Dear Friends,

We have reached the Fourth Sunday of Lent, Laetare (lay-TAR-ay) Sunday, a name taken from the Introit, or Entrance Antiphon of today’s Mass, which proclaims:

“Rejoice, Jerusalem, and all who love her. Be joyful, all who were in mourning; exult and be satisfied at her consoling breast” (Isaiah 66: 10-11).

Laetare Sunday is for us a kind of respite during the penitential season of Lent. It will be the more welcome and the more meaningful in proportion to how assiduous we have been with our Lenten penances and acts of self-denial. On this day, flowers may be placed in the sanctuary (there have been no flowers in the sanctuary thus far in Lent) and the liturgical color of rose is used.

Already by the beginning of the second Christian millennium, the celebration of Laetare Sunday was centuries-old; in those days, the Pope would emerge from the Mass of Laetare Sunday carrying a golden rose, which represented Christ, “the flower sprung from the root of Jesse” (cf. Isaiah 11) and afterwards the rose would be sent to a person or to a city as a sign of gratitude and esteem. Even today, pilgrims who go to pray at the tomb of St. Catherine of Siena at the church of Santa Maria sopra Minerva in Rome can see a golden rose placed there, a particular sign of papal gratitude and honor.

In 1216 (nearly a century before the life of our patroness, St. Catherine) Pope Innocent III preached in a sermon on this day:

“On this Sunday, which marks the middle of Lent, a measure of consoling relaxation is provided, so that the faithful may not break down under the severe strain of Lenten fast, but may continue to bear the restrictions with a refreshed and easier heart.”

It is interesting to note that in the Introit or Entrance Antiphon of today (see above), Jerusalem is clearly referred to as a mother. The Holy City of Jerusalem symbolizes and prefigures the Church, which St. John XXIII called “Mater et Magistra,” Mother and Teacher. It is from the Church that we receive the strength and nourishment of God’s Word and the Sacraments. The Church teaches, guides, and even corrects us through her doctrine, which comes to us from Christ, through the guidance of the Holy Spirit. This is why we refer to “our Holy Mother, the Church” and, properly speaking, refer to the Catholic Church, our Mother, as “she” instead of “it.”

May this Laetare Sunday be for all of us a day of joy, of peace, and of prayer, as after today we resume the penances of Lent, and move ever closer to entering once again into the week that changed the world.

God bless you!

Father Marcello

Pope Francis is vested in the rose chasuble of Laetare Sunday as he occupies the cathedra at the Basilica of St. John Lateran, his cathedral as Bishop of Rome.
To mark the culmination of thousands of hours of discussing, planning, designing, building and praying, our church, which was originally built in 1958, received its formal Consecration and the unveiling of the CHRIST AT THE CENTER project!

MASS OF DEDICATION WITH CONSECRATION OF THE CHURCH

The Video of the full Mass is on our Parish’s YouTube Channel
All photos of the Mass are on our Flickr Channel

THANKS TO THE DEDICATION CHOIR! Sincere thanks to the Dedication Choir, cantors and guest Instrumentalists that participated in last Sunday’s Mass of Dedication with the Consecration of the Church! The choir of approximately 40 singers spent several hours preparing throughout the weeks leading up to the Dedication in order to learn the vast amount of music required for the Mass. A special word of thanks also to their families for supporting them in this commitment!

Next Sunday’s Gospel: FIFTH SUNDAY OF LENT

The sisters of Lazarus sent word to Jesus, saying, "Master, the one you love is ill." When Jesus heard this he said, "This illness is not to end in death, but is for the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified through it." Now Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus. So when he heard that he was ill, he remained for two days in the place where he was. Then after this he said to his disciples, "Let us go back to Judea."

When Jesus arrived, he found that Lazarus had already been in the tomb for four days. When Martha heard that Jesus was coming, she went to meet him; but Mary sat at home. Martha said to Jesus, "Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died. But even now I know that wherever you ask of God, God will give you." Jesus said to her, "Your brother will rise." Martha said, "I know he will rise, in the resurrection on the last day." Jesus told her, "I am the resurrection and the life; whoever believes in me, even if he dies, will live, and everyone who lives and believes in me will never die. Do you believe this?" She said to him, "Yes, Lord. I have come to believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, the one who is coming into the world."

He became perturbed and deeply troubled, and said, "Where have you laid him?" They said to him, "Sir, come and see." And Jesus wept. So the Jews said, "See how he loved him." But some of them said, "Could not the one who opened the eyes of the blind man have done something so that this man would not have died?"

So Jesus, perturbed again, came to the tomb. It was a cave, and a stone lay across it. Jesus said, "Take away the stone." Martha, the dead man's sister, said to him, "Lord, by now there will be a stench; he has been dead for four days." Jesus said to her, "Did I not tell you that if you believe you will see the glory of God?" So they took away the stone. And Jesus raised his eyes and said, "Father, I thank you for hearing me. I know that you always hear me; but because of the crowd here I have said this, that they may believe that you sent me." And when he had said this, He cried out in a loud voice, "Lazarus, come out!" The dead man came out, tied hand and foot with burial bands, and his face was wrapped in a cloth. So Jesus said to them, "Untie him and let him go."

Now many of the Jews who had come to Mary and seen what he had done began to believe in him.

To be an outward sign in our community that there is good in this world and in the Church, Religious Education students & families are encouraged to perform a minimum of 5 acts of kindness during Lent. When students offer their act of kindness, they will pass along a kindness card. The hope is that kindness card will be passed to the next… and the next… and the next recipient, multiplying our acts of kindness. “Be the Good” kindness cards were distributed to students during classes along with a list of kid-friendly kindness ideas. More kindness cards are available from your Day Captain. During classes, students will fill out hearts naming the acts of kindness they did that week. The hearts will be placed on a wooden cross in the school lobby. The goal is to fill up the cross with our acts of kindness as a sign of our love for Jesus. Get the whole family involved!! We are all called to “Be the Good” in this world. Together our small acts of kindness can make a big difference!
