Seeking Refuge

Over the past week we have been doing much as a nation to commemorate the terrible events of September 11, 2001. Part of the ritual has been to share with each other our own experiences of that horrible day, which set so many things in motion and changed our world in so many ways. I was living in Spain at the time, which is six hours ahead of us here on the east coast, so it was mid-afternoon when my friend called me into the room where he was watching television. When I saw the first tower on fire, I thought it must have been a tragic accident. But then we watched as a plane flew into the second tower, and realized that we were witnessing something else entirely.

A long-time parishioner of St. Cecilia told me that Fr. Dave Riley, who was pastor at the time, decided that there needed to be a Mass for people that evening. Even though it was a Tuesday night and the Mass was unscheduled, I'm told that the church was packed. And for months following the attacks, the churches were full. The shocking scene of the collapsing towers; the vision of ordinary people covered in ash and soot trying to make their way home – it was an irruption of violence and destruction and chaos into an otherwise ordinary Tuesday morning. People felt a need to find a place where they could try to comprehend what had happened. And, for a while, a great many people sought refuge in church.

Psalm 91 states: Because you have made the Lord your refuge, the Most High your habitation, no evil shall befall you, no scourge come near your tent. When the reality of our fragility, and the fragility of the order we create for ourselves, is made plain to our eyes, it overwhelms us with terror. That's what the events of 9/11 did to us. 9/11 revealed something to us that we had overlooked; it took away from us something we had taken for granted. Foundations shaken, we craved safety and protection. But the churches did not stay full for very long. Sadly, I think that happened in part because of scandals in the Church, but also because I think we kind of got used to the new reality.

The truth of our fragility, however, and the fragility of the order we create for ourselves, remains. It's part of what we need to remember when we reflect on the horror of 9/11 and all that has occurred since. We are in God's hands always. It is there that we find comfort in the midst of distress, for He is the One who assures the listener as He speaks to us in that same Psalm: Because he cleaves to me in love, I will deliver him; I will protect him, because he knows my name. When he calls to me, I will answer him; I will be with him in trouble, I will rescue him and honor him. With long life I will satisfy him, and show him my salvation.

 20 years after the terrorist attacks, we entrust our nation and all who have experienced the horrors of the post-9/11 world to the care of Our Lord and His Blessed Mother. May those who seek refuge find it there.

In Christ,
 Fr. John

Entrance: Remember those O Lord 575

Introit: Give peace O Lord, unto them that wait for Thee, and let Thy prophets be found to be faithful: O hear the prayers of Thy servants, and Thy people Israel. Glory to to the Father, and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, as it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be world without end. Amen.

First Reading: Is 50:5-9a

The Lord God opens my ear that I may hear; and I have not rebelled, have not turned back. I gave my back to those who beat me, my cheeks to those who plucked my beard; my face I did not shield from buffets and spitting. The Lord God is my help, therefore I am not disgraced; I have set my face like flint, knowing that I shall not be put to shame. He is near who upholds my right; if anyone wishes to oppose me, let us appear together. Who disputes my right? Let that man confront me. See, the Lord God is my help; who will prove me wrong?

Responsorial Psalm: I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living.

Second Reading: Jas 2:14-18

What good is it, my brothers and sisters, if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can that faith save him? If a brother or sister has nothing to wear and has no food for the day, and one of you says to them, "Go in peace, keep warm, and eat well," but you do not give them the necessities of the body, what good is it? So also faith of itself, if it does not have works, is dead. Indeed someone might say, "You have faith and I have works." Demonstrate your faith to me without works, and I will demonstrate my faith to you from my works.

Gospel: Mk 8:27-35

Jesus and his disciples set out for the villages of Caesarea Philippi. Along the way He asked his disciples, "Who do people say that I am?" They said in reply, "John the Baptist, others Elijah, still others one of the prophets." And He asked them, "But who do you say that I am?" Peter said to Him in reply, "You are the Christ." Then He warned them not to tell anyone about Him.

He began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer greatly and be rejected by the elders, the chief priests and the scribes, and be killed, and rise after three days. He spoke this openly. Then Peter took Him aside and began to rebuke Him. At this He turned around and, looking at his disciples, rebuked Peter and said, "Get behind me, Satan. You are thinking not as God does, but as human beings do." He summoned the crowd with His disciples and said to them, "Whoever wishes to come after me must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me. For whoever wishes to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake and that of the gospel will save it."

Offertory: Be Thou my Vision 623

Communion Antiphone: If a man wishes to come after me, let him take up his cross and follow me.

Closing: Lift High the Cross 606

Prayer to Saint Michael the Archangel

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly host, by the power of God, cast into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls.
 Amen.

FALL BIBLE STUDY

Many Catholics want to read the Bible because they know it's God's Word, but they give up because it seems so complicated.

Unlocking the Mystery of the Bible, with the presenter Jeff Cavins, helps you get the "big picture" by showing how fourteen narrative books of the Bible tell the complete story of salvation history from Adam and Eve to Christ and the Church. You will be able to make sense of the Bible, discover the remarkable connections between the Old and New Testaments, see how the sacraments, the Church and our entire Catholic Faith is rooted in Scripture and much more.

Unlocking the Mystery of the Bible is only eight sessions; the study program includes video presentations that explore all twelve time periods of The Bible Timeline Chart, group discussion and some homework.

Order your book at: <https://ascensionpress.com/collections/unlocking-the-mystery> - $26.95 gives you both the book and access to the on-line study and video at Ascension Press for one year. You'll also receive a new Bible Timeline Chart and Bookmark.

Fall Book Study

Tactics: A Game Plan for Discussing Your Christian Convictions

In a world increasingly indifferent to Christian truth, followers of Christ need to be equipped to communicate with those who do not speak their language or accept their source of authority. In Tactics, Gregory Koukl demonstrates how to artfully regain control of conversations, keeping them moving forward in constructive ways through thoughtful diplomacy. You'll learn how to stop challengers in their tracks and how to turn the tables on questions or provocative statements. Most importantly, you'll learn how to get people thinking about Jesus. Tactics provides the game plan for communicating the compelling truth about Christianity with confidence and grace.

The study will start September 8th and run Wednesdays from 6:45 p.m. - 8:15 p.m. at St. Cecilia's McDermott Hall. Space is limited. To purchase the book and reserve your spot email noelle.gross@gmail.com or call 857-345-0808.
