Dear Friends,

As I was preparing to write this week's column, the news brought yet another horror into our lives, minds and hearts, the incomprehensible shooting of (at the most recent count) 19 students and 2 teachers at a school in Texas. 10 year olds! 10 year olds! What on earth runs through the mind of anyone, even those with serious mental issues, to lead them to such a violent attack on such innocent and helpless children? And the description of the event, as I heard it this morning (Wednesday) conjures up such a painful picture as to want to cry out loud. These children are the "Holy Innocents," victims of the cruelty of a broken world. While we know they share the light of the Kingdom, we hold their grieving families close to our hearts and certainly in our prayers.

And this comes only a little more than a week after the shootings in Buffalo, the loss of 10 more innocent lives, clearly the result of hatred and bigotry. And we keep all of those victims, as well as their grieving families in our prayers as well. I don't know the answer to the hatred and violence that seems to be running rampant in our country. Oh—but I do. It is the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the Gospel that calls us to love as Jesus loved, that all may see that we are his disciples. It seems that we have a long way to go in living that call of discipleship. In the meantime, something needs to be done to save ourselves from the senseless shooting and killing. I'm not a constitutional lawyer. Nor do I know the ins and outs of law enforcement. But there must be a way of reducing the availability of guns in our society. Do something. Contact those elected to provide for the public safety. Contact those who have, so far, resisted efforts to contain this epidemic and plead with them to be courageous in defending and protecting the children, the innocent, the unsuspecting, going about their normal business. Insist that they do something now. It is sad to think that a pandemic can unite us but this epidemic of violence divides us. Remember the little ones, and pray harder until change happens.

And speaking of the pandemic, one of the toughest calls is to decide are we on the up-swing of infections or the downturn. I just heard on the news last night that New York experienced its 6th straight day of decline of infections. With these swings, when is the right time to take another step toward normalcy? Obviously, I'm speaking now of the church, in the context of the work we're doing this summer, even though the summer has not yet begun. In this bulletin there are pictures of the pews which are in the process of being stripped. Then to be stained. This week, they will begin on the transept floors. Because they will begin early, it will be necessary to move the daily masses back into the chapel. I was hoping to make that move after July 4th but the work in the church necessitates an earlier move. In fact, during this work, the church itself will basically be closed, with the exception of weekends, funerals and weddings. So during these weekdays, please do not enter the church. I know all of this may cause some inconvenience but please be patient as I think, and hope, the end product will be worth it. As in the days before the pandemic, you may sit in either the daily mass chapel or the Blessed Sacrament chapel. Communion will continue to be distributed only under one kind—the host.

This weekend is the Feast of the Ascension of the Lord. While it may seem strange not saying “Ascension Thursday,” the move of the celebration to the Sunday encourages everyone to reflect on this last mystery of the Lord’s earthly life and the promise it holds for each of us, the promise to share that life with the Lord in the fullness of the Kingdom. If you don’t normally do it, take some time to read Today’s Readings, and, using the reflection questions, give some thought to how this mystery can touch your life, even now.

This weekend is also Memorial Day weekend when we remember all those who gave their lives in the defense of the freedoms we enjoy in America, freedoms which we sometime take for granted, freedoms which, even today, are not enjoyed in the lives of so many around the world. Give thanks to God for those freedoms and remember all those who died in their defense. A tribute to them will play on the video screens between masses this weekend.

God Bless and have a happy Memorial Day Weekend,
Fr. Ron

STEWARDSHIP

“May the eyes of your hearts be enlightened, that you may know what is the hope that belongs to his call, what are the riches of glory in his inheritance among the holy ones, and what is the surpassing greatness of his power for us who believe.” St. Paul, in today’s 2nd Reading, calls us to recognize the hope, the riches and the greatness of believing. Even as circumstances are improving, today’s readings remind us that the real riches of life and the real greatness and the lasting hope comes from the power and grace of Christ. The Christian Steward understands this and places his/her gifts of Time, Talent and Treasure in Jesus’ hands. Do you?

The parish Stewardship of Treasure in the in-pew collection last week was $11,174. God bless your generosity and your faithfulness in furthering the work of the Gospel. As always, all parishioners are invited to make use of electronic giving, We Share, as the best and most reliable way to fulfill that mission. Check the blurb on this same page for instructions on how to get on-board.

- Acts of the Apostles 1:1-11
 Luke begins his second work with a review of his Gospel account of what Jesus said and did before returning to his heavenly Father. Especially important here is the instruction Jesus gives the apostles, with the Lord's particular emphasis on what his Father's word has revealed about the Kingdom of God and his own mission to bring that Kingdom to fulfillment. Their task is to witness to the Lord and to carry on as his faithful servants, in the power of the Holy Spirit.
- Ephesians 1:17-23
 Paul prays that the heavenly Father give readers the wisdom to appreciate all the gifts granted them in faith. This Jesus, who had walked among them, has been raised from the dead and is now seated at the right hand of the Father—with authority over all creation.
- Luke 24:46-53
 Luke presupposes that the reader of his Gospel knows that his story about Jesus will be continued in his second volume in the "Acts of the Apostles," which will unfold the story of the developing Church, but begins by repeating the account of the Ascension. As the central theme of the post-resurrection appearances, Jesus reminds his disciples of the necessity for the Messiah to suffer and die and to be raised up. As witness of this, they are commissioned to preach this to the nations for the forgiveness of sin, and will be confirmed in this preaching by the power of the Holy Spirit. The actual event of the ascension is narrated very briefly. Jesus raised his hands, blesses his disciples and is taken up. They returned to Jerusalem with joy, to await the promise of the Spirit.

REFLECTIONS FOR THE WEEK

- Have you ever felt that Jesus was "commissioning" you for a special work?
- Paul speaks about "the hope that belongs to his call." Called as a Christian do you live in hope today?
- Do you feel in your heart the same joy in living the Gospel as the disciples did. Why? Why not?
