An (adapted) Prayer to our Olympic
Athletes by Tamra Dollin:

May we humbly ask of You, Adonai
Remove all obstacles
from before our athletes
Help them to run and perform swiftly and
without impediment
Grant them the courage to persevere in moments of weakness
To see and do acts of loving kindness
along the way
And that through this endeavor,
may they glorify your Great Name.

Roni
Handler,
Rabbi

Since last Friday I have been engrossed in the Paris Olympics. I cannot get enough. I will admit that during the year, I am not the biggest sports fan. I enjoy cheering for our home teams and attending a sporting event in person, but rarely do I sit down to watch a game if it is not the Superbowl or World Series. But for some reason when it comes to the Olympics, I will watch it all – gymnastics, soccer, basketball, swimming, diving, fencing, surfing, equestrian. You name it, I am there for it. I even love the profiles of the individual athletes. Hearing their journeys from being a child with a skill, to an athlete with a dream is immensely inspiring. Whether this is their first time competing on a world stage, or they are a GOAT in their sport, there is something about bearing witness to the achievement of their hopes and dreams that is incredibly moving.

When I watch the Olympics, I feel a sense of hope. Hope that we can find a way through or past conflict to a place where we simply celebrate one another's accomplishments, without needing to tear one another down in the process. In a time when war and conflict ravage too many nations, it is refreshing to be able to celebrate one's individual accomplishments and take pride in our nationalities and all that makes each country unique.

Rav Kook taught, "When young people engage in sport to strengthen their physical capabilities and morale for the sake of increasing the overall strength of the nation, this holy endeavor raises the Divine Presence ever higher."

There is holiness in our physical pursuits. And I invite you to experience this holiness the next time you watch the Olympics or your favorite sports team. These experiences need not be separate from our spiritual endeavors. Instead, perhaps these are the means by which we might experience the Divine. If you need some help infusing the physical experience with some spirituality, consider this (adapted) prayer by Tamra Dollin:

May we humbly ask of You, Adonai
Remove all obstacles
from before our athletes
Help them to run and perform swiftly and
without impediment
Grant them the courage to persevere
in moments of weakness
To see and do acts of loving kindness along the way
And that through this endeavor,
may they glorify your Great Name.

Beth Schwartzman,
BTBJ
President

Shalom BTBJ. I hope everyone is having a great summer filled with good times with family, friends and loved ones. Whether you are at the beach, in the mountains, travelling or staying local, hopefully you are getting time to rest, relax and re-set for the busy fall season. At BTBJ we have been busy as usual. One might think that the summer is slow but the opposite is actually true. At the end of June, Val wrapped up her full time work at BTBJ and is transitioning to civilian life. And we have welcomed Julie with open arms to begin her journey with BTBJ. By now you have received our mailing and packet for membership. We thank you in advance for taking care of those tasks so that we can focus on our year to come.

This building has been filled with BTBJ Campers, Shabbat services, meetings to plan everything we will look forward to this year-including high holiday services and our Summer IYUN Series. We've also had the return of the BTBJ Schmoozes. Hopefully you were able to join us at one or more of these great opportunities to just chat and get to know new and old members.

As I'm writing this article, we are at the end of sitting Shiva for my beloved Dad, who passed away after a brief illness. His passing is a reminder to me of how fragile and precious life is. It is also a reminder of how important community is. The outpouring of love and support from BTBJ was incredible and something I am so grateful for. My hope for all of us the coming year is that we embrace life, celebrate the great joys and support one another through the challenges. BTBJ has so much to offer but we can't do it without you. Here's hoping you will be there, learn with us, get inspired, meet new people, strengthen friendships and help us continue to create and strengthen our Jewish community!

Ari Schwartzman in Israel

Summer 2024: Classic Israel June 27, 2024
Alexander Muss High School In Israel

The war has always been something far away.

In the US, I saw it on the news, on social media, in conversation. Here in Israel, I now see it in the people, the places, and the culture.

The Israel Defense Forces (IDF) soldiers are not "soldiers" as we know them in the US, going off to a far land to fight for American interests. These men and women are fighting and falling for their families and our freedom to live as Jews. When I see a post about a fallen soldier in the US, I continue scrolling. I'm so desensitized.

I began to feel tears well up in my eyes as my Israel Studies teacher, Jon, described the soldiers throwing back grenades, pulling families out of windows, and falling victim to the terrorists. He played the music of a fallen soldier; I thought about a friend who makes similar music. He told the story of a man who went back three times to rescue more people during the attack; I tried to imagine what I would do in such a situation. It seems impossible, yet it happened eight months ago.

My visit to Mount Hertzal revealed a new connection to Israel that I didn't expect to feel: Grief. I don't know any IDF soldiers in service right now, but I found myself feeling like I knew the ones laying within the ground in front of me. I felt a connection. I felt Israeli.

Julie Atchick, Executive Director

The BTBJ members and staff that I have met so far have been so warm and welcoming that I already feel like I am part of the “mishpachah”. I’m delighted that I’ve been at BTBJ for a month and have met so many of you! For those of you I haven’t had the pleasure of meeting, I’m looking forward to creating relationships with you, learning about you and your families, and being accessible to you for any questions and concerns. I look forward to spending time praying, meeting and sharing Shabbat, holidays and simchas with you.

So you can get to know me... I grew up in a Conservative home where we kept kosher and had Shabbat and holiday dinners with my grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins, however I did not attend religious school. Imagine that I actually begged my parents to let me go, and I loved growing up at Ner Zedek in Northeast Philadelphia, attending Gratz College for my teaching certificate, and getting my BA and MA in Religion with a minor in Jewish studies. My family, my son Joshua and my daughter-in-law Brittney (just married March 17), and my son Max and my future daughter-in-law Nicole (wedding sometime in Fall 2025) all live nearby and will join me at BTBJ for Shabbat, holidays and events, as their schedules allow. My family also includes cats and dogs, and I probably have pictures on my phone of my kids, but I definitely have many pictures of my pets.

I like to leave my phone at home when I walk my dogs so I can have that quiet time, especially in good weather because I am a fair weather friend. I also have an addiction for the New York Times puzzles, especially Spelling Bee, so please don’t reveal the pangram.

Please come by and say hi.

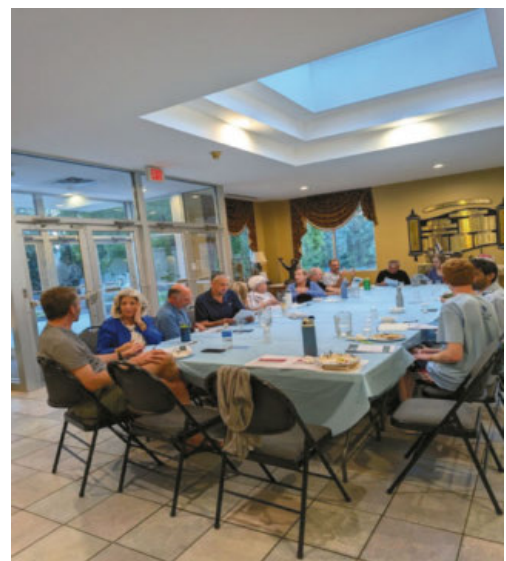

I look forward to meeting you - Julie

Happy summer!

We are busy getting ready for the 2024-2025 school year. It's hard to believe that we are already more than one month into summer and steadily approaching the new year. But, don't worry...we still have lots of summer left!

This school year will have a packed calendar. Here are just a few additions to the calendar which I hope will get you excited for the new year.

Class services are returning but this year we are adding on a family education component. About a week before the class service, the entire class and their families will be invited to a program centered around one piece of Shabbat. This family program will build upon itself every year, helping families more deeply engage with the rituals of Shabbat while discussing the value of celebrating Shabbat as a family.

Similar to our family education component are our parent events! We will be hosting one parent event a semester centered around the topic of "the Reality of Raising Jewish Kids Today." These events will be an opportunity to learn together as parents while also discussing how to fully support our kids as they learn more about Judaism, prepare for their b-mitzvahs, and begin to develop into their own personhood with their own unique Jewish soul. There will also be an ongoing conversation (likely through WhatsApp) discussing the wins and challenges of being a parent today. We hope to continue building a place where all can come and celebrate while also receiving support during all of life's moments.

We are also working on bringing back all the favorite programming from previous years: High Holiday programming, the Hanukkah Huzzah, Purim fun, a mock seder, Shabbat Club, a wonderful Artist in Residence and so much more.

And we have an extra special addition to this year- "Try-It-Out". From September 8th- 17th families who are interested in joining our community can try out the classes during this time with no commitment to join. Come September 17th, they can continue by joining as members or decide it's not for them.

And finally, you should have received an email recently saying that enrollment is now open! When you are able please go to your ShulCloud account and enroll your students in both the Religious School and/or Keshet Teens so that we can start planning for class sizes and needs. If you have any questions or issues with enrolling please reach out to myself or Robin.

If you'd like to hear more about all the exciting things we have planned for this year or know of folks who would be interested in checking out our school/community, please put them in touch with me and I'd be happy to share all we have to offer! Have a good remainder of your summer and I'm looking forward to catching up with everyone when we return in September. And in the interim, hope to see you at some upcoming Summer Schmoozes!

Rachel Fox, Sisterhood President

Hi Sisterhood, I hope you are enjoying your summer! As we move into August, I'm excited to attend some of the upcoming schmoozes, spend time with our BTBJ community and hear all about your exciting summer plans.

As President, my goal for this upcoming year is to plan engaging events with the hopes of building long lasting friendships, as well as helping build a stronger Jewish community for all.

Come join us this year by becoming a member of this dynamic group because all that's missing is YOU!!

President

Hello BTBJ – Stay Cool

While trying desperately not to burst into flames with the multiple heat waves this summer, the BTBJ Men's Club has been busy solidifying our events calendar for the next year, and of course preparing for our summer social. Once again, we will gather at the Chestnut Hill Brewing Company to relax & reconnect just after camp ends (but well before school resumes). As we get closer to the social, we will present the ability to subscribe to our programming calendar via your phone or computer. This will enable you to always have an up-to-date list of our events instead of digging through various communications.

Our past president, Warren Chiara, and I recently met with the local chapter of the Federation of Jewish Men's Clubs. We are excited to be a part of this group, which offers many great programs, Leadership Development Institute, World Wide Wrap, yellow Shoah candles, Israel affairs, and webinars on varying topics. Over the next year, we will be introducing some new programs thanks to this collaboration.

If you have any questions about the Men's Club, please contact me anytime at peter@ghosh.us or you can also use our new email address: MensClub@btbj.org.

Shalom,

Peter Ghosh, Men's Club President

Annette Swartz, Membership Vice President

Welcome to a new year of spirituality, education, culture, customs and community at BTBJ. I am excited to take on the role of Membership Vice President after bringing you lots of Fundraising events over the last seven years.

Why BTBJ? Rejoining our community offers a multitude of benefits, from fostering a sense of belonging and connection to providing spiritual guidance and support. Our congregation is a place where you can form lasting friendships, celebrate traditions, and contribute to meaningful causes. BTBJ provides a welcoming and inclusive space for all.

Please share with your friends, neighbors and family members that we are offering a ONE year special for anyone who has left the congregation over the last ten years and has NOT rejoined, a 50% discount offer toward their appropriate membership category. Everyone is still responsible for security fees. Many of our families are in different places in their lives now and may be ready to rejoin. I am hoping to speak to them and greet them at one of our services.

New members also have the benefit of a first-year discount offer. We hope to encourage new families to come and experience all that BTBJ has to offer from our excellent, inspiring clergy, to our ECC, our Religious School, Sisterhood, Men's Club and Educational Programming.

If this is the year you are ready to join and are experiencing any financial hardships, please reach out. We are here to welcome you into our synagogue and are more than willing to work with you.

I would also love you to reach out if you are interested in joining my committee to inspire and welcome members into our close-knit community.

We are very excited to start new programming for several cohorts within our community. We would like to create a group for our younger, adult members, both single and married, with or without children. This could/would include events at BTBJ, at local venues or at members' homes. Your ideas for this group and your willingness to help coordinate would be very much appreciated. Also, suggestions of names of congregants and members' adult children would be a great place to start. We would love to begin planning right after the High Holidays.

Another group we would love to start is for our active seniors. We would love to hear about events you may be interested in attending, timing of these events and locations. Any ideas that you may have would help me plan activities that would be of interest to you.

We also want to start an interfaith group where special social activities and educational programming could take place. Our congregation has tried this in the past, but now that both members of a family unit are considered members of our congregation, we thought it might be successful.

BTBJ welcomes members and their guests from all walks of life. We want to make BTBJ a place where you can come to feel connected to other members who share your views and values.

We are also looking to start a weekly/bi-weekly or monthly game day where games such as poker, canasta, Mah Jongg, Scrabble, or any others can be played at BTBJ. You could bring your own group or get matched up with other members who are interested in getting involved in a game. There would be a nominal fee to participate and snacks would be served.

Please email me, Annette Swartz, goodteach@aol.com with your ideas and willingness to participate.

Emily Grace Shapiro
Daughter of
Courtney and Seth
Shapiro
Sister of Ryan
Becomes a
Bat Mitzvah on
September 7, 2024

Emily is a rising 8th grader at Springside Chestnut Hill Academy where she has thrived since becoming a Blue Devil back in Pre-Kindergarten. Emily is loyal, artistic, creative, and funny. She entertains her family, friends and most of the adults in her life with her dry wit that defies her 13 years of life experience.

She loves spending time with her friends and family, and making art. Her happy places are at home in Chestnut Hill - at SCH, in the Morris Arboretum, on the Ave, or in the Wissahickon; and in the summers on the beaches and nature and animal preserves of South Carolina.

Emily was welcomed into the BTBJ community in 5th grade and is so lucky to be a part of this Jewish community. Thank you to Cantor Benjamin, Rabbi Roni, Rabbi Kami and all of the BTBJ religious school teachers for supporting her in her exploration of her Jewish identity and her preparation for this wonderful day. We are so proud of her hard work preparing to become a Bat Mitzvah and beginning her journey as a Jewish adult!

Rose Jessica Greenfield
Daughter of
Allison and Aaron
Greenfield
Sister of Alexandra
Becomes a
Bat Mitzvah on
September 21, 2024

Rose is a rising 7th grade student at Woodlynde School, where she is described as a kind, compassionate, observant student who is always looking out for others. Prior to joining the Woodlynde family in 2023, Rose attended Colonial Elementary School and Ridge Park Elementary. Her roots, and so many of our family's special memories, took place within the four walls of BTBJ.

Rose started her BTBJ journey at the age of three months, learning and loving everything and everyone she encountered in her six years as a member of the ECC. For years, she was known as "the greeter". She had a special relationship with all of the teachers who guided and taught her during her preschool years, in addition to the clergy, office staff, and Lester and George. She moved immediately into the religious school upon her graduation from preschool, where she developed an interest in the customs and traditions of Judaism.

Rose's greatest joy in life is spending time with our family - celebrating special occasions and ordinary moments alike. Rose is the eldest of six grandchildren between the Swartz and Greenfield families. She is a devoted big sister to Alexandra (Alex). She loves taking care of her younger cousins Xander and Olivia (especially at the beach!) and playing and hanging out with her cousins Pierce and Jayda, who are more like siblings to her. Roblox is one of her favorite games to play with them.

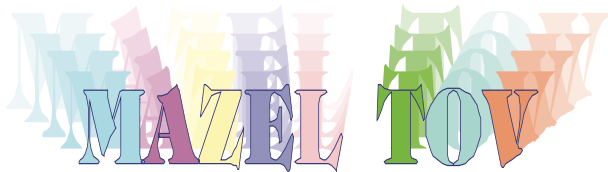

Rose loves playing with her dogs Moose and Bear as well as all of the (many!) family dogs. She enjoys spending time at the beach in Margate with our family. Rose participates in horseback riding and enjoys cooking and baking. She is a huge Philadelphia sports fan - especially the Phillies (and very vocal when we go to games!). She loves all sweets - especially Rita's

*Mazel
Tov*

Water Ice and Insomnia Cookies. She is also a huge Taylor Swift fan - with the Eras Tour soundtrack and TTPD on repeat in our home!

For her Bat Mitzvah project, Rose is planning a walk/run to help increase awareness of, and support for, the autistic community.

We would like to thank all of the teachers who have been part of TEAM ROSE over the last 12 years. She has worked so hard over the past year preparing for her Bat Mitzvah and has 'knocked it out of the park' thanks to the support of Rabbi Roni, Cantor Benjamin, Carolyn Savitsky as well as countless tutoring sessions (at all hours!) with Andrew Walters.
