God's family is not a country club — you don't need the right pedigree or the proper connections to join. Christ claims everyone who does the will of God. Let us call upon the Holy Spirit to fill our hearts, that we may live in kinship with Christ.

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK - REFLECT AND RESPOND TO SCRIPTURE

First Reading:

We hear how Adam and Eve disobeyed God and listened to the serpent, who tricked them into eating the forbidden fruit.

How can you more intentionally listen to God's voice this week?

Second Reading:

Paul urges the Corinthians to be confident that despite our current afflictions and discouragements, God has given us an abundance of grace and has prepared for us eternal glory.

Who might need to hear this message of hope from you?

Gospel:

As He began His public ministry in Galilee, Jesus redefined "family" as whoever does the will of God.

What would you say is "the will of God?"

The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear?

With the Lord
there is mercy,
and fullness
of redemption.
Psalm 130

Father Caparas' Quotable Quotes

"You are immortal, and you choose by your actions where you will spend eternity."

What's Wrong with Palm or Psychic Readings, Fortune Telling, Tarot Cards, or Using Mediums?

Scriptures in both the Old Testament and the New Testament teach clearly that we as individuals must always trust in God's Divine Providence, and not in other entities or forces. God warns us in his Ten Commandments: "I am the Lord your God. You shall have not other gods before me." And when Our Lord was asked what was the greatest commandment, repeating the precept found in Deuteronomy, said, "You shall love the Lord your God with your whole heart, with your whole soul, and with all of your strength" (Matthew 22:37).

While God can choose to reveal the future to His prophets or saints, we as individuals must always have trust in His divine providence. St. Paul reminds us, "We know that God makes all things work together for the good of those who love Him, who have been called according to His decree" (Romans 8:28). While we may have that passing curiosity of what will happen in the future, we anchor our lives in the Lord, trusting in His love and care.

To try to discover the future through palm reading, tarot cards, or some other form of fortunetelling, or to try to control the future through black magic, witchcraft, or sorcery violates the first commandment. Sacred Scripture has many condemnations of these activities: In the Old Testament we find, "You shall not let a sorceress live" (Exodus 22:17) or "Whoever sacrifices to any god, except to the Lord alone, shall be doomed" (Exodus 22:19).

This is also true when it comes to other forms of divination like attempting to contact the dead through psychic readings (necromancy) or Ouija boards. By engaging in these activities, we open ourselves up to the influence of the demonic and dangerous supernatural forces that are greatly offensive to the Lord. Leviticus 20:27 reminds us: "A man or a woman who acts as a medium or fortuneteller shall be put to death by stoning: they have no one but themselves to blame for their death", and "Let there not be found among you anyone who immolates his son or daughter in the fire, nor a fortuneteller, soothsayer, charmer, diviner, or caster of spells, nor one who consults ghosts and spirits or seeks oracles from the dead. Anyone who does such things is an abomination to the Lord..." (Deuteronomy 18:10-12).

The New Testament also addresses this issue: St. Paul condemned sorcery (Galatians 5:19). In Acts of the Apostles, St. Paul rebuked Elymas, the magician, calling him "son of Satan and enemy of all that is right" (Acts 13:8ff), and St. Peter rebuked Simon Magus, a magician, who wanted to buy the powers of the Holy Spirit to make himself more powerful (Acts 8:9ff). In the Book of Revelation, Jesus declared, "As for the cowards and traitors to the faith, the depraved and murderers, the fornicators and sorcerers, the idol-worshippers and deceivers of every sort— their lot is the fiery pool of burning sulphur— the second death" (Revelation 21:8).

Particular concern must be given to witchcraft, clairvoyance or the use mediums, which involves both unraveling the future, trying to control the future, or communicating with the dead. Granted, some television shows or movies, may have light-heartedly or harmlessly built stories around witches, witchcraft, and sorcerers; or we might be led to believe that because a medium can reveal certain things that only you or a deceased loved one should know, that it's legitimate.

Nevertheless, witchcraft and necromancy involves producing certain effects or results which are beyond one's natural powers through the assistance of powers (the occult) other than those of God. Unlike the Christian practice of seeking the intercession of the saints, when we pray to the saints we are doing so through God and with God. He knows that our minds and intentions are truly directed and in conformity to His Divine Will -- just like David when he prayed to the angels (Psalm 103:20-21). After all, those in heaven are "like the angels," and are more alive than we are, since the Lord is "not God of the dead, but of the living" (Luke 20:36-38).

The practice of necromancy and witchcraft are not directed to God nor are they attributed to God. Commonly, witchcraft involves a pact with the devil or at least some imploring of evil spirits for assistance. The annals of witchcraft and necromancy include rites to awaken the dead, arouse passion in a person, and bring disaster or even death upon an enemy.

Satanism in particular, gives homage to the Prince of Darkness, and even celebrates a "Black Mass," which parodies our Mass but commits sacrilegious and blasphemous actions. Even if one talks of "white magic" or "white witchcraft," the practitioner is invoking powers not of God in ways outside those of prescribed religion.

Reflect on His Words

“But whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will never have forgiveness, but is guilty of an everlasting sin.”

Adhering to the revelation of Sacred Scripture, the Church has over the centuries formally condemned witches and witchcraft, and has judged fortunetelling, tarot card reading, the use of mediums and the like as sinful. The Didache (The Teaching of the Twelve Apostles, c. 80) warned, “You shall not practice magic.” The Council of Ancyra (314) imposed a five-year penance on anyone who consulted a magician or a medium.

The Catechism of the Catholic Church in discussing the first commandment repeats the condemnation of divination: “All forms of divination are to be rejected: recourse to Satan or demons, conjuring up the dead or other practices falsely supposed to ‘unveil’ the future. Consulting horoscopes, astrology, palm reading, interpretation of omens and lots, the phenomena of clairvoyance, and recourse to mediums all conceal a desire for power over time, history, and, in the last analysis, other human beings, as well as a wish to conciliate hidden powers. They contradict the honor, respect, and loving fear that we owe to God alone” (#2116).

Any practice which utilizes occult powers—whether to inflict harm or to manifest some good—are condemned as contrary to true religion. These practices are generally considered mortal sins. Any invocation of the devil would clearly be considered mortal sin. Even the simplest practices such as horoscopes or astrology for fun, can lead to being careless and ignorant of the seductive power of the Evil One. The story of the exorcism of the little boy which served as the basis for the book The Exorcist began with his use of an Ouija board.

We believe, as St. John wrote, “God is love” (1 John 4:16). God so loved the world that He gave His only Son that whoever believes in Him may not die but may have eternal life” (John 3:16). Jesus is the light of the world, shining through the darkness (John 1:4-5). He is the way, the truth, and the life (John 14:6). To invoke Satan or any other power, to enter the darkness (the occult) for any assistance, or to attempt to usurp powers which belong to God alone is a defiance of the authority of Almighty God. To commit such acts is to turn away from God and place our own souls in jeopardy.

THE UNFORGIVABLE SIN: What is to ‘blaspheme against the Holy Spirit’?

From the Catechism: “Therefore I tell you, every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven men, but the blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven.” There are no limits to the mercy of God, but anyone who deliberately refuses to accept His mercy by repenting, rejects the forgiveness of his sins and the salvation offered by the Holy Spirit. Such hardness of heart can lead to final impenitence and eternal loss (CCC 1864). Blasphemy against the Holy Spirit is to refuse God’s mercy. It is a refusal to repent of sin. God does not bring anyone into His kingdom against his/her will. Humans have the ability to reject God’s mercy and refuse forgiveness of sins which leads to eternal separation from God.

Those not well enough to attend Mass in person can watch the Sunday Mass livestreamed on Facebook at 5PM on Saturday or after 6PM at Mary-MoM.com.

ACT OF SPIRITUAL COMMUNION:

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament. I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.

An Act of “Spiritual Communion,” where we unite ourselves to God through prayer, is a beautiful way to express to God our desire to be united with Him when we are unable to complete that union in the reception of Holy Communion.
