THE BAPTISM OF THE LORD (AND OUR BAPTISMS)

Today we celebrate the Feast of the Baptism of the Lord. This Feast "concludes" the revelatory phases of Jesus' earthly life. He is proclaimed by the angel Gabriel in the Annunciation, made incarnate by his Nativity, manifested to the world in the Feast of the Epiphany, and now enters into his earthly ministry with his Baptism by John the Baptist in the Jordan. He steps onto the "stage" at this time and begins his ministry of preaching an teaching, and drawing people closer to God.

At this celebration as well, we look back to our own baptisms. Most of us do not recollect the event itself, but we are definitely beneficiaries of the fruits of the Sacrament of Baptism. The fruits are three-fold. First, baptism removes Original Sin from our souls. This is a lack of sanctifying grace, a gift lost by the fall of Adam and Eve. Washing away this original sin allows us to live lives of grace in God. Baptism is also the gateway to the sacramental life. It disposes us to the reception of the grace inherent in all the sacraments. Lastly, baptism makes us members, members of the Church, members of God's flock. We have identity, we are claimed as co-heirs with the Son by the Father.

Our lives are lived in constant reminder of our baptisms. It makes us who we are and who we are meant to be. God created us out of love, and invites us to share with him eternal life. Baptism is not simply a "rite of passage", like joining a club or organization. It is an acknowledgement of the truth of our lives in God. Christ has shown us the way and shares his own humanity with us in a very special way. Of course, Jesus did not "need" the Sacrament of Baptism. But, in the very act of asking John to baptize him, he shows his union with us, and further calls us to live with him in God.

In preparing ourselves for baptism, we call upon the parents and godparents of these precious children. As in all sacraments, a preparatory process is required for parents and godparents. This is usually accomplished through attendance at Baptism classes. These are regularly offered at Spirit of Christ. In selecting godparents, the call of the church is to choose a "good witness", to the faith, someone who practices the faith, and is properly married in the faith. This may move outside family and close friends. The godparents represent the church, welcoming the newborn into the flock of Christ. We would ask that prayerful consideration and spiritual discernment be employed in the selection of godparents. Just a few logistical reminders: 1) there may not be two godparents of the same sex, 2) only one godparent is required, and 3) one godparent must be Catholics. If a non-Catholic is chosen, they serve as a Christian witness to the baptism, and are recorded in the sacramental record as such.

Baptism is a joyful time for families, including the family of the church. The church rejoices in its new members, and makes a commitment to pray for and care for them. When baptized, we know we belong. God claims us as his own, and baptism celebrates that reality in the lives of the faithful.

Funeral Pre-Planning Workshop

Father Chris, Deacon A.J. and Music Director Ron Marinelli invite you to a Funeral Pre-Planning Workshop Thursday January 13 in Spirit Center East at 6:00 pm. The workshop agenda includes an overview of Catholic funeral liturgies and the theology behind them, an overview of Catholic funeral music, and participants getting started on their own funeral plans. This is a great opportunity to help our loved ones by organizing one big part of the responsibilities that they will have when we pass on to eternal life with our Father.

The Baptism of the Lord

He says many fiery things in the gospels, this cousin of Jesus. He rants about broods of vipers trying to escape the coming wrath. He rails against adulterous Herods and their adulterous wives. But the sentence I most associate with him—other than his embryonic announcement of the Messiah from his mother's womb—is what he says about Jesus: I am not worthy to loosen the thongs of his sandals. It touches me deeply that, at the height of his renown in the desert, he was willing to step out of the frame so that Jesus could come into perfect focus.

Oh, to see Thee more clearly, Jesus. I long for it. The entire Catholic Culture presses me to see You in Your most distressing disguise, those who are poor in all kinds of ways. I try not to know about them, but, of course, that will be a ridiculous defense when I meet You. I will never be able to say I didn't know.

Maybe I try not to know because I so deeply recognize that I'm not worthy to loosen the sandals of those whose lives are so challenging. I couldn't do for one day what aging grandparents are doing in order to keep their imperiled grandchildren safe and sheltered. I know I couldn't do for more than a few hours what those caring for spouses and parents with dementia do, endless day after endless day.

I am aware of the giants around me. But this year I resolve to look for Jesus in the daily courage of the unseen, people's whose challenges I could never, never meet. Step into the frame, Jesus. I long to see You.

Who are the people whose sandals you are unworthy to loosen?
