✧ A MESSAGE FROM OUR PASTOR ✧

Dear Friends,

As Christmastime gives way to Ordinary Time, I would like to share with you some thoughts and memories of the man, priest, and bishop who was one of the greatest preachers of the Word of God to occupy the Chair of St. Peter since St. Gregory the Great in the 7th century, and one of the most cultured and learned people in the world – Pope Benedict XVI.

I had the privilege of meeting Pope Benedict four times when I was secretary to Archbishop Lori. On each of the visits, he handed me a Rosary. On one of the visits to Pope Benedict, very present in my mind was that my elderly grandmother, back home, was very ill. As you know, it's customary that Catholics are buried with a rosary in their hands. My grandmother had an exceptional devotion to Our Lady and the Rosary – she prayed it without missing a single day for over 65 years – so when she passed away, the Rosary that was placed in her hands and buried with her was one that was personally handed to me by Pope Benedict XVI. And, the last time I met him, he even remembered my name. It was an act of exquisite kindness to a young priest that I will never forget. And I, like many of you, count among the greatest treasures and buttresses to our faith available to us in the life of the Church today the homilies, books, encyclicals, and other manifestations of the faith and the luminous intellect of Benedict XVI.

One of his homilies in particular has been especially helpful to me and influential in my own life. Each year on June 29th, the Church celebrates the Solemnity of the Holy Apostles Peter & Paul. On that day in 1951, Joseph Ratzinger was ordained to the priesthood at the Cathedral of St. Corbinian in Freising, Germany by Cardinal Michael Faulhaber. Exactly 60 years later, as Pope Benedict XVI, he delivered a homily about friendship with Christ, a friendship which had deepened and matured in his life as a disciple, as a priest, as a bishop, and as Pope. He said:

Friendship is not just about knowing someone, it is above all a communion of the will. It means that my will grows into ever greater conformity with his will. For [God's] will is not something external and foreign to me, something to which I more or less willingly submit or else refuse to submit. No, in friendship, my will grows together with his will, and his will becomes mine: this is how I become truly myself.

And he concluded with a prayer, a beautiful and simple prayer that in a way distills the thought and faith of this man who put every ounce of his extraordinary talents trustingly in the hands of Christ, so that Christ, through him, could lead so many others into a deeper friendship with himself:

Lord, help me to come to know you more and more.
Help me to be ever more at one with your will.
Help me to live my life not for myself,
but in union with you to live it for others.
Help me to become ever more your friend.

Pope Francis, at the Pope Emeritus' funeral Mass on January 5, put it so beautifully when he said: "Benedict, faithful friend of the Bridegroom, may your joy be complete as you hear His voice, now and forever!"

God bless you!

THANK YOU!!

As of Tue, Jan. 17, we have received pledges from 351 families totaling $152,594 (101.7% of our $150,000 goal).

REMEMBER: If we are able to reach our goal this year and next year, we will have enough money to replace the side parking lot, which is crumbling, and to address needed repairs to our sidewalks.

NEXT SUNDAY'S GOSPEL: THE FOURTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

When Jesus saw the crowds, he went up the mountain, and after he had sat down, his disciples came to him. He began to teach them, saying: "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are they who mourn, for they will be comforted. Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the land. Blessed are they who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be satisfied. Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy. Blessed are the clean of heart, for they will see God. Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God. Blessed are they who are persecuted for the sake of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
Blessed are you when they insult you and persecute you and utter every kind of evil against you falsely because of me. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven."

Matthew 5:1-12a

PRAY FOR THE UNBORN: Lord, Creator of

Life, you have blessed us with the privilege of bringing new life into the world. May your Holy Spirit open our hearts and minds to recognize Your special gift of children, and Your great love for each of us created in Your image and likeness. You sent Your son Jesus to redeem us and through love He entered our world. We now turn to Mary, our Mother, for her intercession as we struggle to protect innocent unborn children. Following Mary's example may we proclaim the truth of our faith, assist those in crisis and protect those most vulnerable. We ask this through Christ, Our Lord. Amen.
