4 July 2021

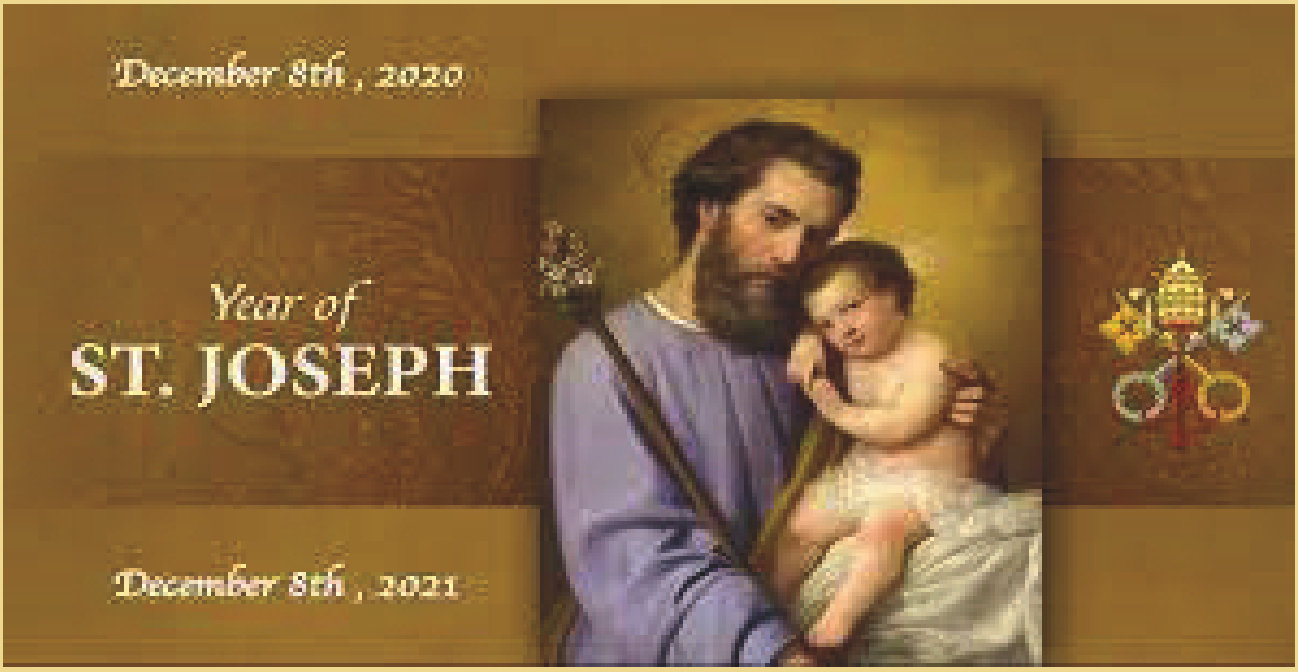
Dear Parishioners,

With all Americans, we celebrate our independence today, this Fourth of July. Amid the fireworks and festivities, the parades, picnics, and barbeques, we should pause to reflect on the wonderful experiment that began with the Second Continental Congress in the Pennsylvania State House (we know it today as Independence Hall) in Philadelphia in 1776 that has given not just our nation, but the world at large the great affirmation of human rights and individual dignity that is enshrined in the document signed 245 years ago. The words are familiar: When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation. Note the acknowledgement in that first sentence of the Declaration: "The Laws of Nature and of Nature's God." The same is reaffirmed in the document's most familiar words: We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. "Endowed by their Creator," the Founding Fathers asserted – not "Granted by the government" or "Approved by popular consensus." Those endowed rights are found in what we Catholics recognize as Natural Law. They are inherent in the very fabric of human nature as ordained by God. Human nature and the consequent natural rights are "unalienable" – they cannot be ignored, and certainly cannot be taken away.

There is a subtle nuance in those familiar words: Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness. The delegates to the Second Congressional Congress were educated, intelligent individuals, particularly Thomas Jefferson, the principal author of the document. Note his exact words: Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness (emphasis mine.) While there can be no compromise on the right to life and the right to liberty, there is no inherent right to happiness. We have a right to the pursuit of happiness, a right which government must not impede and as much as is within the limits of its power, should foster. The government has no obligation to guarantee its citizens happiness – just the opportunity to work for it. This is an important distinction for an age with a growing sense of entitlement among some, of the notion that government must guarantee individual happiness, that each of us has a right to it, and that if we are not happy, we are being deprived of our just due. That is simply not the case – although a sad indication of the narcissism of the present time. Happiness, I would propose, is not an inherent right proclaimed in our Declaration of Independence; opportunity, through hard work, is.

That said, there is no doubt about the right to life and liberty. Those rights cannot be ignored or compromised. However, what the Founding Fathers did in fact consciously ignore, where they did compromise, what they left unaddressed in that document, clearly was the issue of slavery. Slavery occasioned the greatest and most bitter debate of any issue facing the Declaration's drafters. The apparent contradiction between the assertion that all men are created equal and endowed with the right of freedom while black slaves were held in servitude in the colonies was certainly noted when the document was published. That omission did not fatally flaw the Declaration, but it left a festering wound that would not be long ignored, a wound that would eventually erupt in the tragic War Between the States, the Civil War that would pit American against American, brother against brother, in horrific bloodshed. The inherent rights of every man and woman cannot be dismissed or even diminished. They will come back, because they are written in our human nature. The right to life, for all men and women, at all stages, from conception to natural death; the right to essential freedoms, which include freedom of religion – not just "worship", but the exercise of religion and its accompanying responsibilities, of conscience, free from coercion; and the right to pursue opportunity and to work for happiness, these are not just sectarian beliefs; they are fundamental moral principles – fundamental not only to our American identity, but to all men and women of every time and place.

Msgr. Swiader



December 8, 2020 inaugurated the Year of Saint Joseph, below is the prayer promulgated by Pope Francis

Prayer for the Year of Saint Joseph

Hail, Guardian of the Redeemer,
Spouse of the Blessed Virgin Mary.
To you God entrusted his only Son;
in you Mary placed her trust;
with you Christ became man.

Blessed Joseph, to us too,
show yourself a father
and guide us in the path of life.
Obtain for us grace, mercy, and courage,
and defend us from every evil. Amen.

STEWARDSHIP ~ A Way of Life

"As the Lord spoke to me, the spirit entered me and set me on my feet, and I heard the one who was speaking say to me, 'Son of man, I am sending you…'" (Ezekiel 2:2-3)

God asks each of us to do some special work for Him. As His Stewards he gives us the resources we need to do His work. However, do we listen to God when He calls? Do we get up on our feet and use our talent to do the work He asks of us? Remember, God doesn't call the equipped, he equips the called.

When we need physical rest, we sleep or take a nap. When we need emotional rest, we sometimes take a vacation. But how do we find spiritual rest? How do we discover Christ's peace as we grapple with the complex issues of life deep in our hearts? Good stewards find their rest in the Lord. Reflect this week on what you do to welcome the peace of Christ into your heart.

When we think of being good Stewards, we may think that God is asking too much of us when He calls us to generously share our time, talent and treasure. However, we must remember that we are not "owners" of anything, we are merely "stewards" of the gifts God has given us. Stewardship is about sharing one's gifts and blessings with the Church, and much more. All He is asking is that we give back a small portion of what He has already given to us.

In what ways does Christ's love touch others through your life of stewardship? We may say "stewardship is a way of life," yet the message we share with people in our community may sound more like, "stewardship is about giving money to the Church." The reality is, the path of discipleship, lived through stewardship, leads each of us to grow in holiness. We may struggle to put this call into words, yet we know that living and growing as good stewards is a meaningful way to connect faith with daily life. This is a gift we must give one another.

The more we share this great call to live and grow as stewards in all of the aspects of our lives, the greater the likelihood that people of all ages and stages of life and faith will hear the call and enthusiastically respond to it. Let us pray that we generously live in Stewardship by using our God-given gifts to do the work God has placed us here on earth to do.

Deacon Jack McKenna

NEW PRINCIPAL AT ST. JOSEPHS SCHOOL

I am happy to share with you this good news and to welcome Ms. Marcela Chavez as the new Principal of St. Joseph School.

Ms. Chavez is a life-long native of Queens, a 100% product of Catholic education. She comes to St. Joseph from Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Academy in Brooklyn, where she has served on the faculty for nine years, most recently as Interim Principal for the 2020-21 academic year.

She arrives at St. Joseph at a particularly propitious moment, when we see our school vibrant and growing. I know she appreciates the opportunity as well as the challenges ahead. Ms. Chavez brings with her not only her professional experience, but also her energy and enthusiasm for Catholic education on Long Island and now for St. Joseph's in particular. We look forward to getting to know her in the time ahead.

Welcome, Ms. Marcela Chavez!

FOCUS ON RELIGIOUS FREEDOM

www.cffor.org

"Freedom is not a gift bestowed upon us by other men, but a right that belongs to us by the laws of God and nature."
Benjamin Franklin, Founding Father

Spotlighting Religious Freedom on Independence Day - July 4th

The American Founders gathered in Philadelphia in 1776 to draft the Declaration of Independence, which dissolved the political ties that had bound the American people to Great Britain. A new nation was born, free and independent.

Religion played a major role in the American Revolution since freedom, and especially religious freedom, was encouraged by the "black-robed regiment" of preachers during the religious revival of the first Great Awakening and by offering a moral sanction for opposition to the British. These ministers supported the idea that civil and religious liberty was ordained by God.(1)

History tells us that the Pilgrims came to America aboard the Mayflower to escape religious persecution in 1620, followed by the Puritans in 1630 for the same reason. However, while these early settlers wanted religious freedom for themselves to practice their own faith, achieving religious freedom for all was an ideal that would take many years leading up to the Declaration of Independence in 1776.(2)

The 56 Signers of the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776, were men of remarkable courage since they knew they were committing treason against the British Crowne and that, if caught, they risked torture and death. Ultimately, 5 were captured and brutally tortured as traitors, 9 others died from wounds, many had their homes and property pillaged and burned, while others lost their fortunes in helping to fund the Continental Army.

"The day when Americans could take the Founders understanding of Religious Freedom as a given is over."

"It seems there is a real danger to Religious Freedom now and in our country - mostly because people aren't serious about religion or religious freedom." Archbishop Charles Chaput
