REFLECTION ON THE TWENTY-FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME:

Today's readings remind us that God has His own ways which are different from ours: God's logic is different from human logic. What seems to be reasonable and just for us could be different from what God has planned, for His thoughts and Will surpass all human expectations. At first sight the laborer's of the first hour seem to have a genuine grievance because they do not realize that to have a job in the Lord's vineyard is a divine gift. Jesus leaves no doubt that although he calls us to follow different ways and at different hours, all of us will receive the same reward Heaven.

JORNADA DE FE SCHOOL OF MINISTRY invites you to learn about the Bible's origins in divine revelation, apostolic preaching, and lived faith. Learn about the Catholic approach to understanding Scripture. Enrich and deepen your Journey of Faith and grow closer to God. Saturdays from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at St. John the Baptist parish hall.

FAMILY CONNECTION

The workers in this parable sound very much like squabbling children, comparing what they have each been given and making complaints to the parent. Among children there is a tendency to equate love with gifts and material things. This tendency can devolve into a spirit of entitlement, which runs counter to the spirit of gratitude. Any effort we make to overcome this tendency, to keep love from being entwined with gifts and possessions, will enable our children to accept completely the love that God gives freely and generously. Are there tendencies within your family to make comparisons. Are children sometimes heard saying that another child received a greater portion of a favorite food at dinner or dessert? Conclude in prayer, remembering that love cannot and ought not to be measured. Sit quietly together acknowledging God's great love for each person as individuals.

SUNDAY GOSPEL REFLECTION

First Reading: Isaiah 55:6-9 God's ways are far beyond the ways of human beings.

Responsorial Psalm: 145:2-3,9-9,17-18 God is near to those who call upon him.

Second Reading: Philippians 1:20c-24,27a Paul tells the Philippians to live for Christ.

Gospel Reading: Matthew 20:1-16 In the parable of the workers in the vineyard, Jesus teaches about God's generous mercy.

In today's Gospel, Jesus moves from Galilee to teach in Judea where he is sought out by great crowds and tested by the Pharisees on issues such as marriage and divorce. Jesus also encounters a rich young man who is unable to accept Jesus' demand that he leave his possessions to follow him. Jesus' response to the rich young man sounds very much like the conclusion we find in today's Gospel: the first will be last and the last will be first. The parable of the workers in the vineyard appears to be an offense to common sense. Those who work a longer day ought to be paid more than those who work just an hour or two. When viewed in this way, the landowner seems unfair. That is because we are reading into the parable our own preconceived notions of how fairness and equality should be quantified. A close read shows us that the landowner paid on the terms that were negotiated. The landowner, it seems, has acted completely justly. The parable goes beyond that, however, and we come to see that the landowner is not simply just, he is exceptionally just. He is radically just. He has given those who labored in the field for a full day their due pay. But he has also given a full day's wage to those who worked only a single hour. No one is cheated, but a few receive abundantly from the landowner just as we receive from God more than what is merely justifiable or due. The parable reminds us that although God owes us nothing, he offers abundantly and equally. We are occasionally tempted to think that our own actions deserve more reward, more of God's abundant mercy, than the actions of others. God's generosity cannot be quantified or partitioned into different amounts for anyone.
