What do I Bring to Mass and What do I get?

Once we actually get there, we may feel like the publican in the parable standing silently in the back aware of his sinfulness or like the widow 5 who only had two mites to offer. We bring our stresses, our brokenness, and our 6 distractions. Yet, we are welcomed. We come to the Lord, who affirmed both the publican and the widow. We come to the one who healed the deaf, the mute, the lame, and the leper. We come to the one who dined with sinners. At Mass, we lay our joys and our brokenness on the altar together with those of our brothers and sisters. In return, we get the support of the community, we are nourished with the Body and Blood of Christ to help us on our journey, and we are given a renewed sense of purpose and hope.

The Mass Fulfills the Hungers of the Human Heart

Our hearts are indeed hungry. We hunger for security, relationship, understanding, acknowledgment, and also truth, justice and peace. Our weekly celebrations of the Eucharist will not completely satisfy us, but they do give us nourishment so that we might continue on the journey. At the table of the word, we find wisdom, truth, and challenge in the Scriptures. We also find an identity as the sons and daughters of Abraham and as disciples of Christ. We belong to an unbroken tradition that spans over 3000 years. At the table of the Eucharist, we are fed with the very Body and Blood of Christ. Communion with the Lord also brings us into Communion with our brothers and sisters who share the one bread, the one cup. In this community, we find companionship and support.

Extending an Invitation to Mass. Sometimes we either expect too much of people we invite to Mass, or they are afraid that too much is expected of them. Start simple! Join me this weekend; maybe for a special event Mass, or a Mass with a meal that follows, or simply because its your birthday and you want to celebrate it that way. Don't make them feel the pressure of having to register in the parish. One final thought. Be honest. Share what you love about your faith and why it is important to you but let the person you are inviting develop their own reasons. Hopefully, the one thing we can all relate to is this: God loves me no matter who I am and wants me to join others at his dinner table.
