Sell what you have
and give it to the poor

Served by the Congregation of Holy Cross

Dear Believers in the Christ,

In Mark 10:17-30, a man approaches Jesus to find out if he can inherit eternal life. Jesus articulates the commandments and realizes the man already knows them. The man says that, in fact, he has lived the commandments since his youth. Jesus says to him that there is one thing missing. He must sell his possessions and give to the poor. Then, when he is completely powerless on earth, he will possess his desire to enter the Kingdom.

The liturgical gospel passages have been challenging us to the core. They command that we examine our earthly attachments. Our hearts are set on the love of the Kingdom, and nothing should get in the way of our life in Christ. We all know how challenging these gospels are in our personal lives. We all have responsibilities to others we love. These responsibilities mean we help provide for our children's lives and futures, both financial and physical realities.

To what are our hearts attached?

I don't take this question lightly. In most cases we tend to ignore these commands of Jesus because we all live busy lives with great responsibilities. However, when we quiet our lives and take stock of our personal identities, we realize we are attached to many things that become obstacles to love. We may be attached to our sense of entitlement, resenting even Jesus who challenges us to live with generosity. We may be overly attached to alcohol or food or making sure we always position ourselves to look good in every situation. We may be addicted to belittling other people. We may be attached to what others think of us. We may never fully appreciate our own gifts and talents. We may attach our self-worth to the car we drive and the job we have and what school we attended. We may strive to always be in charge and in control and never let life change us. No matter how we want to ignore these questions of Jesus, when push comes to shove, we need to examine our lives.

If we are honest with ourselves and with God, we come to terms with everything that is false. Pride is never generous. There is no job title that becomes our real identity. Our children's lives are not the identity of the parent's life. Examining the human heart takes time and energy and focus. We are challenged by Christ to give up our status and our control and instead delight in the life God has for us. We are to give what we own to those who most need us. We are to offer others supplies for daily survival.

Jesus tells the man that it is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom. Jesus says to us that all things are possible in God. This is the core of our existence, the possibility of God's presence and love in our midst. The possibility of change, of forgiveness, of mercy, of true love and tenderness, all become God's activity in our human lives when we finally rest in God and recognize the value of our humanity. Jesus invites us to clear away the debris in our hearts, in our attachments to disrespect and false power, and rest in him. God is within us. The Incarnation of Jesus Christ reveals life's value and love. Being human is a pure and joyous gift in God.

Jesus looked at them and said, "For human beings it is impossible, but not for God. All things are possible for God."

God give you peace,
Fr. Ron Raab, CSC, Pastor

October is Respect Life Month

Thank you for all the ways that you Respect Life!

What a wonderful way to respect life by following Jesus' call to feed our hungry brothers and sisters. Thanks to the leadership of our Food Pantry, our volunteers and support of our parishioners, the Sacred Heart Parish Food Pantry has provided food for those most in need. We served:

200 people in June
220 people in July
238 people in August
317 people in September

Please Note: The Colorado Springs Diocese's policy on the Sign of Peace at Mass has not yet been restored due to COVID-19. Until we hear from Bishop Golka, we will not be offering the Sign of Peace at any of the Masses in our three churches. Thank you for your consideration.

Reflection

I'm not overly fond of military imagery for our Catholic faith. Some people talk of "Prayer Warriors" or "Soldiers of Christ." But I'm hesitant to use violent imagery in the context of Our Savior.

I'm from a Navy family, and I currently live in an area with a lot of Air Force and Army personnel and veterans. You'd think I'd have better sense than to come after the US military. But I'm not anti-military. Not at all. I just think we have better language to use that can capture our relationship with God.

We are followers of the God who is Love, Love itself. Yes, Our Savior is also called the King of Kings and Lord of Lords. Doesn't that imply military strength and power? Yet Jesus is not that kind of king. His strength and power are rooted in Mercy and Forgiveness, not conflict. Christ is the Prince of Peace after all.

So don't ask me to be a warrior for Jesus, or a soldier in any battle against evil. Jesus has already won that battle. Sin and death have been conquered, once for all, on the Cross. We struggle daily to stay true to our baptismal promises, but our victory against evil is already assured for those who trust in Jesus and seek forgiveness.

Having said all that, I still like the imagery in our second reading this weekend:

"Indeed the word of God is living and effective, sharper than any two-edged sword, penetrating even between soul and spirit, joints and marrow, and able to discern reflections and thoughts of the heart. No creature is concealed from him, but everything is naked and exposed to the eyes of him to whom we must render an account." (Hebrews 4:12-13)

How utterly exposed we must be, in the presence of God's watchful eye! The ancient world didn't have x-rays, the power to see through sinew and muscle, but the author of Hebrews tells us that we all stand "naked and exposed" before the Lord. God knows us, our virtues and our sins. Nothing is hidden from God, whose Word cuts through us like the sharpest blade.

And what does God see when we are cut open and all exposed? God sees us as children who are loved beyond all understanding. Nothing, not a single sin, goes undetected. And yet God loves us anyway.

Parish Life

Part 4

By: Liz Groothof Croddy

In the beginning, God created our common home.

“The climate is a common good, belonging to all and meant for all. At the global level, it is a complex system linked to many of the essential conditions for human life.”

We're All Part of God's Plan(et) is a national Laudato Si' awareness and engagement campaign for U.S. Catholics to care for creation and participate in the Vatican's Laudato Si' Action Platform.

Season of Creation 2021 Prayer

Creator of All,

We are grateful that from your communion of love you created our planet to be a home for all.

By your Holy Wisdom you made the Earth to bring forth a diversity of living beings that filled the soil, water and air. Each part of creation praises you in their being, and cares for one another from our place in the web of life.

With the Psalmist, we sing your praise that in your house “even the sparrow finds a home, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young.” We remember that you call human beings to keep your garden in ways that honor the dignity of each creature and conserve their place in the abundance of life on Earth.

But we know that our will to power pushes the planet beyond her limits. Our consumption is out of harmony and rhythm with Earth's capacity to heal herself. Habitats are left barren or lost. Species are lost and systems fail. Where reefs and burrows, mountaintops and ocean deeps once teemed with life and relationships, wet and dry deserts lie empty, as if uncreated. Human families are displaced by insecurity and conflict, migrating in search of peace. Animals flee fires, deforestation and famine, wandering in search of a new place to find a home to lay their young and live.

In this Season of Creation, we pray that the breath of your creative Word would move our hearts, as in the waters of our birth and baptism. Give us faith to follow Christ to our just place in the beloved community. Enlighten us with the grace to respond to your covenant and call to care for our common home. In our tilling and keeping, gladden our hearts to know that we participate with your Holy Spirit to renew the face of your Earth, and safeguard a home for all.

In the name of the One who came to proclaim good news to all creation, Jesus Christ.

Amen.

Join us at Sacred Heart as we study the encyclical, become Laudato Si' animators for our parish, and form our Creation Care Team on the following Sundays after 9 am Mass: Oct. 31, Nov. 21, Dec. 19, and into the New Year.

Adapted from godspanet.us and seasonofcreation.org

The Fostering Hope Foundation has partnered for many years with local churches including Sacred Heart by creating teams of volunteers who wrap around foster parents and kids like an extended family as loving aunts, uncles, grandparents, and cousins.

Our volunteer teams help foster parents feel supported in TWO main ways:

- First, Practically, through providing a meal, transportation to appointments, childcare, or tutoring. Simple things like cleaning, minor household repairs, baking a birthday cake for a child, teaching a favorite hobby, or attending a foster child's sporting event to cheer them on.
- Second and even more important is Relationship. This is a Ministry of Presence. The friendship and emotional support team members give to the foster parents provides them strength and encouragement to continue their calling to care for the most vulnerable children of our community.

This ministry time requirement is super flexible allowing you schedule when and how much time you can volunteer. We are looking to continue our partnership with Sacred Heart. There will be a representative from Fostering Hope available after all of the Masses at Sacred Heart this weekend, Oct. 9 & 10, if you would like more information. If you would be interested in joining the volunteer team from the church, please contact laquawna@fosteringhopefoundation.org.
