EMMAUS

We have come to the end of Easter Sunday. Yes, the Solemnity of Easter was a week ago, but we must remember that Easter is such a big deal that the Church gives us eight days to celebrate it properly. We call that eight-day period the "Easter Octave." The second Sunday of Easter – Divine Mercy Sunday – is the final day in the octave. From there we transition into the season of Eastertime, which lasts until Pentecost. As we find ourselves this weekend in the "dusk" of Easter Sunday, it's fitting to consider what happened that evening of the first Easter Sunday, 2000 years ago.

The Gospel of Luke gives an account of two followers of Christ who were leaving the city of Jerusalem that afternoon, heading to a town seven miles away called Emmaus (Luke 24:13-35). As they were walking along with troubled hearts, discussing the events of the previous days, Jesus "drew near and walked with them, but their eyes were prevented from recognizing Him." Jesus asks them what they were talking about, they tell Him everything that is bothering them. They tell Him about how Jesus of Nazareth, the great man of God, had been betrayed by their chief priests and put to death by their Roman rulers, and they share with Him the strange reports they received from some of His other followers, who told them about the empty tomb and the message of angels who said that Jesus was alive. At this, the Lord, still unrecognized, says to them: "Oh, how foolish you are! How slow of heart to believe all that the prophets spoke!" And He begins to explain to them how all of these events were the fulfillment of the prophets and the promises made to their ancestors. As they listen, their hearts begin to burn with excitement, as the pieces start to fit together.

When they arrive at their destination, it is dark, so they eagerly invite this mysterious stranger to stay with them instead of going on further. The gospel tells us: "and it happened that, while He was with them at table, He took bread said the blessing, broke it, and gave it to them. With that their eyes were opened and they recognized Him, but He vanished from their sight." When He disappears, they aren't upset that He has left them. Rather, they decide at once to hurry back to Jerusalem despite the darkness outside. They can't wait to share what they've seen and experienced with their fellow disciples, who share with them their own experience of the resurrection of Christ from the dead.

Over the centuries, many have made the connection between the encounter with the risen Christ on the road to Emmaus and the Mass. Like the Mass, this story begins with a reflection on sacred scripture and ends with Christ Jesus repeating what He did for His disciples at the Last Supper. Like the gospel story, when the Eucharist is made present through the priest, we recognize with eyes of faith that it is no longer bread, but the risen Lord in the flesh. Like those disciples on the road to Emmaus, we might come to Mass weighed down by current events in the world and in the Church. But we should not be afraid to share with Him those things that weigh us down, and allow Him to speak to us through the Word and strengthen us with the Most Blessed Sacrament, so that we might go forth refreshed and renewed as a family of faith to proclaim the news of the Paschal Mystery with hearts on fire with love and gratitude.

In Christ,
Fr. John

Mass for The Second Sunday of Easter

Introit: As newborn babes, alleluia, desire ye the sincere milk of the word, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, as it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be world without end. Amen.

First Reading: Acts 4:32-35

The community of believers was of one heart and mind, and no one claimed that any of his possessions was his own, but they had everything in common. With great power the apostles bore witness to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and great favor was accorded them all. There was no needy person among them, for those who owned property or houses would sell them, bring the proceeds of the sale, and put them at the feet of the apostles, and they were distributed to each according to need.

Psalm: Let all those who fear the Lord say his mercy endureth forever. This is the day the Lord hath made. Let us rejoice in it and be glad. The stone which the builders rejected hath become the cornerstone. By the Lord hath this been done. It is marvelous in our sight.

Second Reading: 1 Jn 5:1-6

Beloved:
Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ is begotten by God, and everyone who loves the Father loves also the one begotten by him. In this way we know that we love the children of God when we love God and obey his commandments. For the love of God is this, that we keep his commandments. And his commandments are not burdensome, for whoever is begotten by God conquers the world. And the victory that conquers the world is our faith. Who indeed is the victor over the world but the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?

This is the one who came through water and blood, Jesus Christ, not by water alone, but by water and blood. The Spirit is the one that testifies, and the Spirit is truth.

Gospel: Jn 20:19-31

On the evening of that first day of the week, when the doors were locked, where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in their midst and said to them, "Peace be with you." When He had said this, He showed them His hands and His side. The disciples rejoiced when they saw the Lord. Jesus said to them again, "Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you." And when He had said this, He breathed on them and said to them. "Receive the Holy Spirit. Whose sins you forgive are forgiven them, and whose sins you retain are retained."

Thomas, called Didymus, one of the Twelve, was not with them when Jesus came. So the other disciples said to him, "We have seen the Lord." But he said to them, "Unless I see the mark of the nails in his hands and put my finger into the nail marks and put my hand into his side, I will not believe."

Now a week later his disciples were again inside and Thomas was with them. Jesus came, although the doors were locked, and stood in their midst and said, "Peace be with you." Then he said to Thomas, "Put your finger here and see my hands, and bring your hand and put it into my side, and do not be unbelieving, but believe." Thomas answered and said to Him, "My Lord and my God!" Jesus said to him, "Have you come to believe because you have seen me? Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed."

Now Jesus did many other signs in the presence of his disciples that are not written in this book. But these are written that you may come to believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that through this belief you may have life in His name.

Communion Antiphon: Feel the place that the nails were, do not doubt but believe.

A special thank you to those who sent in Easter Flower Offerings in memory of their loved ones.

All names are placed on the altar in their memory.

Prayer to Saint Michael the Archangel

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle.
Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil.
May God rebuke him, we humbly pray,
and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly host,
by the power of God, cast into hell Satan,
and all the evil spirits,
who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls.
Amen.

THE WILD GOOSE

The Fruits of the Holy Spirit

The Wild Goose with Fr. Dave Pivonka

"The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control...if we live in the Spirit, let us also follow the Spirit." - Galatians 5:22-25

By the way we live and how we treat people, our lives produce some type of fruit. The sort of fruit our lives produce has eternal consequences for us personally as well as a profound impact on those people we love. In fact, our fruit impacts all of our relationships, from the most casual to the most intimate. When we live animated by the Holy Spirit, our lives produce fruit that not only makes our own life more peaceful, patient, and loving but also influences positively those whom we encounter each and every day.

The Search Episode 6 Am I Saved?

What Jesus did for us through his life, death and resurrection was the greatest act of love in history. He saved us. He did this for each one of us. Personally. But some might feel unworthy of this gift of love. We may feel we have too much baggage. We may feel unlovable. But God didn't come to reveal himself to us on a pedestal, he came to enter into our messy human condition. To fix us from within. To transform us from the inside out. Some might be surprised by how generous the love of God really is. We don't deserve God's love, but that's the amazing reality of God's mercy. This relationship with God isn't all about our love for Him. It's about His love for us that changes our lives forever.
