PASTOR'S NOTE

Dear Saints,

What sets the rhythm for our lives?

If you're like me, work shapes my schedule more than anything else.

Although it's much more than a professional commitment, the life of our parish - and your experience of it - is my priority. This means that I am usually busy with the parish's activity, which determines the "what"s, "when"s, and "where"s of my life.

I wonder how many of you, even those of you without school-age children or grandchildren, would agree that the school year determines the way you think about your calendar. So many people's lives revolve around the September to June cycle that we're all kind of sucked into it in some form or fashion.

The one factor for me that remains stronger than school (although it's a close competition) is the liturgical calendar. I live and preach the seasons - Advent, Christmas, Lent, Easter, with Ordinary Time mixed in - and I am formed by the seasons. I find that my conversations are shaped by the liturgical seasons, and even my mood often reflects the same!

Which all leads me to say that we are right to pay attention to liturgical seasons and the seasons' special days. As we make our way into Easter's sixth week, we remember that the Ascension is on the horizon. In our region, we no longer mark the feast 40 days after Easter Sunday, but rather commemorate Jesus' Ascension on the Sunday that follows. We lose some of the rhythm - but we retain the meaning - of the historical events.

Jesus' Ascension into heaven is akin to his entering earth's control room. It is from heaven that Jesus sends the Holy Spirit, that he inspires and animates the lives of his faithful followers. Jesus' Ascension allows him to be immediately present to his people on earth. This is a gift worth praying for, so let's join the disciples in the first ever novena, praying for the sending of the Spirit from this Thursday until Pentecost Sunday.

In the Peace of our Risen Lord,

Father Daniel

LITERATURE TO LIVE BY

As the OLMC 6th grade class read William Shakespeare's Julius Caesar this spring, they were presented with an interesting conundrum. Julius Caesar is a familiar figure to them, a Roman military leader covered in their history curriculum. Yet Shakespeare famously takes liberties with history in his plays, using historical figures and events as vehicles for a deeper gaze into human nature. In reading this play, these particular Roman men and women become representatives of the struggles inherent in our human condition, their strengths, weaknesses, jealousies, ambitions, and honor brought to life through the stirring poetic lines of a play.

Their study of Julius Caesar demonstrates the importance of literature within a classical liberal arts education. All OLMC students read great works of literature from a young age because these works contain inspiring illustrations of eternal truths. Saint John Henry Newman, himself a great scholar and writer, described great writers as those who are capable of "pouring forth beautiful words because they had beautiful thoughts." Great literature does not teach morality, but it portrays the drama of good and evil. It does not record history, but it can illustrate the motivation behind human actions. It does not explain science, but it can direct our gaze to the beauty of a budding flower or the grandeur of a mountain range. Literature provides an approach to the whole of who we are as human beings and the Truth, Goodness, and Beauty that our hearts long for. Our students are given a taste for a life illuminated by beautiful thoughts and shared through beautiful words. They can be stirred to greatness by stories that appeal to their minds, hearts, and souls: the entirety of who they are.

"Man is a being of genius, passion, intellect, conscience, power...He exercises these various gifts in various ways, in great deeds, in heroic acts, in hateful crimes...Literature records them all to the life."

-Saint John Henry Newman

NOVENA TO OUR LADY OF POCHAEV

Repeat the following Novena prayers every day for 9 consecutive days.

Say 3 Our Father...
 Say 3 Hail Mary...
 Say 3 Glory Be...

Rejoice, O Glory of the universe.
 Rejoice, O Temple of the Lord.
 Rejoice, O Mountain overshadowed by the Holy Ghost.
 Rejoice, O Refuge of all.
 Rejoice, O Golden Candelabrum.
 Rejoice, O Honorable Glory of all Christians.
 Rejoice, O Mary, Mother of Christ God.
 Rejoice, O Paradise.
 Rejoice, O Divine Altar.
 Rejoice, O Cloud.
 Rejoice, O Golden Urn.
 Rejoice, O Hope of All.

All Holy, most blessed and glorious Mary,
 Mother of God and our Mother!
 We come to you today.

We turn ourselves to you and petition you.
 Hear us! We believe and acknowledge that you are the wondrous Guardian of all persecuted and unfortunate.
 That is why we place our hope in you.

More than once have you showed us your kindness.
 Please show us once again.

Open the most sweetest Heart of your Son and our God.

Intercede for forgiveness of our sins.
 Help us in spiritual and material needs, and,
 for the families who so graciously welcome your icon,
 give them your graces.

Mother most good, cover our Church
 and our Ukrainian people with your mantle.
 Help our brothers in Ukraine in their suffering.
 Give them strength in their fight
 with their atheist enemies,
 be consoling and unfailingly firm
 in their harassment and shield them in their misery.

Be for them and us an all-merciful guardian and let us praise you openly and freely
 together with them, Oh Virgin, among all virgins, and your Son, our God, Jesus.

Let there be glory, honor and adoration
 now, always, and forever.

Amen.

Our Lady of Pochaev,
 Pray for us.
