From The Rectory

Putting the New Year in Order

This is the time of year when many of us are determined to make small adjustments to our lives. The world around us is increasingly unsettled, and our own lives are so busy. Many of us are trying to bring a little more order to our lives, in the hope that more order will result in more peace and joy in our hearts and minds.

St. Francis of Assisi once wrote that, "The ordering of life begins with the ordering of love." The ordering of love begins with intentionally and conscientiously loving God above all else. God is love. He created all things out of love and placed them all in proper order. He is the one who lovingly knit us together in our mother's womb. He intentionally created each of us by name, with a purpose. It is He alone who gives order and direction to our life.

True love requires both quality and quantity of time. In this weekend's Gospel the Apostles immediately left everything behind and followed Jesus because they loved Him. Perhaps we are not ready to do the same, and perhaps God is not asking us to do the same. But I am convinced God is asking all of us to make more quality time for Him in our lives. He wants all of us to make an effort to know, love and follow him more intentionally; not for His sake but for ours. This is the key to bringing more order to our frenetic and distracting lives.

Let me offer a few suggestions for finding more room for God in our lives. Begin and end each day in quiet prayer. Acknowledge that you are always in God's presence and He is always in yours. Speak to Him from your heart with words of gratitude and praise, petition and contrition. Ask Him to show you the way. Perhaps you might know him better by committing yourself to reading one of the four Gospels. Jesus prayed the Psalms every day. Perhaps you might read from the Psalms every day, knowing that Jesus is praying them with you. We are never more intimate with Jesus than when we participate in the sacramental life of the Church. Intentionally begin each new week by attending Sunday Mass. Attentively listen to the readings in the Liturgy of the Word, and be conscious that you are receiving the "Bread of Everlasting Life, when you worthily receive Holy Communion. One more recommendation is a daily recitation of the Most Holy Rosary, when we join with the Blessed Virgin Mary in meditating on the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior.

My prayer is that all of us will make an effort this year to find more love, more order, more peace and more joy in our daily lives, by making more time for God.

God bless,
Fr. Paul

New Day Bereavement Support

No one grieves alone. Grief changes you and this affects most everyone you relate with and everything you do. How can you feel secure in the way you are coping? By discovering the essential steps you must take to think and act in your best interests. The NEW DAY program is a tried and true program developed over 30 years ago by a well-regarded psychiatrist and a spiritual director. Your facilitator was trained by them and has been offering this service to all adults suffering the loss of any loved one whether recently or some time ago.

Our group will meet for nine successive weeks, usually in the evening from 7:30PM to about 9:00PM at St. Thomas More Church in Darien. All health safety tools will be used…cleaning, masks and social distancing. Therefore, the group will not be large. The only requirement is registration which is done by calling the parish office at 203-655-3303 or Lillian Toll at 203-966-9367.

Sharing experiences in a confidential setting with those also working at coping is the best way forward. Please call.

Dynamic Catholic

The latest offer from Dynamic Catholic is Matthew Kelly's book, I Heard God Laugh. He states that his goal in this book is to teach readers not only to pray but to develop a vibrant habit of daily prayer. The author mingles stories from his own journey into prayer with practical advice.

The advice in this book is particularly relevant today as we struggle through a pandemic that has closed off opportunities to worship for many. I Heard God Laugh was written before the coronavirus became a threat, but the very beginning of the book explains why it's important to read this now:

"It is an unavoidable fact that our lives do not unfold as we hope and expect them to. It is also worth pointing out that very often we are defined by how we respond to the unexpected events of life. The unexpected, whether good or bad, reveals character. How then do we prepare for the unexpected? Prayer. Prayer is the ultimate preparation for the unexpected. Prayer helps us develop the awareness, virtue, and character that are essential when your life gets turned upside down."
