Fr. Chris' Catholic Cultural Corner

O COME, O COME, EMMANUEL

This weekend, we celebrate the First Sunday of Advent. In that light, let me be the first to tell you that we live in an incredibly busy world. I hope I did not shock anyone with that news! In that light, we Catholics are called into the joyful, solemn celebration of one of the most beautiful seasons of our Church year. This season is a true gift to the faithful of heart. It invites us to attune our spiritual lives to the bright promise of Christ's Incarnation at Christmas. In this invitation, Christ calls us to a deeper reflection and thoughtfulness regarding our faith and life with God. Last week, I heard an advertisement on the radio for a local mall pushing its Black Friday sales. It said to come on down for Christmas carols and a visit from Santa himself! This appeared BEFORE Thanksgiving. Forget celebrating Thanksgiving properly, let alone Advent! The message was to busily barrel ahead to Christmas. This is antithetical to the teaching of our Church which implores us to slow down, pray, reflect, and truly prepare our hearts for the glorious events of the birth of Christ. So, how do we celebrate the season without treating Advent as simply a "way-station" on the way to Christmas? Advent is a time to deepen our faith. It is not so much a penitential season as Lent is, but a time of meditation and spiritual prayer and reflection. We should spend these beautiful days asking God to be with us. The very name, Emmanuel means "God With Us". Yes, the busyness of Christmas encroaches upon us, but Advent can help us with this as well as we truly prepare for the TRUE spirit of Christmas, the birth of Christ into our world and lives. There is also another aspect of Advent: preparation for the end time.

Paul Tillich, 20th century theologian, captured it well, "Our time is a time of waiting; waiting is its special destiny. And every time is a time of waiting, waiting for the breaking in of eternity. All time runs forward. All time, both history and in personal life is expectation. Time itself is waiting, waiting not for another time, but for that which is eternal." As we pray and sing this Advent, keep on eye focused on the time to come, when Christ will return in glory. Let our prayer join with that of St. Charles Borromeo, "This is the season that the church has always celebrated with special solemnity. We too should always observe it with faith and love, offering praise and thanksgiving to the Father for the mercy and love he has shown us in his mystery." God bless us all in this Advent season!

To you, O Lord, I lift my soul. (Ps 25)

First Sunday of Advent

Today's world has a lot of advantages over that of years ago. Take waiting, for example. Before huge cineplexes in every neighborhood we used to actually have to buy tickets in advance, or wait in long lines for seats to movie openings. Remember Star Wars, anyone? Or, in more recent memory, the long wait for the next Harry Potter book?

On the other hand, it's good to muster the discipline for some kind of delayed gratification in life. Painful as it was, waiting for the bus, or for a favorite tv show to return after the long summer break, formed a certain character in us. I call on that character all the time, when I'm waiting for a medication to work, maybe, or waiting for test results from the doctor.

I'll bet you have daily challenges to that essential character trait too. Are you waiting for those painful pounds to come off—they will, I promise—or for news from a loved one who is deployed, or hospitalized, or just missing from your life? That kind of waiting is just agonizing.

Or maybe your long wait is to overcome a resentment that's had you in its grasp for decades. More likely, your wait is for healing for a child who is in the grip of depression, or an addiction, or has problems at school. That's the most agonizing wait of all.

I have an idea. How about if, this Advent, every reader of this column around the country prayed for someone who is reading these words right now? Talk about waiting. We won't know until we see Jesus who we were praying for, and who was praying for us. Ready? I can't wait.

How would you like your unknown prayer partner to pray for you?
