Dr. Irenaeus

I remember years ago doing a little research to find out if my birthday was also the feast day of a saint. When I found the answer, I said to myself in disappointment: "Who is St. Irenaeus?" As you read this, you might be saying the same thing. But these days St. Irenaeus has been making a big comeback. Just a couple of weeks ago, Pope Francis announced his intention to declare this 2nd century martyr a Doctor of the Church. The word "doctor" in this case comes from the Latin word for "teacher," and these saints are recognized as stand-outs for their ability to communicate and explain the teachings of the Church. Only 36 other saints have this title, including big ones like St. Augustine, St. Thomas Aquinas, St. Teresa of Avila, and St. Catherine of Siena.

St. Irenaeus was from modern-day Turkey, where he was born in 130 A.D. He learned the faith from St. Polycarp, who was a disciple of St. John the Evangelist. The combination of his brilliance and his proximity to one of the Twelve Apostles made Irenaeus someone from whom many Church leaders sought counsel on the difficult issues of the time. As the Bishop of Lyon, France, St. Irenaeus played a role in helping to ease tensions between Christians in the eastern, Greek-speaking world (his native place) and those in the western, Latin-speaking world (including the place where he served as bishop). Most importantly, he was a fierce defender of true Church teaching against early distortions of the Faith, particularly against a heresy called Gnosticism. Gnostics had an elitist approach to the Christian faith, arguing that the Church's public teachings were just symbolic, meant for simple, uneducated, "average" people who could not grasp the special, secret insights available only to Gnostic Christians. Gnostics also tended to believe in "dualism," which denied that God is Creator and Redeemer of all things. Instead, they saw everything as a conflict between the "good" spiritual realm and the "evil" material realm.

In his most important work, entitled: Against Heresies, St. Irenaeus affirms basic Church teachings such as the two natures of Christ Jesus (human & divine), as well as the Most Holy Trinity, the Incarnation, and the real presence of Jesus in the Eucharist. Crucially, he demonstrates that these teachings are consistent with the Sacred Scriptures and have been the constant teachings of the Church since the time of the Apostles. As such, they are part of Apostolic Tradition, the handing down of authentic Church teaching from Christ, to the Apostles, and to their successors the bishops in communion with the Pope. Pope Benedict XVI writes: "Irenaeus tells us there is no secret doctrine... there is no superior Christianity for intellectuals. The faith publicly confessed by the Church is the common faith of all." All members of the Church, therefore, have access to the authentic teachings of the Church, which the Holy Spirit has preserved over the ages through Apostolic Tradition, and we are all called to live in accord with them. Pope Francis has decided that St. Irenaeus will be called the "Doctor of Unity," since he did so much to unite Christians by working to reconcile East and West during his life. But St. Irenaeus also worked for unity in the Church by helping us to understand how Apostolic Tradition guarantees that we are truly united in the Faith we share with Christian believers from the earliest days of the Church.

In Christ,
Fr. John

Prayer to Saint Michael the Archangel

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle.
Be our defense against the wickedness
and snares of the Devil.

May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou,
O Prince of the heavenly host, by the power of God,
cast into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits,
who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls.
Amen.

Entrance: O God our help in ages past 624

Introit: I have called upon thee for Thou wilt hear me, O God; incline Thine ear and hear Thou my speech; keep me, O Lord, as the apple of Thine eye; under the shadow of Thy wings protect me. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, as it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be world without end. Amen.

First Reading: Is 53:10-11

The Lord was pleased to crush him in infirmity. If he gives his life as an offering for sin, he shall see his descendants in a long life, and the will of the Lord shall be accomplished through him. Because of his affliction he shall see the light in fullness of days; through his suffering, my servant shall justify many, and their guilt he shall bear.

Responsorial Psalm: Lord, let your mercy be on us, as we place our trust in you.

Second Reading: Heb 4:14-16

Brothers and sisters: Since we have a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let us hold fast to our confession. For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who has similarly been tested in every way yet without sin. So let us confidently approach the throne of grace to receive mercy and to find grace for timely help.

Gospel:

James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came to Jesus and said to him, "Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we ask of you." He replied, "What do you wish me to do for you?" They answered him, "Grant that in your glory we may sit one at your right and the other at your left." Jesus said to them, "You do not know what you are asking. Can you drink the cup that I drink or be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized?" They said to him, "We can." Jesus said to them, "The cup that I drink, you will drink, and with the baptism with which I am baptized, you will be baptized; but to sit at my right or at my left is not mine to give but is for those for whom it has been prepared." When the ten heard this, they became indignant at James and John. Jesus summoned them and said to them, "You know that those who are recognized as rulers over the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones make their authority over them felt. But it shall not be so among you. Rather, whoever wishes to be great among you will be your servant; whoever wishes to be first among you will be the slave of all. For the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve and to give His life as a ransom for many."

Offertory: Taste and see, taste and see, the goodness of the Lord. O taste and see, taste and see the goodness of the Lord.

Communion Antiphon: O Lord our God, how admirable is your name in all the earth.

Closing: O Sanctissima 542

FALL BIBLE STUDY NEVER TOO LATE TO START

Many Catholics want to read the Bible because they know it's God's Word, but they give up because it seems so complicated.

Unlocking the Mystery of the Bible, with the help of presenter Jeff Cavins, helps you get the "big picture" by showing how fourteen narrative books of the Bible tell the complete story of salvation history from Adam and Eve to Christ and the Church. You will be able to make sense of the Bible, discover the remarkable connections between the Old and New Testaments, see how the sacraments, the Church and our entire Catholic Faith is rooted in Scripture and much more.

Unlocking the Mystery of the Bible explores all twelve time periods of The Bible Timeline Chart, group discussion and some homework.

Order your book at: <https://ascensionpress.com/collections/unlocking-the-mystery> - $26.95 gives you both the book and access to the on-line study and video at Ascension Press for one year. You'll also receive a new Bible Timeline Chart and Bookmark.

ZOOM Meeting - Tuesday's at 7:00 p.m.

And/Or In Person - Thursday's at 7:15 p.m. in St. Gabriel meeting room.

Come see why so many have come to love and better understand the Bible.

For more information or to register contact Vicki Alton at 203.322.8526 or VickiA@optonline.net

REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED to receive the link to the ZOOM classes and to participate in the in-person classes.

In order to comply with the Bishop's current guidelines, we will observe all social distancing and mask requirements at our in-person gatherings.

Pass It On is a series of presentations for parents who want to equip their children well for their life's journey. Through 15 presentations, the authors, speakers and experts in their respective fields offer their wisdom and experience to encourage and challenge parents as they wrestle with what they should be putting into their children's backpacks. Each episode is filled with practical suggestions and helpful insights for moms and dads who want to hand on their faith to their children.

These presentations are perfect for individuals to watch and listen to for daily encouragement. They are also great for couples who want to grow in clarity and unity as they embrace their parenting role together. These sessions also make an excellent springboard for group discussion and sharing, allowing parents to learn from the experiences of other parents. Each presentation can stand on its own with very little preparation. The Pass It On series can easily be used by moms or parent groups, in home or parish settings. A downloadable discussion guide for the series is available. Each presentation is about 20 minutes in length.

The Phantom Phoenix

Set in Chicago during the 1920s, Martin struggles to find his place in the world. He suffered a debilitating leg injury as a fighter pilot in World War I and is rejected by society. Without the support of family or the ability to work, Martin is a homeless veteran roaming the streets of Chicago, living off scraps of food he finds. That is, until he rises from the ashes.

Through a series of unlikely events, Martin discovers that his knowledge of the streets can actually help the country he fought to defend. Working in the shadows as if he was a "phantom," he encounters criminals and crime scenes, giving police the hints and clues they need to clean-up the streets of Chicago.

Despite his difficult situation, he wants to help the police and bring criminals to justice. Martin is aided in his pursuit for justice by a Polish priest named Fr. Karol, who gives Martin sanctuary in his church basement, establishing a "base of operations" for his detective work and tinkering on new inventions.
