Suhair Awwad, representing the Bethlehem Christian Families; a nonprofit organization through Land of Peace will be selling Crucifixes, religious art work, and rosaries, all made of olive wood which is native to Israel and Bethlehem. Since tourism has dropped significantly, Christian families in the Holy Land, who depend on tourists, have been greatly affected. The goal of this mission is to help many organizations and Churches in the Middle East. Sale of these goods will help them thrive and give you the opportunity to have “something” authentic from the Holy Land. Quotes of the Week

“The Son of God did not choose Jerusalem as the place of his incarnation, but Bethlehem and Nazareth, two outlying villages, far from the clamor of the news and the powers of the time. Yet Jerusalem was the city loved by the Lord, the ‘holy city’ chosen by God as his dwelling. Here, in fact, dwelt the teachers of the Law, the scribes and Pharisees, the chief priests and the elders of the people.

“This is why the choice of Bethlehem and Nazareth tells us that periphery and marginality are preferred by God. Jesus was not born in Jerusalem, with all the court. . . no, he was born in a periphery and he spent his life in that periphery until the age of thirty, working as a carpenter like Joseph. For Jesus, the peripheries and marginality were favored. To fail to take this fact seriously is the same as not taking seriously the Gospel and the work of God, who continues to manifest himself in the geographical and existential peripheries.

“The Lord always acts in secret in the peripheries, even in our souls, in the peripheries of the soul, of feelings, perhaps feelings of which we are ashamed; but the Lord is there to help us move forward. The Lord continues to manifest himself in the peripheries, both the geographical ones and the existential ones. In particular, Jesus goes in search of sinners; he goes into their homes, speaks with them, calls them to conversion. And he is also rebuked for this: ‘But look at this Teacher,’ say the doctors of the law, ‘Look at this Teacher: he eats with sinners, he gets dirty.’ He also goes in search of those who have done no evil but have suffered it: the sick, the hungry, the poor, the least. Jesus always goes towards the peripheries. And this should bring us great trust because the Lord knows the peripheries of our heart, the peripheries of our soul, the peripheries of our society, of our city, of our family, that is, that slightly obscure part that we do not show, perhaps out of shame.

“Joseph, who is a carpenter from Nazareth and who trusts in God’s plan for his young fiancée and for himself, reminds the Church to fix her gaze on what the world deliberately ignores. Today Joseph teaches us this: ‘Do not look so much at the things that the world praises, look into the corners, look in the shadows, look at the peripheries, at what the world does not want.’ He reminds each of us to give importance to what others discard. In this sense he is truly a master of the essential: he reminds us that what truly matters does not attract our attention, but requires patient discernment to be discovered and appreciated. To discover what matters. Let us ask him to intercede so that the whole Church may recover this insight, this ability to discern, this ability to evaluate what is essential. Let us start again from Bethlehem, let us start again from Nazareth.

“Today I would like to send a message to all the men and women who live in the most forgotten geographical peripheries of the world, or who experience situations of existential marginality. May you find in Saint Joseph the witness and protector to look to. We can turn to him with this prayer, a ‘home-made’ prayer, but one that comes from the heart: Saint Joseph, you who have always trusted God, and have made your choices guided by his providence, teach us not to count so much on our own plans but on his plan of love. You who come from the peripheries, help us to convert our gaze and to prefer what the world discards and marginalizes. Comfort those who feel alone and support those who work silently to defend life and human dignity. Amen.”

Excerpts from the first of a series of weekly talks on St. Joseph by Pope Francis, from his general audience at the Vatican on Wednesday, November 17. Published by the Vatican Dicastery for Communication in Rome.

"The U.S. bishops, and Pope Francis see things in very different ways. American Catholics for the first time in many decades have to decide if they want to follow Pope Francis or U.S. bishops, which is new, because U.S. bishops are traditionally very Roman, loyal to the pope." - Massimo Faggioli, professor of theology at Villanova University.

“Catholic bishops approve new guidance on Communion for pro-abortion rights politicians.” ABC News. November 17, 2021.

“One of the most common throwaway lines one hears from bishops, and which prefaces many of their subsequent claims and proposals, is that the culture has become overly secularized. At one level, this is obviously true, but there is something so impoverished about the bishops’ attempts to respond to the culture. The Catholic faith can exist alongside and even flourish in any and all cultures, even those that are actively hostile, but the current leadership of the bishops’ conference yearns for a return to the ghettoized church of yesteryear. They know, they must know, that this is impossible, but they do not know what else to do. They do not know how to embrace, still less to influence or evangelize, the culture of today.” - Michael Sean Winters, “US bishops lost about how to engage a culture they don't understand.” National Catholic Reporter. November 19, 2021.

OPERATION CHILLOUT

Winter Backpack Veterans Homeless Outreach collection will take place once again for us here at Christ the King Parish. The Veterans and Social Action Committees passed out 240 backpacks with a list of materials to fill them: (knit hat, thermal socks, non-leather gloves, thermal underwear, hooded sweatshirt or heavy jacket shirt). We would like to have the filled backpacks returned by December 4/5 so that we can make the distributions before the real cold weather arrives.

If you would rather, you can make a donation to help fill the backpacks with the above materials by check made out to Operation Chillout RI. Send check to Dave Vissoe, Coordinator OCO-RI, PO Box 1277, Charlestown, RI 02813 or you can make a donation to operationchillout.org/ (make a note in a memo that it is for RI).

INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

Any human success requires vigilance. Opportunities and powerful moments of encounter can easily be missed when we are not attentive. It is all too easy today to live distracted and preoccupied lives. There is so much vying for our attention that it can be hard to be selective and really focus. Caught up in this whirlwind of busyness and anxiety, we become tired and almost sleepwalk through life. Advent is a time to selectively focus. These beautiful four short weeks are a time to look backward and forward and be attentive to the human journey and God's revelation. From the beginning of time, God has been seeking our attention. He constantly reminds us of the justice he desires to bring and the promise of his abiding unconditional love. Understanding and growing in these truths requires alertness so that we can be strengthened in our faith and prepared for whatever will come. ©LPi

YOUTH CHOIR FOR CHRISTMAS

Christ the King Youth Choir will begin rehearsals on December 9 at 6 p.m. for children in grades 3-7 as we prepare to sing for Christmas! The Youth Choir will rehearse on Thursday evenings from 6-7 p.m. and will sing for the 4 p.m. Christmas Eve Mass, then monthly at the 11:30 a.m. mass through Easter. All children in grades 3-7 are welcome to join the group. We will follow safe singing procedures with the youth choir. Please contact Heather Skidds if you are interested in joining the youth choir at hskidds@gmail.com or 573-7564. Sign-up sheets are available outside the music office.

GIVING TREE

Since the Social Action Committee began our Giving Tree, parishioners here at Christ the King have given thousands of presents and gift cards to needy children for Christmas. We contribute to children in four Providence churches, in Welcome House in Peace Dale, and in the safe house for Domestic Violence, and individual families.

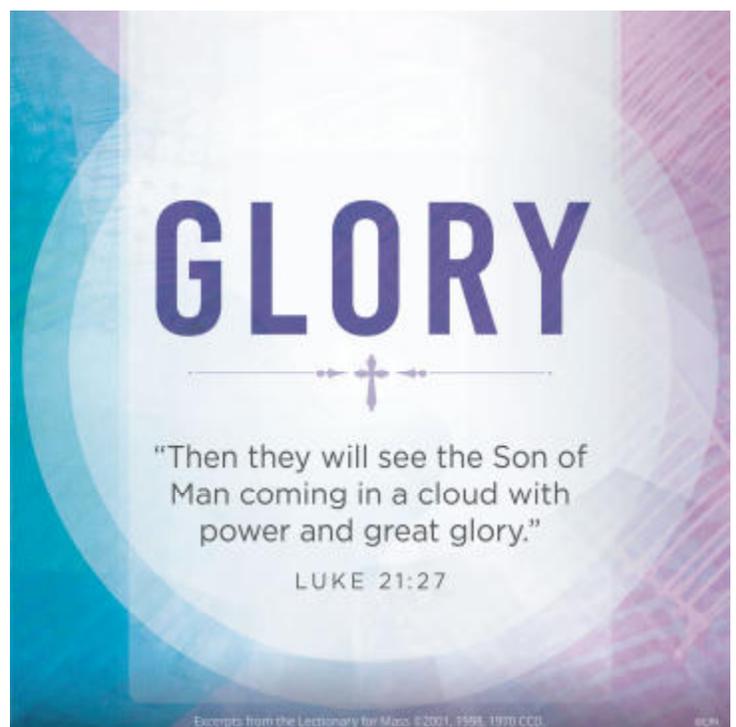

As we did last year, we are asking this year only for gift cards of $25 to Walmart, Amazon, Target, and Marshall's; it would help if you put the amount for the card on its envelope. Please drop them in the collection box in the Narthex this weekend November 27/28, and December 4/5. (It is better for us to receive four $25 cards than one for $100.) Thank you for your past (and future) generosity.

THE PROUT SCHOOL

The High School Placement Test (HSPT) will be administered for incoming 9th grade students at The Prout School on Saturday, December 4 or 11.

Discover the Prout advantage! The Prout School is one of only two high schools in Rhode Island to offer the prestigious International Baccalaureate (IB) Program. We offer rigorous academics, a strong Catholic community, amazing arts, theatre, music and dance programs, competitive athletic teams, and numerous clubs and extracurricular activities.

For more information, please call Admissions Director Sharon DeLuca at 789-9262, Ext 514 or go to www.theproutschool.org

REFLECTION

Staying awake can often be a challenge, especially when we are exhausted. Life's demands have a way of zapping every last bit of energy out of us. When we are tired it affects us not only physically, but psychologically and spiritually as well. All of our senses are dulled and diminished. We can overlook details, become disinterested, lethargic and apathetic, and detached. Getting sufficient physical rest only helps so much. We need to be rejuvenated, refreshed, and reenergized in other ways. If we are psychologically exhausted, we need to understand what is draining our emotions and taxing our relationships. If we are spiritually tired, we need to find the necessary "shot in the arm" to put us back in touch with God. Unfortunately, exhaustion is seldom limited to just one part of who we are. When we lack energy and zeal it is usually the case that everything suffers. We not only are affected physically, but psychologically and spiritually as well. In short, when we run out of gas the engine stops.

And yet, our Lord's directive is clear, "Be vigilant at all times." Even Jesus knew what "the anxieties of daily life" can do to us. One day pours into another and time quickly flies by. Any one of us can take a moment and reflect on how many wonderful, creative opportunities we miss because there is always so much "stuff" to do and so little time to do it. Usually these are missed moments of love, and if we are missing love encounters we are also missing God. Sleepwalking through life, we check the boxes next to our list of "must and have to dos" and justify it all by convincing ourselves that tomorrow is another day and there'll be more time. It may surprise us, but tomorrow is here, and time is running out. While we may like to believe that we have an "eternity" of time to do all those things that require the focus, energy, and desire we do not currently have, we don't. We're on a limited ride and time is short.

Jesus is also clear on another point. "That day [will] catch you by surprise like a trap." If we are going to be judged on love and so easily justify not having all that much time to do so, then it seems we must shift focus a bit. St. Teresa of Calcutta tells us, "We desire to be able to welcome Jesus at Christmas-time, not in a cold manger of our heart, but in a heart full of love and humility, a heart so pure, so immaculate, so warm with love for one another." Getting to this place doesn't "just happen." It requires vigilance and discipline both with a knowledge of what is really of importance and what really needs to be the focus of our energy and time. Pray, starting now and not tomorrow, that we can stay alert, be strengthened in our faith, and prepared for whatever will come. Don't miss another opportunity to love.
