TODAY IS WORLD MISSION SUNDAY

We celebrate this day by remembering our baptismal call-to bring the Gospel to all! The collection today for the society for the Propagation of the Faith supports the work and witness of the Mission Church, as it provides for priests, religious and lay leaders who offer the Lord's mercy and concrete help to the most vulnerable communities in the Pope's missions. Thank you for your generosity.

PARISH MERGER

INFORMATIONAL MEETING

Eileen Mulcahy, Vice Chancellor of NY Archdiocese and our Pastor, Fr. Crawford, will co-host a Parish Merger Informational Meeting on Thursday, October 28th at 6:45pm in St. Christopher's School Gymnasium, 30 Benner Rd. They will address parishioner questions about the upcoming merger with Good Shepherd in Rhinebeck. They will offer the meeting again on the same day at 8:15pm at Good Shepherd. All are encouraged to attend.

BAPTISM UPDATE

Beginning in November, Baptisms will be scheduled for 1:00pm on Sundays. This does not affect any Baptisms that have already been scheduled.

SECRECY OF CONFESSION CAN'T BE VIOLATED, BECAUSE THE INFO IS GOD'S ALONE by Marcos Fernandez Diaz

Cardinal Mauro Piacenza, Major Penitentiary, says the seal of confession is not like professional secrecy kept by doctors.

Because it is a “sacramental act,” the sacrament of reconciliation “must be protected in the name of religious freedom,” said Cardinal Mauro Piacenza, Major Penitentiary of the Catholic Church, in an interview with Acistampa on October 15.

Cardinal Piacenza, who heads one of the three Vatican tribunals, stressed that everything said during confession was therefore “under an absolutely inviolable seal.”

The priest cannot share the information “because it is given to God alone,” the Italian prelate insisted. This also applies to the “case where, during a confession [...] a minor reveals that he or she has been abused,” he explained. Nevertheless, the seal does not prevent the confessor from “strongly” recommending that the child report the abuse.

Cardinal Piacenza also explained that the analogy between the secrecy of confession and the professional secrecy of doctors, lawyers, etc. should be avoided “at all costs” because in the case of confession, “taking possession of what belongs to God would be sacrilege,” not a simple exception.

Furthermore, he feared that people would no longer go to confession if their “trust in the seal was lost,” which would, he said, “cause very serious damage to souls.”

The seal of confession is among a priest's chief weapons in thwarting Satan's plot.

The late Cardinal Francis George of Chicago once called the encounters that take place within the sacrament of Penance “the most important conversations on the planet.” He was right. The most important conversations in our world don't happen in boardrooms or courtrooms. They are not in the oval office or in the chambers of parliament. They transpire in the confessional.

These conversations effect the salvation of the human race. In these meetings the power of the Blood of Jesus transforms contrite sinners into saints. Because something of infinite worth occurs in confession, it requires a unique level of protection. This is what the Church calls the seal of confession.

In the early Church, the sacrament of Reconciliation was administered communally; grave sinners would confess their sins publicly and take on necessary acts of satisfaction in order eventually — sometimes after months or years of penance — to be reconciled to God and His Church.

As the Church grew, Her ecclesial rites developed. While public penance continued, confession of particular sins would often take place in private. In the 4th century, St. Ambrose was praised for his role as a discreet minister of mercy with these words: “Of the transgressions, however, which the penitent confessed, he spoke to no one but God, with whom he interceded, leaving a beautiful example to future priests, that they should be intercessors before God rather than accusers before men.”

A century later, Pope St. Leo the Great famously condemned the practice of reading out the lists of sins committed by those taking on public penance. The Church's saints understood that the sins spoken to God in the privacy of confession must be sealed by supernatural secrecy.

Towards the end of the 6th century, St. Columban and his fellow missionary monks popularized the practice of private penance. As private confession became the norm across Christendom, the privileged secrecy of sacramental conversations became formalized. By the start of the second Christian millennium, the Church's law set forth grave consequences for priests who would reveal the sins of penitents to others.

In 1215, the Fourth Lateran Council taught: “For whoever shall dare to reveal a sin disclosed to him in the tribunal of penance we decree that he shall be not only deposed from the priestly office but that he shall also be sent into the confinement of a monastery to do perpetual penance.”

Some 800 years later, the Church still assiduously protects the seal, punishing any priest that would break it with excommunication. These grave consequences flow from the supreme importance of the sacrament of Confession.

And who grants it such importance? The Lord Jesus Himself, who came to seek and save those who are lost (Luke 19:10). He came to the lost sheep of the house of Israel (Mt 15:34), and his mission is to those sick with the deadly illness of sin (Mk 2:17). The sacrament of Confession continues this merciful mission.

As another Christ, the priest is privileged to sit in on the most important conversations in the world. He receives the grace to be an instrument of the power of Christ's cross to heal every wound that sin inflicts. He mediates the encounter between the Prodigal Father and His wayward children.

But while these sacramental realities are monumental, the truth of the matter is that sin itself is rather boring! Confessors remember the saints much more than the sinners, because sin is far less interesting than sanctity! It is my experience, and that of many priests, that more often than not we cannot remember the particular sins confessed by individual penitents. Even if we do, they remain enclosed in our priestly hearts, not out of shock or desire to condemn, but in the joyful knowledge that God has brought his son or daughter back to the life of grace.

As a priest, I often hear that people do not like the sacrament of Confession because they fear telling someone their sins. This universal human experience of shame is one of the strongest tools of the devil's blackmail. Having caught us in sin, the enemy uses shame over what we have done to prevent us from confessing and being reconciled with our loving Father.

The seal of confession is among a priest's chief weapons in thwarting Satan's plot, because it guarantees to the contrite Christian that his sins—no matter how big or small—will never leave the safety of God's merciful tribunal.

The sacrament of Penance is one of the great gifts of the Trinity to the pilgrim people of God. It is the permanent institution of Christ's mercy in the world. And it is a divinely instituted safe-space where fear and condemnation have no place, but hope and forgiveness reign. We should pray that this sacrament and her seal is respected and preserved by those within and without the communion of the Church. Reprinted with permission/ Aleteia

SOUL CAKES: THE ORIGINAL HALLOWEEN "TREAT" from Catholic Cuisine

During the Middle Ages in England, on the night before All Saints Day, or Hallowmas, peasants and children called "soulers" would go about town singing and praying for the souls of the dead. They would stop at homes and beg for a "soul cake" and promise in return to pray for the household's deceased family members to be released from purgatory. If homeowners did not give out cakes it was believed their home would be cursed. And this is thought to be the origination of trick or treating.

Ingredients:

1 cup butter
3-3/4 cups flour
1 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon allspice
2 eggs
2 teaspoons cider vinegar
6 tablespoons milk
powdered sugar, to sprinkle on top

Directions:

1. Using a pastry blender cut 1 c. of butter into 3-3/4 cups of flour.
2. Blend in the sugar, nutmeg, ginger, cinnamon and allspice.
3. In a separate bowl beat eggs, vinegar and milk together.
4. Add the wet ingredients to the dry ingredients and mix.
5. Knead thoroughly to form a stiff dough.
6. Roll out to a 1/4 inch thickness and cut out 3 inch circles with a cookie cutter or glass.
7. Place on a baking sheet and bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes.
8. Sprinkle with powdered sugar while still warm.
9. Eat, yummy!

Traditional song:

Soul, Soul, a soul cake!

I pray thee, good missus, a soul cake!

One for Peter, two for Paul, three for Him what made us all!

Soul Cake, soul cake, please good missus, a soul cake.

An apple, a pear, a plum, or a cherry, any good thing to make us all merry.

One for Peter, two for Paul, & three for Him who made us all.

ENCOUNTER SCHOOL OF HEALING

A two day conference October 29-30, presented by Community of the Franciscan Friars Of The Renewal at Sacred Heart Parish, Monroe, NY.

The conference is led by Fr. Patrick Gonyeau and Dr. Kerry McMahon to teach, impart and activate Catholics to be a more effective minister of Jesus' healing in the world! Jesus wants to use you as an instrument of his divine healing. Learn more and register at: encounterministries.us/calendar/school-of-healing-monroe-ny/

JESUS IS CALLING YOU!

Come lay down your joys, burdens, and cares before Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament! He is the only one with the answers to our daily struggle and worldly problems.

Our Lady Queen of Peace Prayer Group meets every Wednesday from 7pm-8pm in the Church. Rosary, silent meditation, and the Divine Mercy Chaplet before the Blessed Sacrament.
