-18), than to act against it as the prophet Jonah tried and find we must go down that road anyway.

The wise seek God’s Spirit in all their actions and words so that these actions and words may become the wisdom for the knowledge that they seek. So, becoming all things to all people is merely doing what is right in the eyes of God for our brethren whether we like them or not. It also means, sacrificing our efforts and sharing our gifts that we have inherited from our God for those who do not see, hear or perceive the Truth. It means not to be acknowledged for those efforts, but rather to pass on the light of Jesus through our own lives for the sake of saving even one soul.

This is what preaching the Gospel means: to become that which your brethren is in need of so that Christ Jesus may be glorified in him and in you.
