World Day of Prayer for Vocations

April 22nd is World Day of Prayer for Vocations when we ask you to pray for more vocations, especially to the priesthood and consecrated life. Please pray that more men and women will generously say yes to God's call in their lives and that their parents will support them.

Will you make a special effort to ask the Lord for more vocations to the priesthood and religious life?

-Pray for the priests who have ministered to you throughout your life, both living and dead.

-Keep our parish priests in your prayers throughout the week.

-Encourage your children, grandchildren, or other young people to consider a vocation as a priest or religious brother or sister.

-Pray a rosary for more young men and women in our diocese to respond to God's call.

Vocation Prayer

Lord Jesus, Son of the Eternal Father and Mary Immaculate, grant to our young people the generosity necessary to follow Your call and the courage required to overcome all obstacles to their vocation. Give the parents faith, love and spirit of sacrifice which will inspire them to offer their children to God's service and to rejoice whenever one of their children is called to the priesthood and religious life. Let your example and that of Your Blessed Mother and Saint Joseph encourage both young people and parents and let Your grace sustain them. Amen.

-From the dioceses of Sioux Falls and Rapid City

Pastor's Corner – April 21

It's been two weeks since we had overflowing crowds at Mass. I think a large part of the reason is that we have lost the meaning and purpose of Sabbath, what God created it for. We get so wrapped up in everything that fills our days that we can't find time to step back and allow God to re-energize us to do His work. Our culture is so different from what I experienced in my visits to Uganda where the people know they made it through another week only by the grace of God, and so they walk for hours to gather to give Him praise for all that has been, and say 'yes for all that will be' asking His blessing for the coming week.

Biblical scholar Renita J. Weems recalls the Sabbath of her childhood in much the same way: 'Once upon a time Sunday was a special day, a holy day, a day different from the other six days of the week.... This was a time when [Black] people like those I grew up with still believed that it was enough to spend six days a week trying to eke out a living, ... fretting over the future, despairing over whether life would ever get better for us. Six days of worrying were enough. The Sabbath was the Lord's Day, a momentary cease-fire in our ongoing struggle to survive and an opportunity to surrender ourselves to the rest only God offered. Come Sunday, we set aside our worries about the mundane and renewed our love affair with eternity....

'Our working-class hearts were ultimately fixed on one thing alone. Sunday held out to us the promise that we might enter our tiny rough-hewn sanctuary and find sanctity and blessing from a week of loss and indignities. Remembering the Sabbath where I grew up involved delighting oneself for a full twenty-four hours, ultimately in good company, with fine clothes and choice meals. The Sabbath allowed us to mend our tattered lives and restore dignity to our souls. We rested by removing ourselves from the mundane sphere of secular toil and giving ourselves over fully to the divine dimension, where in God's presence one found "rest" not in stillness and in repose but in more labor – a different kind of labor, however. We sang, waved, cried, shouted, and when we felt led to do so, danced as a way of restoring dignity to our bodies as well. We used our bodies to help celebrate God's gift of the Sabbath. For the Sabbath meant more than withdrawal from labor and activity. It meant to consciously enter into a realm of tranquility and praise.

'After a week of the body toiling away in inane work and the spirit being assaulted with insult and loss, Sunday was set aside to recultivate the soul's appreciation for beauty, truth, love, and eternity.

'The Lord's Day allows us to bring our souls, our emotions, our senses, our vision, and even our bodies back to God so that God might remember our tattered, broken selves and put our priorities back in order. The Sabbath makes sure we have the time to do what's really important and be with those we really care about.'

As we continue to celebrate the joys of the Resurrection in this Easter season, we must rededicate ourselves to 'keeping holy the Sabbath' – not only because it is one of the Commandments, but because it is what will ultimately strengthen us to persevere through all we face on the road to the father's Kingdom of true and lasting peace.

Social Action Committee

Earth Day is Monday, April 22nd The theme is planet versus plastics.

Plastics aren't just an environmental issue, but they present a grave threat to human health as alarming as climate change. When plastics break down into micro plastics, they release toxic chemicals into our food and water sources and circulate through the air we breathe.

Here are some ideas of what you can do for Earth Day and all year long to help reduce plastic use:

- 1) Educate yourself about plastics.
- 2) Sign the Global Plastics Treaty at action.earthday.org/global-plastics-treaty
- 3) Clean Up Plastic in Your Neighborhood; participate in an environmental cleanup.
- 4) Avoid single-use plastics like bags, straws, water bottles, packaging and other disposable items.
- 5) Boycott micro beads, little plastic scrubbers found in so many beauty products, facial scrubs, toothpaste, and body washes. Opt for products with natural exfoliants, like oatmeal or salt, instead.
- 6) Cook more- making your own meals doesn't involve takeout containers or doggy bags.
- 7) Purchase items secondhand- New toys and electronic gadgets, especially, come with all kinds of plastic packaging.

Other ideas to help our precious Earth:

1) Conserve Water!

- ~If you must water your lawn, use sprinklers on timers.
- ~Harvest your rainwater from a roof, gutters, and sky with a rain barrel.
- ~Decrease your shower time; install a water-saving showerhead.
- ~Turn off the water while you brush your teeth.
- ~Use your dishwasher sparingly or only for full loads.
- ~Plant drought-resistant trees and plants that don't need frequent watering.

2) Get produce from a local farmer's market

3) Start a community garden project

4) Support Our Pollinators:

- ~Bring native bees and other pollinating creatures to your garden.
- ~Select pollinator-friendly plants, such as plants that attract butterflies and hummingbirds.
- ~Learn more about native bees (the super pollinators).
- ~Try to add a couple of native plants to your garden each year.

5) Plant a Tree: They capture carbon, cool overheated places, clean the air and give off more oxygen, benefit agriculture, support pollinators, reduce the risk of disease transmission, and boost local economies.

- ~Talk to your local government about planting more trees and native garden beds in public spaces.
- ~Consider planting a tree on your property!
- ~Give a memorial gift of planting trees through programs like Holy Family's "Planting Trees, Planting Hope Project" or "A living Tribute".

6) Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle in the Garden

- ~Get compost, soil, sand or other materials from Plant Services in Wethersfield.
- ~Reuse, recycle, or return old plastic pots and trays.

7) Stop Using Chemicals in the garden or yard

8) Let your voice be heard: Contact your local representative to share your thoughts about the climate crisis and environment. Urge them to rapidly phase out all single use plastics and push for a strong UN Treaty on Plastic Pollution.

Care bags for the Homeless

Next assembly: May 11 at 9:30 at Corpus Christi, St. Joseph Hall

We are collecting again for our next assembly for care bags for the homeless. We continue this project because we recognize that some people have no place call home and are truly the neediest of the needy.

The care bags for May will include food, water, socks and a health kit. 3 ways you can help with this project are:

- 1. Make a monetary donation: Double your money! Make a monetary donation and this will be matched. Please make checks payable to: Christ the King Social Action Committee / Care bags in the memo.
- 2. Donate socks. Bins for these items will be located in the vestibule of both churches.
- 3. Items needed: Socks, tuna or chicken salad with crackers, protein granola bars, cheez-its
- 4. Amazon Link: No time to shop. Go to: https://www.amazon.com/hz/wishlist/ls/1ULCVJSI07POT?ref_=wl_share
- 5. Assist in assembly: On May 11 at 9:30 in the St. Joseph hall at Corpus Christi Church.

Thank you for your generosity. For more details, contact: Nora Uricchio / 860-830-5989/ nuricchio3@gmail.com

2024 Archbishop's Annual Appeal.....This year's theme: Do This in Memory of Me.

The A.A.A. helps provide the critical funding needed to feed the hungry, shelter the unhoused, counsel those in despair, offer much-needed assistance to the unemployed, and make medical care available to those without health insurance.

So many recipients of the A.A.A. are directly impacted by your kind generosity. Go to: helptheappeal.org to make a donation. You should've received a letter from the Archbishop. If you did not receive a packet they will be available at the doors of both Church Campuses. The goal this year is to engage our entire parish family in this year's Appeal. Thank you!

Universal Brotherhood

We are going through a volatile situation in our society due to incessant wars and hatred, fueled and propelled by extreme bias, political and religious ideologies. What is more alarming is that there is no end in sight and that it is widening day by day, rather than finding a viable solution towards a true brotherhood based on love and tolerance. "We don't need holy wars, what we need is tolerance and brotherhood and simple humanity"

Arial Speter.

"This is a Biblical story you won't find in the Bible; it is about Abraham and Sarah. Their tent, as the story goes, was always open to strangers, for they both knew that hospitality was a gift that came directly from God.

One day, Abraham invited an old man to join him for a meal. When they finished eating, the old man thanked him for their fine gift. "You need not thank me," Abraham assured him." "What ever I have given comes from God of creation. You must thank him."

"Why would I bother to thank your God when I have my own?" the old man said, reaching into his pocket. He threw out a wooden idol and set it on the floor. "This is the god whom I intend to thank for taking care of me."

Abraham was furious. "How are you worshipping a god made with hands?" he shouted. He seized the man and threw him and his idol out of the tent. "I am sorry that I wasted my hospitality on you," he concluded. Before the old man was out of sight, Abraham heard a voice calling his name. "Yes Lord?" the patriarch answered.

"For 40 years I have protected and cared for that old man you just threw out of your tent. All this time, though he has given credit to his wooden idol, I have continued to claim him as my own. Although he knows no better, Abraham, you do. Now you go, find the old man, and bring him back. Make him welcome. You are to serve even those who do not understand that there is but one God" William R. White.

"Give bread to a stranger, in the name of the universal brotherhood which binds together all men under the common father of nature." Quintillon.

"Whoever in prayer can say "Our Father," acknowledges and should feel the brotherhood of the whole race of mankind." Tyron Edwards.

"It is at times such as this that we show our true spirit of giving and of brotherhood of revealing the good Samaritan in all of us" Jo Bonner.

"Blessed is the servant who loves his brother as much when he is sick and useless as when he is well and can be of service to him. And blessed is he who loves his brother as well when he is afar off as when he is by his side, and who would say nothing behind his back he might not, in love, say before his face." St. Francis of Assisi.

I sought my soul, but my soul could not see. I sought my God, but my God eluded me. I sought my brother and found all three." Unknown Author.

"What is a friend? A single soul dwelling in two brothers." Aristotle.

"We have flown in the air like birds and swum the sea like fishes, but have yet to learn the simple act of walking on earth like brothers." "We may have all come on different ships, we are in the same boat now" Martin Luther King Jr.

"I love you, my brother, whoever you are-whether you worship in a church, kneel in your temple or pray in your mosque. You and I are children of one faith, for the diverse paths of religions are fingers of the living hand of the one supreme being, a hand extended to all, offering completeness of spirit to all, eager to receive all." Khalil Gibran.

"The Son of God became incarnate in the souls of men to instill the feeling of brotherhood. All are brothers and sisters and all children of God." Pope Francis.
