Health & Wellness Corner

Tip of the Week

June is LIVER HEALTH Matters Month

The liver is located on your right side, midway between your waist and armpit. It's the largest organ in your body and serves many important functions- filtering out toxins, metabolizing food to help with digestion and storing vitamins. Liver disease can be caused by viruses, genetics, autoimmune disease, excessive alcohol, poor diet, obesity or reactions to medications or chemicals

Early detection is key because your liver can regenerate and repair itself with a well-managed treatment plan.

The four pillars of liver health are Healthy Diet, Exercise, Relaxation, and Sleep.
