Notes from the Pastor

Abraham and Sarah were a righteous couple, but they were a bit perplexed. When God established His covenant with Abraham, He promised to make his descendants as numerous as the stars in the sky. The problem was that Abraham and Sarah were childless despite their many tries. At one point, desperate to give her husband a child, Sarah gave him her servant Hagar. Indeed, Hagar gave birth to Ishmael. Eventually, God promised Abraham that Sarah would bear him a son whom he would name Isaac. Abraham was incredulous and laughed in God's face, but God was true to His word and today's first reading chronicles an important encounter leading to Isaac's birth.

The scripture tells us that Abraham was sitting at the entrance of his tent in the heat of the day when God appeared to Him in the form of three men. While the scripture doesn't specifically say God was appearing to Abraham, Abraham's behavior clearly betrays his knowledge that God was visiting him. What did he do? He asked Sarah to help him offer hospitality to the three passersby. They did not offer just any hospitality, they invited the men into their home and provided the very best hospitality they could. As they were leaving and precisely because of Abraham's and Sarah's generosity, the three men promised that Sarah would have her son Isaac within the year.

It's a beautiful story that demonstrates that if we want God to answer our prayers and take care of our needs, we ought to foster a generous relationship with Him. We should express our generosity through our prayer life, through our desire to spend time with Him every day, not just for a short while on Sunday morning. We should be generous in helping to maintain His home, the church, and those in need. And, we should be generous in using our talents to help build the Kingdom.

Abraham was absorbed in his relationship with God. We might even say he was enraptured with Him. What about us? God is never outdone in His generosity. Maybe we don't recognize His generosity because we only share our crumbs with Him.

Recognizing God In Your Ordinary Moments

Martha's Burdens

It's time to admit it: I've been unfair to Mary in the past. Been a little catty about her. Oooh, Mary, she's so holy. Well, do you like to eat, Mary? Who made your lunch? Yeah, that's right: it was Martha. Because you know what? It's the Marthas who get things done in the world while the Marys lounge around reading Aquinas and attending silent retreats and going to Eucharistic Adoration whenever they want.

And there you have it, folks: my bitterness on full display! I tend to identify with Martha, not with Mary, and I need to stop doing that.

Because I am not Martha instead of Mary. I am both. We are all both.

Mary was a woman; she was expected to do the serving, too. She shared that burden; she wasn't abandoning it, heaping her portion on Martha. And it's so wrong to assume that Mary didn't have the same cares and anxieties as Martha – perhaps she even had more!

Here's the difference: Mary, unlike Martha (and me, I guess) knew where to go with them.

We typically see our burdens as an impediment to a relationship with Christ. I'm so busy. I'm so overwhelmed. There are so many demands on me, on my time, on my person, on my finances. Take a number, Jesus. Get in line. But we're thinking the wrong way. Burdens aren't an obstacle that stands between us and Christ. Burdens are the straightest path to His feet.

God knows about burdens, okay? Aside from being all-wise and all-knowing, He basically completed a doctorate in suffering, taking on a human form (itself kind of a burden, if you think about it) and for 33 years lived among the hardest and heaviest burdens this world has to offer.

Why did He do this? Well, part of the reason was so that we could finally understand that our burdens aren't a barrier between us and God. On the contrary, they connect us to Him.

Are you anxious about many things? Then you need to be right where Mary is: at the feet of Jesus, with all your burdens.

Looking Ahead to Next Week

In bargaining with God, Abraham demonstrates a real persistence in prayer. Jesus invites us to persist in prayer as well, to “ask...seek... knock”. May our prayer open us to God’s will, and so build up His strength within us. In baptism we have died with Christ and have been raised to life with Him.

Welcome! Last Sunday, Lucas Valerio, son of Axel Tejada and Luisa Valerio, and Esteban Valerio, son of Emilio Leyton Astudillo and Amanda Valerio, were baptized, becoming adopted children of God and Temples of the Holy Spirit!

Prayer to St. Michael

Saint Michael Archangel, defend us in battle, be our protection against the wickedness

and snares of the devil;

may God rebuke him, we humbly pray and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly host,

by the power of God,

cast into hell Satan and all the evil spirits who wander about the world seeking the ruin of souls.
