Reflection for May 25th The 6th Sunday of Easter

In today's Gospel, Jesus speaks words meant to console hearts that are about to be broken. The Last Supper is ending, and Judas has already gone out. Jesus knows the cross is near. And yet, what does He do? He speaks peace. He makes promises. He reminds the disciples that even in His absence, they will not be alone. He says: "Whoever loves me will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our dwelling with him." This is astonishing. Not only does Jesus promise us His love, but He says that the Father and the Son will come to us—not just visit, but dwell with us. Live in us. Remain with us. He's speaking about the indwelling presence of God through grace. A soul in a state of grace becomes a living temple of the Most Holy Trinity. Think about that: we don't have to climb to heaven to find God—He desires to make His home in us. But there's a condition: "Whoever loves me will keep my word." Love and obedience go together. Love without obedience is sentiment. Obedience without love is slavery. But when the two are united, that's the life of a disciple. Then Jesus speaks of another gift: "The Advocate, the Holy Spirit... will teach you everything and remind you of all that I told you." This is how the Church lives and grows—through the Holy Spirit. The Spirit doesn't give us new truths, but reminds us of what Jesus already taught. He deepens our understanding. He guides the Church through her struggles, her councils, her saints, and even her sinners. Without the Holy Spirit, we would be orphans. But with the Spirit, we are sons and daughters. Finally, Jesus says: "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you. Not as the world gives do I give it to you." The world's peace is fragile. It depends on things going well: health, finances, relationships. But Jesus offers a peace that remains even when everything else collapses. A peace that stood firm in Gethsemane. A peace that forgave from the Cross. A peace rooted in the Father's will. So, if your heart is troubled today—if you're facing loss, uncertainty, fear—hear Jesus say again: "Do not let your hearts be troubled or afraid." He's not saying, "Ignore the pain."

Your Brother in Christ, Fr. Kyle

Dear Parish Family,

My goal is to raise $60,000 by June, and I humbly ask for your prayers and support.

MISCARRIAGE MINISTRY

Dear Friends in Christ,

The Catechism beautifully reminds us that "Every human life, from conception until death, is sacred, and willed by God in His image". From the moment of conception, each child is cherished by God and deserving of dignity. In this light, the Diocese recognizes that many families may not know a baby lost to miscarriage is entitled to a funeral. By offering funerals for these precious souls, we affirm the sanctity of life at every stage. We are here to support families through their grief, providing comfort and peace as they honor the life lost. If you have experienced a miscarriage and wish to arrange a funeral or remembrance on All Souls' Day, please contact Father Kyle. We hold you in our hearts and pray for your healing. May God's peace be with you.

Sincerely yours in Christ,
Father Kyle
