

I AM THE BREAD OF LIFE

AUGUST 1, 2021 18TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Sacred Heart Church Holy Rosary Chapel Our Lady of Perpetual Help

Dear Believers in the Christ,

In today's gospel, John 6:24-35, Jesus invites us to center our hearts on food that does not perish. His presence as food and drink, reveals to us the mercy of heaven. The Eucharist we all receive changes our lives, our mission as Church, and opens new doors to welcome those God needs the most. God befriends the lost, the weary and the sinner and he truly desires to heal all of us. His food, the Eucharist, reveals the sign of God's Kingdom here on earth.

Sometimes in our society, we settle for the bottom line. What time do we need to show up? How much does this cost? When does this event end? What can I gain if I meet a stranger? When will I get my share? Tell me what to do so I can get the most benefit with the least amount of input. Tell me why I should care... about anything?

We can easily translate this sense of bottom line in our spiritual lives, especially when it comes to the Eucharist. Does it count if I get to church after the gospel? Can I get the host if I come in at the last minute? If I get the host, then I can go heaven, right? And all I need is to get the host just once a year, right? Do I have to go to confession first so I can earn my place in heaven?

We often want to limit and reduce the God of All Creation, the God of Wonder and Justice, the God of Heaven and Earth, to our timetable on Sunday so we can make a tee time or go to brunch. The Eucharist requires of us to be in relationship with God. Like any relationship, it requires time, intimacy, give and take, showing up and vulnerability. We so often don't get the results we need in prayer, so we make God an insurance policy at the end of our lives so we know we can go to heaven. Well, if we didn't want to spend time with God on earth, what makes us think we will enjoy heaven for all eternity? So, we learn to open our hearts, our minds, our souls, here on earth.

The Eucharist is not just meant for personal piety. The Eucharist is meant to transform the world. The grace of our Eternal Father is revealed in the Real Presence of Christ Jesus. We capture a glimpse of the Kingdom in the Eucharist for all humanity. We are now the Body of Christ here on earth because of our baptism. If our hearts are open, we see our lives in the glory of God's love, mercy, and kindness. Receiving the Real Presence of Jesus Christ is not our reward for keeping the rules and regulations of our Church. The Eucharist is for us, who really need God, for those who have been abandoned by life, lost among the fry of injustice, hatred, violence, and sin. In fact, the most broken people among us know that they need God, and we can all learn what that means when we enter the mystery of our humanity.

The Father reveals the Kingdom in the Breaking of the Bread. God's food is meant to feed our humanity. We learn how to become more human when we share the Eucharist. We learn that God's grace is not meant to make us more pious or otherworldly, but we are to learn how to live on this earth in a new reliance on God. In other words, we become people who work for the dignity of all human life, to relieve the suffering of the oppressed, to give food to those starving, to protect our children from violence, abuse, and neglect. The Eucharist is given to us so we can imitate heaven here on earth. The Eucharist reveals our deepest humanity. The Eucharist is a foreshadowing of heaven. If we have a taste of love here on earth, we may recognize God then in all eternity. If we do not know love now, I often wonder how we will know love when we see God face to face.

It is learning to be human that is the key to spiritually. We are not to live as angels here on the earth, this is always impossible. We are created by God to learn what this creation means. We are to enter our deepest longings and desires as human beings. There God meets us, he feeds us and calls us into changing the world. We are to open our hearts, minds, and experiences to what it means to walk on this earth as children of God desiring a better world for the future of all life and all good. Therefore, we always pray for those most in need at Mass, to lift the needs of people so they can capture a glimpse that we believe what we proclaim, that God is here in our midst. The Real Presence is not just on the altar, but in every human life and heart.

Jesus said to them, "I am the bread of life; whoever comes to me will never hunger, and whoever believes in me will never thirst."

God give you peace,
Fr. Ron Raab, CSC, Pastor

Reflection

"Would that we had died at the LORD's hand in the land of Egypt, as we sat by our fleshpots and ate our fill of bread!" (Ex.16:3)

The Israelites were complaining again! They had been slaves in Egypt, but God saved them from their chains through their leader, Moses. Then, now a free people, they faced hunger in the desert. So they cried out and wished they had died as well-fed slaves instead of as hungry free people. So God gave them manna. Later, they wanted to worship the God who had saved them, but decided to worship a calf made of gold instead. Exactly what would ever make the people of Israel happy?

This seems to be the human response to God. We are never happy, and we always want more. St. Augustine taught us that "our hearts are restless until they rest in God." We are always yearning for more, never content during this single lifetime that we have. Nothing will make us perfectly happy, it seems.

That becomes for us, ironically, the best way to discover God! We eventually come to understand that there is something missing in our lives, something that we cannot obtain by our effort, something outside of ourselves that can ever make us whole.

And that something is God.

We can spend our entire lives chasing happiness and fulfillment, but we will never actually find it. That is, until we recognize that what we seek is what we can never completely have in this life: to be in the presence of divine love, and to see the face of God. That was reserved for Moses alone on the holy mountain, and for us only when we reach that holy mountain in the next world.

In the meantime, perhaps it's best that we try not to grumble and complain so much, like the Israelite children in the desert. Our restlessness, after all, is what makes us yearn for God.

—Fr. Randy Rentner, CSC, Associate Pastor

Steve died Monday morning, July 12, 2021, in his home after a few years of health challenges.

The last time I visited with Steve he was ambulatory, coherent, thoughtful and, as usual, full of wisdom for me, always in need of more wisdom. Plenty has been and will be said and written about Steve in the coming weeks revealing his great compassion and organizing to serve those neglected and on the margins of our community. (See articles in the Independent, July 14, 2021, by Pam Zubeck and The Gazette July 16, 2021, page A3-A4 by Debbie Kelley).

My first interaction with Steve in 1994 was shortly after I had become the operations manager of the, then Catholic Community Services' Marian House Soup Kitchen. Steve had started the soup kitchen from the back door of a rectory in the 60s and it grew into what is now the Marian House Kitchen serving hundreds of people seven days a week.

Although I had been a volunteer at the soup kitchen, I had little direct experience with the many guests that depended on the soup kitchen for a daily meal. Being responsible for a daily meal every day and managing a host of volunteers from various parishes, congregations and community organizations was a challenging opportunity and one that helped form my notion of ministry— Service in Love.

I remember riding around town with Steve in his old Jeep seeing the areas where the folks that we would serve lived. We would stop on a high point, and he would quiz me on various subjects – I must have appeared a bit self-assured, having just served thirty years in the Air Force. Yet he patiently guided me into a more awareness of the gift of ministry. Let the Gospel of Jesus guide you, he suggested. Further, always remember that the folks you serve are human beings and deserving of DIGNITY as human beings regardless of their situation.

Those early years at the Soup Kitchen and a relationship with Steve led to other ministry opportunities. Steve reckoned that I had grown enough to serve in more challenging areas: supervising at the Bijou House, temporary housing for single adults; and mentoring prison-release men through a program called, Circles of Support and Accountability, among others.

To me, Steve was a man who had great faith in people— people who needed serving and people who would serve. He lived the Gospel— He was the GOSPEL in ACTION.

Some people leave just memories, and some people leave a legacy. Steve left an enduring legacy for the Colorado Springs Community.

—Bill Johnson, Sacred Heart Parishioner & Food Pantry Coordinator

Why is Steve's passing so important?

We memorialized a spiritual giant on July 23, Steve Handen. A former priest. An advocate for life among God's poor. With his wife and children, he offered hope to the marginalized for decades in Colorado Springs. Many service organizations in Colorado Springs bare the mark of his influence, his prophetic words, and his organizational skills.

Steve was the grandfather of the social gospel in Colorado Springs. He believed in God. He believed in people. His prophetic, yet humble voice, challenged church and city leaders. His manner exemplified his inner life. Visiting the prisoner, feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, sheltering the homeless, were not just passing remarks of Jesus Christ, but Steve understood that salvation depends on how we live these commands in our society.

I so admire Steve Handen and his faith life of honest service. After the funeral Mass, a leader of a service organization came up to me, offered me a hug, and I wept in her arms. I told her I have felt so diminished by the pandemic in my role as pastor. I felt the grief of Steve's passing, but also the passing of the social gospel in our Church. As I looked at the crowd in our pews, most of the people were older. I entrust the social gospel and the voice of people to God. God's love will reveal how we care for one another. I must believe.

Tears open new doors. Our role is to continue to listen to the gospel and to learn from our prophets in our world. When grief breaks us open, new life will lead us. Goodness in God prevails. Steve's legacy has just begun.

Steve Handen, rest in peace.

—Fr. Ron Raab, CSC
