New Bedford Council on Aging, New Bedford, MA

03-1071

FROM THE DESK OF THE EDITORS

To say that this year 2020 has been a year like no other would definitely be an understatement for sure. It has been nine months now since the greatest upheaval of all time called C-O-V-I-D has impacted our lives in a very real way.

While it is certainly true that “we are all in this together” there are times when we all feel very much alone and this is perfectly normal given the circumstances that we now live under.

There are safe ways that we can reach out to others through phone calls, notes or thinking of you messages, they go a long way and in the process, not only to brighten up those who we safely reach out to, but also ourselves.

Know that the Council on Aging is thinking of you at this time and looking forward to getting back to a “New Normal,” together with you.

Call The Council on Aging main office at 508-991-6251 for admission information.

Some of the Council on Aging’s Board of Directors have taken on a new volunteer project. They are checking in by phone every few weeks with a great deal of our seniors who utilize or have utilized our services in the past...In this time of Pandemic isolation it’s nice to hear a friendly voice on the other end of the phone. We are always looking for other folks who might be interested in making these kinds of connections as well. If this peaks your interest, or you would like to receive a friendly call, give us a call at the Council on Aging...
