MISSION STATEMENT

Holy Family Catholic Church is a spiritually and socially active parish. Rooted in the Word of God and nourished by the Eucharist, we celebrate the life of our Lord Jesus Christ by proclaiming the Good News and providing spiritual growth, support and service with love. Founded by Italian immigrants a century ago, today our parish continues the tradition of extending a loving, caring and affirming welcome to all who join us as we Continue Our Journey of Faith.

19th Sunday in Ordinary Time – C Bulletin, August 10, 2025

My brothers and sisters in the Lord!

In today's Gospel passage, Peter asks Jesus, "Is this parable for us or for everyone?" I think we can take it that it is for everyone, especially for those of us who are clergy, bishops, priests, deacons and popes. Jesus expects us to be faithful stewards of His household and not to look for power and praise. In one of his sermons, Pope Francis warned the clergy about three temptations. One was that of vanity, looking for admiration from devoted followers. Another was the desire for money and the last was for the lust for power. Pope Francis said that if we want to climb to high positions in the Church, it would be better if we went mountain climbing. It's much healthier.

Today, Jesus reminds us that our heart lies where our treasure is. In our Mass today we can ask that He makes Himself to be our treasure.

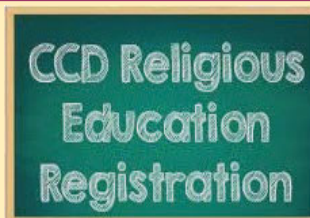

Peace,
Fr. Joe

Today we welcome Fr. Jairo Franco, a priest from the Yarumal Mission Society. He has served the people of God in Kenya-Africa, Ecuador and Colombia-South America. He is originally from Colombia.

The goal of the Yarumal Mission Society, founded 98 years ago, is to witness the Gospel of Jesus Christ among people and cultures where the Gospel is not yet fully preached. They are present in Angola, Bolivia, Cambodia, Colombia, Ecuador, Côte d'Ivoire, Kenya, Panama and Thailand. To carry out their pastoral programs and social projects, their missionaries depend very much on the generosity of the Christians from parishes they visit.

Our support for Fr. Jairo and his missions, is a sign that reminds us of our baptismal vocation: We are all missionaries of Christ. Please be generous.

Resource to Overcome Addiction

Addictions come in many forms: drugs, alcohol, pornography, and more. At the heart of iTHIRST is an understanding that there is a spiritual dimension to the disease of addiction that cannot be met by clinical professionals, but only by the spiritual consolation and guidance that the Church can provide. The iTHIRST initiative empowers dioceses, parishes, and communities to become a resource for those suffering from addictions. Visit their website for more information:

<https://ithirstinitiative.org/>

If you or a loved one struggles with addiction, we are here to help.

Please call Melinda at 973-868-1938
for further assistance.

Social Concerns

We are in need of mayo, honey, olive oil, lemon juice, small packages of white rice as well as cereal, coffee, cookies, salad dressing (for fresh produce from our giving garden,) and health and beauty aids.

Rosary Society

We received a letter from Rev. Manuel Duenas, the Vice Rector of Redemptoris Mater Seminary, thanking us for the donation of the proceeds from our Bagel Sale. A copy of the letter is on the bulletin board in the Church vestibule.

Did you know that we pray the Rosary every Sunday following the 12:00 Mass?
Every one is welcome to join us!

PRAYER SHAWL MINISTRY

If you are interested in joining the Prayer Shawl Ministry, call Theresa Genna, 973-661-5172. The women meet every Wednesday, 1:00—3:00 PM. in the St. Joseph Center. Presently, we are making baby hats, scarves & blankets for the needy.

If anyone has yarn to donate—it does not have to be a full skein—it would be very much appreciated. There is a basket in the Church vestibule for your donated yarn or monetary donation.

Reminder to All: short shorts, tank tops, bathing suits, (for both men and women) or any type of beach dress is out of place in Church and distracts the attention of others from the worship of God.

PRO-LIFE CORNER

Mahmoud Decision Furthers US Supreme Court's Protection of Parental and Religious Liberty 'Religious Freedom'

Patrick Brennan, a law professor at Villanova University's Charles Widger School of Law, called the decision “a big and broad win for religious freedom.”

Brennan told the Register he was pleasantly surprised that the court extended a principle in a previous religious-freedom case, Wisconsin v. Yoder (1972), in which the court decided that the burden on Amish parents to send their children to school against their religious beliefs outweighed the state government's interest in making sure that children are educated.

“By rooting the decision in this principle that focuses on the burden imposed on parents, the court required the state's policy to satisfy strict scrutiny, its most demanding standard of review,” Brennan said by email.

By not offering an opt-out, the school board's policy “burdens the religious exercise of parents when it requires them to submit their children to instruction that poses ‘a very real threat of undermining’ the religious beliefs and practices that the parents wish to instill,” Alito wrote, quoting from Yoder. “And a government cannot condition the benefit of free public education on parents' acceptance of such instruction.”

Brennan praised the court for, in his view, ruling on the side of the free-exercise-of-religion clause of the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution.

“The effect of this opinion will be to alert government agencies that parents' constitutional rights to direct the religious upbringing of their children are alive and well under our Constitution and, notably, that a policy that invites denigration or ridicule of parents' religious beliefs will be found to violate the Free Exercise [Clause] guarantee against coercion,” Brennan said.

“This holding and opinion continue the court's development of a robust body of principles that protect the religious liberty of individuals and groups against the forces of the vast modern state and its project to standardize citizens. The court's recognition of the religious importance of parents' shaping the education of their children in ways related to religion was stunning and most welcome,” Brennan said.

Dwight Duncan, constitutional law professor at the University of Massachusetts School of Law, said the decision “emphasizes that the free exercise of religion entails notice of and opportunity to opt out of public-school practices like forced exposure to ideas antithetical to the parents' right to direct the religious upbringing and education of their children.”

“This fits the pattern of the current Supreme Court valuing religious freedom when it comes into conflict with other interests,” Duncan told the Register by text. “It is probably the strongest religion-friendly court in our country's history.”
