SAINT LADISLAUS CHURCH
@ HOLY FAMILY PARISH
A Sunday Reflection
by István Horváth

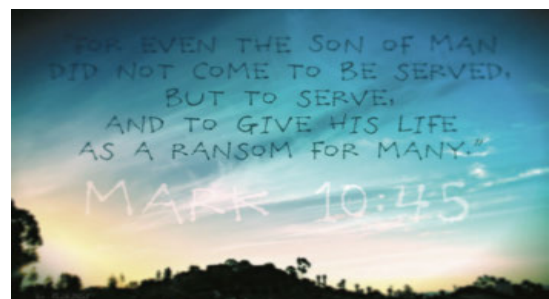

Twenty-ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Jesus summoned His Disciples and said to them, “As you know, those who are recognized as the rulers over Gentiles lord over their subjects, and their minions in power are tyrants among their people and make their authority felt. But it shall not be so among you. Rather, whoever wishes to be great [and respected] among you shall be your servant; whoever wishes to be first among you shall be the slave of all. For the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve and to give His life as a ransom for many.” Mk 10:42-43

Indeed, Jesus, Son of Man sets the example again for His Disciples to follow: an example of service to one another and to the world. Unlike the rulers of the world, who are tyrants in their own interest and make their authority felt over the working class and the poor so that they may live their lives of opulence and debauchery, while the rest of the world serves their sins. The imitation of Christ is to serve God by serving your fellow man, and if need be give your life to save their soul. That is living the Truth of the Gospel.

So, do not ask God for such things that bring you praise and elevate your importance in the sight of men. These things the hypocrites do in the places of congregation and in the streets and on television to win the praise of others or for money. Seek your God in silence and in the depths of your soul. Remove yourself from the world when possible and be still. Listen for your God in the breath of His Spirit and emulate His Son, Jesus Christ.

Sing praises and hymns to the Living God, giving thanks always and everywhere for all the gifts and graces you have received no matter how insignificant it may seem, and rejoice in His Spirit of life so that you too may have life in you by sharing all these with those you meet. “By making His life a reparation offering, the Father’s will shall be accomplished in Him.” Is 53:10 – “giving His life as a ransom for many.”
