Padre's Corner

Dearest family,

Merry Christmas! Now in the full swing of the Christmas season, our eyes are drawn to look at the mystery of Our Lord's incarnation through the lens of family. For many of us, "family" can be a hard reality. Between dysfunction, addiction, and much hurt, the Holy Family can seem worlds away from our experiences. Even the strongest of families have their drama and fair share of problems. The Holy Family was no exception, as they weren't free from persecution, problems, and awkward dynamics. But while the Holy Family suffered problems from outside, they had a secret weapon against problems inside the household: selfless love! With God literally at the center, each member of the Holy Family sought the good of the other. Not once did any member seek to hold the other back considering where God was moving him/her. Like flawless relay runners passing a baton they had a common goal of doing God's will. So, they had to dig deep and love each other from a selfless place, not thinking of only their own needs, but primarily of the needs of others. The Holy Family stands as an example for us, as a recipe for success. So, as you gaze at your Nativity Set, you have a decision to make. Is that image an ornament or a challenge? The answer will determine if Christ is born in your household.

In His Incarnate Joy, Fr. Daniel
