“I will ask God the Father to send you the Holy Spirit”

The Dogma of the Holy Trinity is the central belief of God’s nature in most Christian churches. He was being rejected by some minor denominations, such as unit churches, Jehovah’s Witnesses, and Pentecostals. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints claims to believe in the Trinity but has a specific and radically different interpretation of the widely accepted dogma. This dogma affirms that God is a unique being that exists simultaneously as three distinct persons: the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. In 215 D.C., Tertullian was the first to use “Trinity.” In one of his writings, Tertullian would say that “the three are one, by the fact that the three come from one, by unity of substance.” The formula took shape over the years and was not definitively established until the Fourth century. The definition of the Council of Nicea, sustained since then with minimal changes by the principal Christian denominations, was to affirm that the Son was consubstantial ‘from the same substance’ to the Father. This formula was questioned, and the Church went through a generation of debates and conflicts until the “faith of Nicea” was reaffirmed at Constantinople in 381 as three persons in one God.

I mention this because, in the Gospel of this VI Sunday of Easter, Jesus promises to send the Holy Spirit “I will ask God the Father to send you the Holy Spirit that He may always help you and always be with you. He will teach you what the truth is.” Jesus has made it very clear to us. In the Gospel of John, He says that He comes from the Father; now He tells us that He will ask the Father to send the Holy Spirit, thus manifesting the mystery of the Most Holy Trinity. The message of this Sunday is the promise of the sending of the Holy Spirit. The characteristic of this Holy Spirit is that He comes to help and be with us. The love of God in His Son continues to manifest not only in the presence and preaching of Jesus but in the presence and sending of the Holy Spirit. That presence has been made manifest throughout the whole Church. Undoubtedly, every event that our Catholic Church lives in manifests that help and that teaching of the Holy Spirit.

As a Church, we just experienced an event that can be understood only with the light of the Holy Spirit, the proclamation of the two new saints, Francis and Jacinta, the visionaries of Our Lady of Fatima—the multitudinous gathering of sons and daughters of God celebrating the one hundred years of the apparitions. The visit of the Holy Father Francis to Egypt, and the next visit to Colombia, these events are manifestations of the presence of the Holy Spirit. Our parish has also had these divine manifestations of the Holy Spirit. During this Month of Mary, we received the image of Our Lady of the Swan. One hundred children and teenagers of our parish received Jesus in the Eucharist for the first time. We crowned Our Lady as our queen. Next Friday, the same Spirit will be present in administering the sacrament of confirmation. Sixty-four brothers and sisters will receive the gift through the imposition of the hands of Bishop Josu Iriondo. All these experiences are the presence and guidance of the Holy Spirit upon us, as Jesus promised.

My brothers and sisters, let us prepare to receive that light of God through the action of the Holy Spirit, and thus, let us live the teachings of Jesus in the gospel.

May God bless us all,

Fr. Baltazar Sanchez Alonzo
Pastor

“Le pediré al Padre que les envíe al Espíritu Santo”

El Dogma de la Santísima Trinidad es la creencia central sobre la naturaleza de Dios de la mayoría de las iglesias cristianas, siendo rechazada por algunas confesiones minoritarias como las iglesias unitarias, los Testigos de Jehová y los Pentecostales, entre otros. La Iglesia de Jesucristo de los Santos de los Últimos Días (mormones) afirma creer en la Trinidad, pero tiene una interpretación específica y radicalmente diferente del dogma mayoritariamente aceptado. Este dogma afirma que Dios es un ser único que existe simultáneamente como tres personas distintas: el Padre, el Hijo y el Espíritu Santo. En el año 215 d. C., Tertuliano fue el primero en usar el término «Trinidad». Tertuliano, en uno de sus escritos diría que «los tres son uno, por el hecho de que los tres proceden de uno, por unidad de substancia». La fórmula fue adquiriendo forma con el paso de los años y no fue establecida definitivamente hasta el siglo IV. La definición del Concilio de Nicea, sostenida desde entonces con mínimos cambios por las principales denominaciones cristianas, fue la de afirmar que el Hijo era consustancial ‘de la misma sustancia’ al Padre. Esta fórmula fue cuestionada y la Iglesia pasó por una generación de debates y conflictos hasta que la «fe de Nicea» fue reafirmada en Constantinopla en el año 381.

Menciono esto porque en el evangelio de este VI Domingo de Pascua Jesús promete enviar al Espíritu Santo “yo le pediré a Dios el Padre que les envíe al Espíritu Santo, para que siempre los ayude y siempre esté con ustedes. Él les enseñará lo que es la verdad.” Jesús nos ha aclarado muy bien en el mismo evangelio de Juan que el procede del Padre, ahora nos dice que le pedirá al Padre que envíe al Espíritu Santo, se manifiesta así el misterio de la Santísima Trinidad, aunque el mensaje de este domingo es la promesa del envío del Espíritu Santo. Las características de este Espíritu Santo es que viene a ayudarnos, y para que esté con nosotros. El amor de Dios en su hijo se sigue manifestando no solo en la presencia y predicación de Jesús, sino en la presencia y envío del Espíritu Santo. Esa presencia que se ha venido manifestando a lo largo de toda la Iglesia, no hay duda que cada acontecimiento que vive nuestra Iglesia Católica, es esa ayuda y esa enseñanza del Espíritu Santo.

Como Iglesia acabamos de vivir un acontecimiento que solo se entiende desde la luz del Espíritu Santo, la proclamación de los dos nuevos santos, Francisco y Jacinta, videntes de nuestra Señora de Fátima, y esa multitudinaria reunión de hijos e hijas de Dios en Fátima celebrando los cien años de las apariciones de Ntra. Sra. de Fátima. La visita del Santo Padre Francisco a Egipto, la próxima visita a Colombia, son manifestaciones de esa presencia del Espíritu Santo. En nuestra parroquia también hemos tenido esas manifestaciones divinas a través del Espíritu Santo, recibimos en este mes de María a la imagen de Ntra. Sra. del Cisne, cien hermanos y hermanas nuestros han recibido por primera vez a Jesús eucaristía, coronamos a Ntra. Sra. como nuestra reina, lo mismo hicieron los niños de la catequesis. El próximo viernes ese mismo Espíritu se hará presente en la vivencia del sacramento de nuestros hermanos y hermanas que lo recibirán por la imposición de las manos del Obispo Josu Iriondo en el sacramento de la confirmación.

Mis hermanas y mis hermanos, preparémosnos para recibir esa luz de Dios a través de la acción del Espíritu Santo y así vivamos las enseñanzas de Jesús en el evangelio.

Que Dios nos bendiga.

THE SUNDAY MASS SCHEDULE

What Times Would You Prefer Mass Be Offered?

Our Pastor, Staff, and Parish Council are reviewing the current Sunday Mass schedule to determine if it is serving the needs of the parishioners or are some adjustments needed to have a richer worship experience and better use our resources. To assist them in their review, please indicate on the back of the Parish Membership Renewal Form which language you prefer for Mass and what 2 times are best for your family. The form should be deposited in the special locked box in church or returned to the office before May 28.
