Celebrating Holy Week | Celebrando Semana Santa

From the Pastor's Desk

The whisper of “He is Risen ~ Resucitó” continues to echo from our Easter celebrations! The life and diversity at St. John’s herald an enthusiasm to now “go and wash each other’s feet (Jn 13:14)”.

Accept my heartfelt gratitude for the way in which you participated in Holy Week and Easter and the welcome that you extended to all those who were with us. There was such a positive response because everyone felt welcomed in God’s house.

To the ministers and volunteers who spent countless hours in preparation for our liturgical celebrations: Thank you from my heart! You serve with your time and talents so freely that it witnesses to God’s love among us.

Thanks so much!

Fr. Craig A. Pregana
Your proud Pastor

Desde el escritorio del Pastor

¡El susurro de “Ha resucitado ~ Resucitó” sigue resonando desde nuestras celebraciones de Pascua! La vida y la diversidad en St. John's anuncian un entusiasmo para ahora "ir y lavarse los pies unos a otros (Jn 13:14)".

Reciban mi más sincera gratitud por la forma en que participaron de la Semana Santa y de la Pascua y la acogida que brindaron a todos los que vinieron. Hubo un comentario tan positivo porque todos se sintieron bienvenidos en la casa del Señor.

A los ministros y voluntarios que dedicaron incontables horas a la preparación de nuestras celebraciones litúrgicas: ¡Gracias de corazón! Ustedes sirven con su tiempo y talentos tan libremente que dan testimonio del amor de Dios entre nosotros.

¡Muchas gracias!

Padre Craig A. Pregana
Su Párroco orgulloso

What is Divine Mercy Sunday? ¿Qué es el Domingo de la Divina Misericordia?

Our Catholic tradition has always upheld the mercy of God. After all, it was His mercy that led Him to suffer, die, and rise for our sake. But in the chaos of the early 1900s - when Nazism, nationalism, and the World Wars oppressed the world - our Lord wanted to remind people everywhere that He loves us endlessly.

Jesus appeared several times to Sr. Faustina Kowalska, a Polish nun, during the 1930s. He commissioned her to write down what He told her, primarily about His unending Mercy for the whole world. During one of the apparitions, He appeared to her and asked for a painting to be created of His appearance (the painting in question is this week's bulletin cover). In another apparition, Jesus asked that the Sunday after Easter be set aside in honor of Divine Mercy.

We have celebrated Divine Mercy Sunday as a universal Church since 2000. That same year, Faustina Kowalska was declared a saint. We are grateful to God for His boundless compassion for us, and remember it especially this weekend and throughout this season of Easter.

To find out more about Divine Mercy Sunday, St. Faustina, and their history, visit thedinemercy.org.

Nuestra tradición católica siempre ha defendido la misericordia de Dios. Después de todo, fue su misericordia la que lo llevó a sufrir, morir y resucitar por nosotros. Pero en el caos de principios de 1900, cuando el nazismo, el nacionalismo y las guerras mundiales oprimían al mundo, nuestro Señor quería recordarle a la gente en todas partes que Él nos ama infinitamente.

Jesús se apareció varias veces a la hermana Faustina Kowalska, una monja polaca, durante la década de 1930. Él le encargó que escribiera lo que Él le decía, principalmente sobre su infinita Misericordia para el mundo entero. Durante una de las apariciones, se le apareció y le pidió que creara una pintura de su apariencia (la pintura en cuestión es la portada del boletín de esta semana). En otra aparición, Jesús pidió que el domingo después de Pascua se dedicara a la Divina Misericordia.

Celebramos el Domingo de la Divina Misericordia como Iglesia universal desde el año 2000. Ese mismo año, Faustina Kowalska fue declarada santa. Damos gracias a Dios por su infinita compasión por nosotros, y lo recordamos especialmente este fin de semana y durante todo este tiempo pascual.
